Help the Postoffice.
100,000th Passenger.
About Haiti.
Why We Interfere.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

TWO things you should do as you mail Christmas cards and Christmas letters and packages.

Mail everything EARLY and help the postoffice, which is your property. Mail as many letters and cards as you can BY AIR MAIL, thus helping the cause of aviation, and showing your approval of the admirable work that the postoffice, under the President's direction does, building up our postoffice air fleet.

THE Stout Air Service line, operating from Detroit, will carry its hundred thousandth passenger today, and that passenger, very appropriately, will be Gov. Green, of Michigan.

Stout Air Services have rendered good service to aviation, and Gov. Green, who will be the one hundred thousandth passenger, is an excellent governor and has rendered good service to his state.

This is a day to congratulate American aviation, the Stout Air Services, Incorporated, AND Gov. Green.

MR. HENRY NEIL writes, "I propose to pay you $30,000 if you will spend four weeks in Haiti and thoroughly investigate conditions there."

It's an excellent offer, as Mr. Weber once said to Mr. Fields, but it is possible to write usefully about Haiti here in the United States, without charging Mr. Neil $30,000.

For instance, two important French newspapers say that the League of Nations should look into the Haiti matter and tell the United States what to do about it. They think we are trying to rob those poor Haitians.

By and by, perhaps, when we get into the World Court, which is only the back door address of the League of Nations, Europe will have a chance to give us instructions.

Meanwhile, we are doing our best to keep Haiti fit for the Haitians, such as they are.

They are not yet civilized fully.

IT IS only 24 years since they murdered their own president in the public square, disemboweling him and cutting his body into four pieces. Some "educated" Haitian had probably read that "drawing and quartering" was the punishment for traitors.

The French locked up Toussaint L'Overture, who was the best man who ever ruled Haiti.

After that Jean Jacques Dessallines, colored, became governor, promptly massacring all the whites and crowning himself emperor. He was assassinated, because he was a little too tyrannical even for Haiti.

Next Henry Christophe established himself as "King Henry the First" and built his big castle and fort, still worth seeing, on top of a high mountain.

HAITI is a member of the League of Nations, if you please.

When the United States went in to help, in 1915, everything in the Black Republic was going to decay. Irrigation projects, started under white rule, were abandoned, the island's production and foreign trade were dwindling, the courts were dwindling, the courts were comically corrupt. Education had stopped, except for work done by French Catholic priests. Poverty and disease made things worse.

If the League of Nations believes that that situation can be met with kind words, let it go over and experiment.

President Hoover doubtless will be glad to give the League every opportunity, if it will take the responsibility and not disturb the Monroe Doctrine.

DO YOU drink? Probably not, but if you ever should, Dr. Gettler, official toxicologist, which means poison expert, of New York City, says you must be thoroughly oxidized, which means that you must get into your system much oxygen.

With little oxygen, a little alcohol intoxicates you. With a great deal of oxygen you can stand a great deal of alcohol—only you should never do that.

A MAN riding to hounds from sunrise to sunset can drink two magnums, about four quarts, of strong ale and not feel it.

A man shut up in an office with little oxygen in his lungs, and blood, becomes heavy and mentally worthless after one pint of Guinness' Stout.

The ideal, of course, is to drink plenty of water and breathe plenty of fresh air, leaving alcohol alone, especially in a bootleg country.

THE country, apparently, is still doing business. "Big Steel," Wall Street's name for the United States Steel Corporation, shows unfilled orders for steel tonnage decreased by 38,783 tons last month.

The company has a total of unfilled orders amounting to 4,125,345 tons, which does not look much like a "panic."

"AS a sheep before her shearers is dumb." That's from the Bible.

"As a lamb after its shearing is dumb," may soon be the news in Wall Street. It depends on the rapidity with which the

FISHER TO ANNOUNCE SENATOR

Governor Reaches Decision On Appointee; Grundy Likely to Be Given Post

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Gov. John S. Fisher will appoint a junior senator late this afternoon, the executive offices announced today.

The announcement was made at the press conference at which the state executive had promised to make known his appointment.

Gov. Fisher said the delay was necessary to permit Attorney General Cyrus E. Woods, who has been out of the city, to determine the proper form for filling out the commission.

GRUNDY CHOICE SEEN

The Governor refused to say whether he had been in conference with W. L. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, former Republican state chairman, and Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, who was expected to be appointed.

He indicated, however, that he had made a definite decision and would be ready to announce it as soon as the Attorney General had prepared the necessary papers.

The delay in the announcement by the Governor, together with a report that the Governor had not reached all the leaders with whom he wished to consult, started a series of rumors that a hitch had occurred in plans to name the Bristol manufacturer.

DETAIL OVERLOOKED

It was generally accepted, however, that the detail of making out a legal commission had been overlooked in the more important work of selecting a man, until the last minute, when it was found that there was no precedent for the formal documents on file here.

SOCIETY PAIR DIE IN PACT

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Because they could neither dim the flame of their love nor shatter the fetters of marriage which kept them apart, it was believed today, Henry Grew Crosby, 32, and Mrs. Josephine Rotch Bigelow, 22, both of socially prominent Boston families, chose death to the unhappiness of separation.

Crosby, a son of Stephen Van Renselaer Crosby, of Boston, was a nephew of J. P. Morgan and a poet and editor widely known in "radical" literary circles. He was associated with the experimental magazine, "transition," and with his wife had published works of James Joyce, author of "Ulysses." He was listed in the Boston social directory, and was a Harvard graduate of the class of 1922 Mrs. Bigelow was the wife of Albert S. Bigelow, a post-graduate student at Harvard, and the

Mrs. Accorsi, wife of the man on trial in Criminal Court for the slaying of a state trooper, who today will take the stand in defense of her husband, who contends he was not at the scene.

Witnesses Support Defense Claim in Trial of Suspect For State Trooper Killing

Salvatore Accorsi was repairing his automobile in Russellton when State Trooper John J. Downey was fatally shot at Acmetonia, six miles away, a witness testified today in Criminal Court, where Accorsi is standing trial on a charge of murder.

This was the Russellton miner's defense, that he took no part in the Acmetonia riot in which Downey was shot. Mike Snee, former neighbor of the defendant, told of being with Accorsi all day in Russellton, and Snee's 19-year-old son, Peter, corroborated his father's testimony.

Numerous other witnessed testified that they saw Accorsi in

Friedman, on Stand, Says He Gave Former Versailles Officer $200 Weekly

A second former police chief, Charles Bergstedt, of Versailles, was named by Charles Friedman, pardoned bootlegger, as receiving bribes, as he resumed the witness stand today in the McKeesport liquor conspiracy trial in Federal Court.

Friedman testified he had paid Bergstedt $200 a week for a long period for bootleg protection and for using his influence in keeping the state police out of Versailles.

SAYS HE PAID $250

"In 1927 I paid Bergstedt $250 for releasing Jack Tucker, who was arrested charged with impersonating a prohibition agent," testified Friedman. "I signed a bond just to fool the burgess, W. O. Kennedy." Tucker is a defendant in the case.

Yesterday, Friedman named John F. Brennan, former police chief of McKeesport, and half a dozen of his subordinates as being on the bootleggers' payroll.

Charles E. Reinhard, justice of the peace of Versailles Township, was another named by Friedman as a bribe-taker. He said he gave Reinhard $500 on one occasion "to fix a case" and $300 at another time.

When he first went to see Reinhard, Friedman testified, it was in behalf of his brother, Joseph Friedman, who had been arrested in a liquor case.

Reinhard, the witness said, advised him to get a lawyer. He did so, he testified, paid the lawyer $250, and never heard anything further in regard to the charge against his brother. The lawyer's name was not disclosed.

NAMES LIEUTENANT

Lieut. James H. Gray, one of the McKeesport police officers who, according to Friedman, were regularly paid by the rum ring for protection, once came to him and said he desired to buy an automobile. Friedman said he advanced the lieutenant $500 and withheld it from his pay.

William Englert, a milk inspector now under suspension, was another McKeesport city official

U. S. DELEGATES IN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—The task of getting the American delegation to the London naval conference whipped into a "harmonious team" was begun today by Secretary of State Stimson.

With all of the delegates present except Ambassadors Dawes and Gibson, who are at their posts abroad, Secretary Stimson initiated a series of delegation conferences which will be held almost daily until the members sail for London. Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow came from his home in New Jersey for today's meeting and probably will remain here.

ORDERED TO JAPAN

President Hoover's somewhat unusual action in appointing Assistant Secretary of State, William R. Castle, Jr., as special ambassador to Japan for the period of the conference served to emphasize today that there may be rough waters ahead in the adjustment of the Japanese cruiser ratio.

Castle's journey to Tokio for two months' duty is in itself eloquent testimony as to the difficulties presented by Japan's demand for increased cruiser ratio.

This problem will be discussed here next week with the arrival of Japan's delegates to the London conference.

JAPANESE AT VICTORIA

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Reijiro Wakatsuki and Admiral Takarabe, heading the Japanese delegation to the forthcoming London Disarmament Conference, asserted here today that their country would go as far toward reducing its naval force as any other power.

Wakatsuki, former premier of Japan, and Takarabe, minister of the navy, arrived with the remainder of the delegation last night from Yokohama.

GAS ATTACK RESCUES WARDEN; STORMING PARTY FORMED

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Warden Edgar S. Jennings and four prison guards, held for more than two hours today as hostages by long-term convicts rioting in Auburn state prison, were snatched from the hands of the mutineers by a picked squad of state troopers, who stormed the prison this afternoon.

Three convicts were killed during the attack. The principal keeper of the prison had been slain at the outbreak of the revolt.

Robbed of their last means of purchasing safe conduct from the prison, convicts prepared to make a last desperate stand in the main hall, while troopers and National Guardsmen, armed with tear gas bombs and machine guns, prepared to rush the barricades in the few hours remaining before darkness. It was feared the main body of convicts would attempt to escape as soon as night falls.

National Guardsmen, state troopers, police from several cities and armed citizens surrounded the prison.

The rescue of the warden and the four prison guards was made under cover of a tear gas attack. A detail of troops hurled tear gas bombs through the inner gate into the main hall and, waiting until the gas had taken effect, flung the gates open.

ONE SHOT, ONE'S EYE OUT

Warden Jennings and the four men rushed through, followed by a scattering fire of revolver shots.

Guard George E. Atkins was shot through the neck, Guard J. F. Van Housen tumbled through the opening with his eye gouged out. The other two who escaped, Claude Dempsey and Milton Riker, as well as Warden Jennings, were suffering temporarily from the gas attack. The warden and the guards were sent to the hospital. Riker was wounded in the outbreak at Auburn last July, in which two were killed.

A hasty check after the escape of the group revealed that three or four guards remained in the hands of the convicts.

SPOKESMAN KILLED

Henry Sullivan, spokesman for the mutineers, and two other convicts not yet identified, were killed during the attack by state troopers.

Approximately 1,580 convicts, many of them armed with guns smuggled into the prison, took part in the revolt. After killing Principal Keeper George A. Durnford, 15 or 20 of the ringleaders seized and imprisoned the warden and seven or eight guards, holding them a hostages for the release of the chief mutineers.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the rioting convicts, through their spokesman, Sullivan, who figured in the Auburn riot last July, sent word out to the authorities:

"We have guns trained on Jennings and the 12 guards. If you don't give us a free passage out in 15 minutes, we will kill them all."

WARDEN SENDS PLEA

Warden Jennings sent a message through a trusty to the police urging:

"For God's sake, give them what they want."

Acting Gov. Herbert Lehman, at Albany, flatly refused to compromise with the demands of rioting convicts.

"There will be no compromise," was the acting governor's order.

The acting governor's decision represented confirmation of an answer to the ultimatum already given by Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, state commissioner of correction.

The ultimatum was relayed to the prison department at Albany by William Sullivan, sergeant of guards at the prison. Sullivan called the department by telephone saying 15 convicts were holding Jennings and several guards and had demanded safe conduct for themselves. If, the prisoners told Sullivan, no effort was made to apprehend them as they left the prison they would allow the freedom of the officials; if attempts were made to capture them they would kill the warden and the guards.

Kieb immediately told Sullivan that "this could not be done" and "that society must be protected."

LEHMAN EXPLAINS STAND

Lieutenant Governor Lehman, upon being informed of Kieb's action, told him he had done "exactly right."

The 108th Infantry, was ordered to the scene by Lehman.

"As long as I am here, there will be no compromise no matter what the circumstances or what the outcome may be. I would regard such a course as possibly leading to the breakdown of the whole prison system.

"Every authority in the State has been ordered to take every

Wilkinsburg Girl Happy With Wonder Doll

By THE DOLL LADY

Of all the children who have had the privilege of a visit to the Doll Lady's Headquarters, 10-year-old Naomi Rowand, of 524 Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg, today is the supremely happy. The greatest of all her wishes has been fulfilled — and just at a time to bring additional joy for the Christmas holidays.

Doll Lady

It was yesterday that the Doll Lady began the actual distribution of the big, wonderful, talking, singing praying dolls and Naomi was among the first to do everything—and it wasn't hard—that the Doll Lady had asked her to do, and as a result, this little girl was among the very first to take a doll away—a doll that was all her very own.

Words cannot describe the happiness of Naomi. With her mother

Mt. Etna Becomes Active; Not Serious

CATALINA, Sicily, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—The famous volcano, Mt. Etna, showed signs of activity again today, erupting cinders and much smoke. Director Ponte, head of the observatory which reports on all activity of the volcano, declared the present eruption was not serious.

Ex-Italian Foreign Minister Near Death

ROME, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Tomasso Tittoni, former minister for foreign affairs, is gravely ill and the physicians are of opinion that he may not live out the day. The former statesman, who has dropped from political life in recent years, is being attended by several physicians, including Prof. Ettore Marchiafava, a consulting physician to Pope Pius.

He was stricken at 6 o'clock last night by a cerebral attack resulting in paralysis on the right side.

Maurice Costello Named In $100,000 Balm Suit

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Maurice Costello, former Pittsburgher, one-time idol of Broadway and now gray-haired member of the Hollywood motion picture veterans' ranks, today prepared to combat in Superior Court a $100,000 breach of promise suit filed yesterday by Miss Vivienne Sengler, youthful musician, author and artist.

Declaring he was astonished at the suit, which he termed an "absurd" attempt to "shake me down," the father of Mrs. John Barrymore (Dolores Costello) and Helene Costello, prominent film actresses, denied there ever had been an understanding between him and Miss Sengler.

He said she had proposed to him, but said his reaction was such that he had not seen her since.

The girl, however, declared Costello proposed to her in Stockton, Cal., September 16, 1928, and they mutually agreed to be married last April 22. As the wedding date approached, her complaint cited, his attitude changed, and he refused to go through with their plans.

Costello's wife, Mrs. Mae Costello, whom he married in New York in 1902, and from whom he was divorced in 1927, died this year.

The stage veteran, gray haired and now nearing 60, has lived alone in Hollywood for several years when not engaged in theatrical tours.

Blaze in Rotunda Of P. R. R. Station

Firemen rushed to two alarms at 1 p. m. today but neither proved serious.

Downtown traffic was held up by a small blaze in the rotunda of the Pennsylvania Station. A cable had ignited from the torch of a repairman. Damage was $200.

On a pole at Twenty-ninth street and Liberty avenue a transformer caught fire. Damage was slight.

step necessary to uphold the State's position."

Lieut. Solvay Perry, of Troop G, commanding the state troopers at the scene, received his instructions by telephone from Dr. Keib. "If they come out, shoot," Keib ordered. "If they don't come out, go in and get them."

Perry returned to his command, drew his men up in a firing line in front of the open gate and declared:

"The warden will have to take his chances. If they come out, we will mow them down. If they don't come out before a load of tear gas we have ordered gets here, we will go in any way, and we will go in shooting."

The attack was then made and the warden rescued.

ULTIMATUM DELIVERED

With the walls entirely surrounded by National Guard troops, state police and citizens with loaded guns, city officials had ordered the front gate of the prison opened at noon and sent word to the convicts to file out.

More than 1,000 armed men formed a hollow square in front of the gates at the foot of Wall street, prepared to stage a pitched battle, but the convicts made no attempt to get away.

SEND DEATH THREAT

Sullivan, spokesman for the mutineers, sent the following message to state troopers after the main gate of the prison had been opened:

"We are all going to die together unless you order all gates opened and all state troopers, city police, national guards and all civilians away from the vicinity of the prison and give us safe conduct to freedom. If this is not done immediately, we will all die together."

The prison arsenal was in the hands of guards, but the windows of the guardroom, providing the only access to the mutineers' stronghold, were covered by the guns of the 20 desperate long termers.

GUARD PROVES HERO

The first discovery of the mutiny occurred when David Winney, a guard, entered the main hall of the prison. As he walked through the doorway a convict pulled a gun and ordered him to throw up his hands.

Instead Winney threw himself down behind a post and then broke through the door. The convict fired at him but missed and Winney reached the main office of the prison, where he spread the alarm.

Telephone wires within the prison walls were found to have been cut, severing communications between the office and the warden and keepers who were in the main hall at the time the outbreak started. Telephone wires outside the walls were found to be intact, however, and were used to summon aid, which arrived within half an hour.

Meanwhile, whipping guns from beneath their convict uniforms, the long-term prisoners herded the warden and his staff into a corner of the hall and laid down their terms.

WARDEN'S WIFE GUARDED

Principal Keeper Durbford was believed to have been slain when he attempted to break through the ranks of his captors to summon aid. He is survived by a widow and two children.

Mrs. Jennings, wife of the warden, was reported barricaded within her house, inside the prison walls, but was said to be well protected by armed civilian employes.

The presence of these guards also was expected to prevent the convicts making a break through the front part of the prison.

All traffic had been stopped for a mile on either side of the prison and the prison area was literally filled with armed men.

Virtually every citizen of Auburn who owned a gun had joined one of the volunteer posses.

Thirty men from the Syracuse police force were dispatched to Auburn at 11:45 o'clock in charge of Deputy Chief George S. Peacock.

They were armed with riot guns and tear bombs.

The One Hundred and Eighth Infantry, National Guard, ordered out by the acting governor, is composed of two Auburn companies and units from Geneva and Syracuse. The Auburn companies are on the scene and the others on the way.

SHOPS ON FIRE

At 11:10 a. m. the fire department was summoned to the prison, the prison shops being reported on fire. Some of these had been repaired since the fires of "Terror Sunday" last July. The firemen were not immediately admitted, the vehicle gate being closed and locked for some time after they arrived. Smoke was visible over the walls.

The firemen were unable to get the big apparatus through the vehicle gate which was kept locked. They placed ladders against the walls and climbed up, led by state troopers.

A National Guard plane left Miller Field, Staten Island, under orders to stop at Poughkeepsie, pick up a load of tear gas bombs from the Peekskill National Guard camp, and proceed immediately to Auburn.

The New York Police Department also dispatched 100 tear gas bombs by airplane to Auburn.

LEADERS' RECORDS

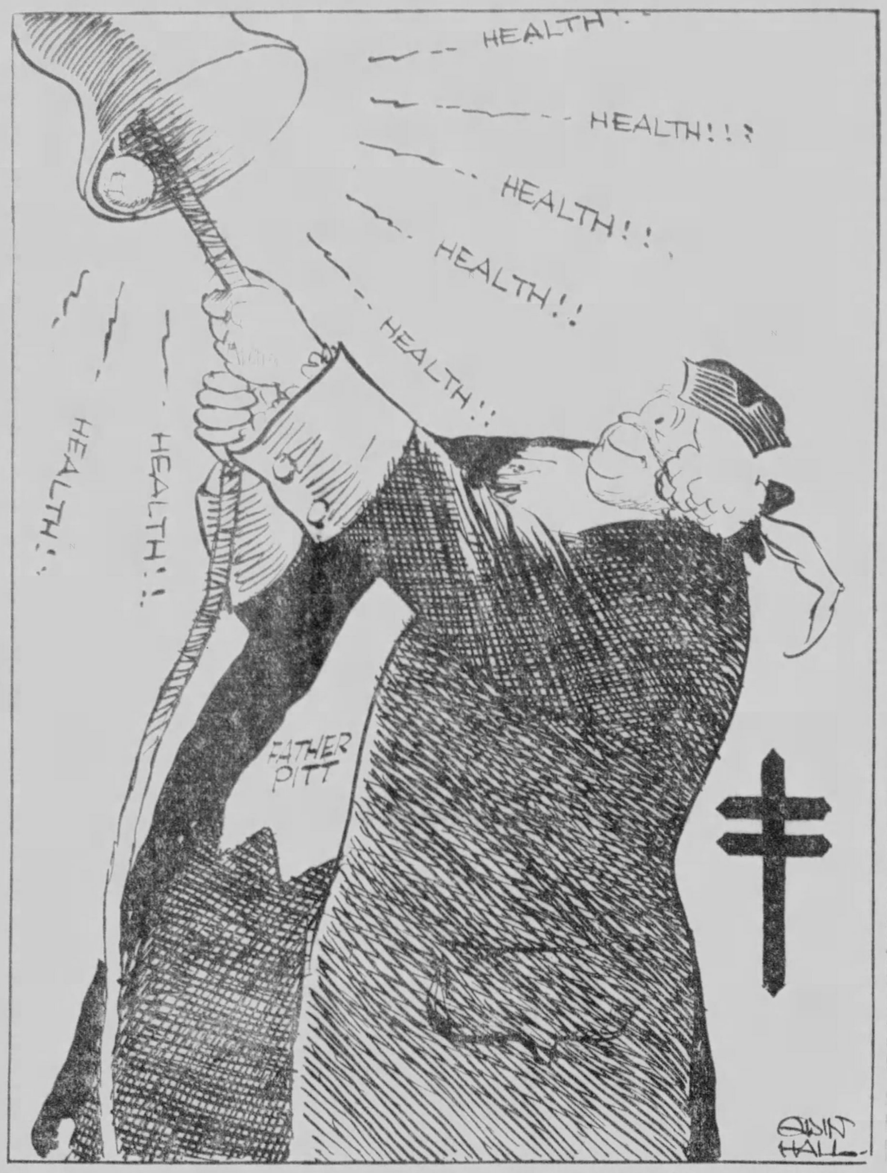
Sullivan, slain leader of the convicts, was received December 3, 1926, from Erie County, having been convicted of robbery in the first degree. He was sentenced to 20 to 21 years. He escaped March 3, 1929, from Auburn, by cutting a hole through the roof and was captured nine days later at Watertown.

Ernest Pavesi, another of the ring-leaders, escaped with Sullivan and was captured at the same time. He was received at Auburn, April 21, 1921, from Kings County, having been convicted of robbery, first degree, as a second offender and sentenced for 40 years.

Joseph Bravata and Stephen Pawlak were convicted last week of participating as leaders in the riot of last July at Auburn and sentenced to life. Bravata was received June 4, 1926, on two charges of robbery, first degree, and was sentenced for 40 years. Pawlak, an Erie County convict, was received May 28, 1927, on a conviction of robbery, first degree.

Auburn prison is on the outskirts of Auburn, a city of 36,000 population, 23 miles southwest of Syracuse, 57 miles east of Rochester and 30 miles south of Lake Ontario.

RING OUT, GLAD BELLS -:- By Quin Hall



Captive Warden Is Militia General

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Four units of the New York National Guard—two from Auburn, one from Syracuse and another from Geneva—were rushed to the state prison at Auburn today to quell a prison outbreak and, incidentally, to "save the general."

For the warden, Edgar S. Jennings, held a hostage by prisoners who declared they would kill him if he didn't throw open the gates, is a brigadier general in the National Guard, and is the commander of the units sent to the scene.

STRIKE SPREAD CLOSES MINES

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The fledging group of workers who have set themselves up against the United Mine Workers of America and organized as the National Miners' Union, had accomplished a 100 per cent shutdown of coal miners in Christian County today.

Members of the new union, striking for better working conditions, shorter hours and a $35 weekly minimum wage, as well as to break the older union, had their eyes today on mines at Nokomis, Staunton and in the Springfield district. Their leaders said 3,000 men were out in this county and that the intention was to make the strike state-wide and possibly nation-wide.

Calling out the National Guard to protect the four Peabody Coal Company mines in this county yesterday served as an indirect aid to the strikers. Several hundred members of the United Mine Workers appeared ready to enter the mines, but refused to do so as long as the troops were there. Many expressed the opinion that to work under the protection of the state military would put them in the position of strike breakers. The miners, for the most part, later went over to the new union.

6 MILES FROM KILLING, ALIBI OF ACCORSI

Russelton on that fatal day—August 22, 1927—although not all of them fixed the time definitely.

MUSTACHE DENIED

A mustache, mythical or actual, played a prominent role in the defense case. The defense produced several witnesses to testify they had never known Accorsi to have a mustache. State witnesses had testified that the man who shot Downey did have a mustche.

Mr. and Mrs. William Citrona, of Livermore, testified that when they left Russellton to drive to Acmetonia, Accorsi was repairing his machine in Russellton. They reached Acmetonia just after state troopers had broken up the meeting, the Citronas added.

From a defense witness, Robert Porter, Russellton garage proprietor, the state learned that after Downey was shot, Accorsi quit coming to the garage, although he had been in the habit of dropping in twice a week.

However, a later witness, Sam Yupanza, Russellton farmer, told of seeing Accorsi in Russellton four or five days after the shooting and two months later.

BARBER TESTIFIES

C. E. Murphy, former Russellton barber, testified that two days before the shooting he shaved Accorsi and that the defendant did not have a mustache then.

Peter Persutti, Acmetonia grocer, swore that at 10:30 a. m. on August 22, a half-hour or so before the shooting, he delivered groceries to Accorsi at the Accorsi home.

During the afternoon session Chief George W. Murren, of the county detectives, caused a stir in the courtroom when he escorted Max Salzman, Secretary of the International Labor Defense Committee, from defense counsel table and, in the corridor, searched him. Murren said he had "a tip" that Salzman was carrying a revolver, but the search revealed none. The International Labor Defense Committee is in charge of Accorsi's defense.

"This is an outrage," Salzman protested when he returned to the courtroom.

Attorney Jacob Margolis outlined the defense. Before doing so, he asked visiting Judge J. A. McLaughry to dismiss the charge on the grounds that the prosecution had failed to prove its case. The court refused, holding that the jury should decide the point.

WIFE IN COURT

As Margolis pleaded for the defendant, Mrs. Accorsi, who had left a sick-bed to come to court, sat with her children in a front row, awaiting the opportunity to testify that her husband was not present at the riot.

In asking for dismissal of the charge, Margolis argued, hypothetically, that the man who shot Downey did so in self-defense, only after Downey had attacked him with a club.

The state closed its case with the testimony of two New York detectives, who told of State Trooper W. M. Brown and one Andy Copalin identifying Accorsi in a group of 15 prisoners in a "standup" last June.

Brown and Copalin were the state's star witnesses. Brown told of seeing Accorsi, armed, standing over Downey, who had been shot, in the Russelton road. Copalin identified Accorsi as the shooter.

and father, she came to the Davis Theater headquarters yesterday, selected a brunette doll and was then photographed by the Doll Lady at the office of the Sun-Telegraph, which is co-operating in the distribution of these dolls.

WHOLE FAMILY HAPPY

Naomi's big doll was then packed in a box almost as big as a steamer trunk and, all smiles and thanks for the Doll Lady and the Sun-Telegraph, Naomi and her parents went on their way to Wilkinsburg—the happiest family in the world.

Among other things, Naomi said: "It only took me two days to do what the Doll Lady told me to do. Never before in my life have I had anything so wonderful as this marvelous doll and I'll keep it forever. Tomorrow, I'm going to take it to school and show it to all my schoolmates."

C. A. Rowand, father of Naomi, and employed at the Westinghouse Electric plant, is as proud of the doll as is his fortunate little daughter.

In the meantime, hundreds more of little girls in Pittsburgh and vicinity each will be given one of these wonder dolls—the only dolls in the world that actually sing and talk just like a human being.

The Doll Lady has two downtown headquarters, and there is an open invitation to every little girl in Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh's suburbs to come in and have a personal talk with her and she will tell all of these little girls just what they have to do to get one of these big, marvelous dolls without a penny of cost. The doll headquarters are conveniently located. One is in the lobby of the Davis Theater, 534 Smithfield street, and the other is at 135 Sixth street, Roosevelt Hotel.

Now, little girls, don't wait. Ask mamma to bring you in today so that you can see the talking dolls and play with them, and if you want one—of course you will—the Doll Lady will tell you how easily you can get it for yourself. Just bear in mind that these dolls are not for sale. Money cannot buy them. The Doll Lady actually gives them away.

Battle of Jutland Leader Under Knife

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Earl Jellicoe, former commander of the British grand fleet, was confined to his quarters today after an operation on his upper jaw bone. All his engagements for the next six weeks have been canceled.

Earl Jellicoe, who became first sea lord after leading the grand fleet in the battle of Jutland, and later was Governor-General of New Zealand, is now 70 years of age.

SUGAR SCALE HOOVER'S PLAN

Schedule Senate Rejected Sponsored by President, Lobby Committee Learns

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—President Hoover sponsored the "sliding scale" of sugar duties, hitherto credited to Senator Smoot (Rep.), of Utah, which the Senate Finance Committee rejected months ago, it was testified today by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company at the Senate committee's lobby inquiry.

Lakin said Edward P. Shattuck, New York attorney and close friend of Mr. Hoover, had represented the Cuban sugar interests in negotiations over the scale. He said Shattuck revealed to him the President's interests in the sliding scale which met ignominous rejection by the finance committee.

APPROVED BY HOOVER

Lakin admitted under questioning his chief reason for employing Shattuck to represent Cuban interests was because he enjoyed the President's confidence. President Hoover had approved Shattuck's employment, he said.

"How did you learn that this scale came from Mr. Hoover?"

"I got it first from the newspapers."

"Who else told you?"

"Mr. Shattuck," said Lakin. "He said he understood that the President suggested to Senator Smoot that he might work out the problem of protecting both sides by a scale of duties."

LETTER PRODUCED

Then Lakin was confronted with a letter in which he wrote his Cuban associates that:

"I am going to let Shattuck take the laboring oar, partly because he is being paid for the work but chiefly because of his relations with Hoover and Smoot."

Lakin testified Shattuck visited Mr. Hoover at Miami, Fla., while the latter was president-elect. Shattuck discussed the sugar situation with Mr. Hoover, he added, and thereafter was employed to represent the Cuban interests.

"Mr. Shattuck wouldn't accept our employment until he had conferred with the President," said Lakin. "He didn't want to embarrass the President."

"And it wasn't embarrassing and you did hire him?"

"Yes."

to be accused by Friedman. The witness said he once employed Englert, paying him a fee of $100, to make a survey of nearby farms and report on their suitability for distilling operations.

Friedman's direct examination ended with his testimony against Englert.

Cross-examined by Attorney Edward B. Coll, he admitted that in his former trial, in 1927, he denied that he had been in the whisky business.

Friedman testified he gave $150 to $300 a week to Brennan and lesser amounts to other members of the police force, who are among the 21 defendants on trial. In addition to weekly payments to certain motorcycle policemen, Friedman said there was a standing offer of a $10 bonus for "knocking off" trucks and automobiles of rival bootleg liquor operators.

DEFENDANT JAILED

Martin Firestone, Beaver Falls and Salem, O., business man, a defendant, whose absence yesterday morning caused a delay in testimony until afternoon, spent last night in the county jail, in default of $15,000 bond. That amount was fixed by Judge Gibson when Firestone arrived for the afternoon session. He was also informed that his bond of $2,500 had been forfeited. In explaining his absence Firestone said he missed his train and had to drive to Pittsburgh in an automobile.

JURORS IN WHOSE HANDS RESTS FATE OF SALVATORE ACCORSI IN TRIAL FOR SLAYING

2 Killed and 11 Injured In Former Auburn Riot

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Two prisoners were killed, 11 wounded and four escaped in an outbreak at the Auburn state prison last July 28. Several buildings were fired by the rioting convicts and damage estimated at a quarter of a million dollars resulted to prison equipment.

State troopers aided guards and police in quelling the riot.

This outbreak was the second of a series of four major prison uprisings which occurred in various parts of the country within a period of four months.

FIRST RIOT AT CLINTON

The first of the series occurred at Clinton prison, Dannemora, N. Y., on July 22, known as "Siberia" ... world. Clinton prison ... the most desperate ... hirteen hundred of ... the guards in a daring attempt to escape.

Three of the convicts were killed and the uprising finally subdued by guards and troops from the state militia camp at Platsburg.

Convicts at the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., rebelled over the quality of their food and the discipline system on August 1. One prisoner was killed and three injured.

The most serious of the four outbreaks was at the Colorado state prison at Canyon City on October 3.

12 DIE IN COLORADO

Seven guards and five convicts lost their lives in the Colorado mutiny. The riot ended after 24 hours of furious fighting, when the ring-leaders committed suicide. The guards killed were seized as hostages by the prisoners and murdered one by one and their bodies thrown out of the cell house windows when authorities refused to grant the convicts' demands for freedom.

More than 150 prisoners were confined to the cell house, in which the leaders barricaded themselves. National guard troops and police details from four cities poured round after round of ammunition into the convict stronghold, and attempts were made to dynamite the cell house walls.

Their cause hopelessly lost, and some of their number wounded, the riot leaders turned their guns upon themselves, and the other prisoners in the building immediately surrendered. Several guards and prisoners were wounded during the battle.

THERE was an important Mexican gathering in New York yesterday. The United States was glad to welcome that gathering in the big city where high finance has its capital.

There was Pasqual Ortiz Rubio, recently elected president of Mexico.

Arriving today on the steamship Bremen, after a European vacation will be Gen. Calles, former president of the Mexican Republic.

FIFTY important Mexican officials were established in the Hotel Pennsylvania.

And, to make the party complete, Dwight W. Morrow, United States Ambassador to Mexico, good friend of Calles and Ortiz Rubio, also arrived in New York. Mr. Morrow later visited President-elect Rubio.

Millions of Mexicans work in the United States.

The United States needs the friendship of Mexico. Mexico needs the financial power of this country, and, to some extent, its industrial leadership, subject to Mexican control.

New York's Mexican gathering is a good omen.

COLD RUINS AFTER FLAMES FOLLOWING EXPLOSION SWEPT NEW YORK MOVIE FILM STUDIO WITH TOLL OF TEN LIVES

CHORUS GIRLS OUTSIDE IN THE SCANTY REVUE COSTUMES IN WHICH THEY RAN OUT INTO COLD TO ESCAPE FLAMES

N. Y. FILM FIRE BEING PROBED

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Authorities sought to learn from survivors today the cause of the fire in the Manhattan film studio in which 10 members of a talking picture company lost their lives and 18 were injured.

Four of the dead were chorus girls in the cast of a song and dance revue being filmed by Pathe Sound Studios, Inc.

DEAD

THEORIES OF CAUSE

Two theories for the cause of the fire were advanced. Witnesses told officlas of the fire marshal's office that a glowing spark was seen to drop from the carbon on arc-lamp a moment before a mass of scenery and drapes burst into flames. They said the burning particle fell into folds of a velvet drop.

Peter C. Spence, chief of the fire prevention bureau of the fire department, said he believed the fire probably was the result of a surreptitiously smoked cigaret.

He said an order for the installation of a sprinkler system in the old studio building, which is located in Harlem at Park avenue and One Hundred Thirty-fourth street, had been issued last May, but because not more than five reels of film were stored in the building at one time, the department was powerless to enforce the order.

100 IN BUILDING

About 100 persons—directors, musicians, comedians, dancers, electricians and other members of the company—were assembled in the studio yesterday, ready to begin filming cabaret scenes. Many of the girls were still in dressing rooms on the balcony.

A ruddy flicker showed above a velvet drape hiding a pile of unused scenery. Someone snatched down the drape while others ran for fire extinguishers and a fire hose. Feeding on flimsy scenery, the flames flared up, sweeping through the studio which was hung with drapes to aid acoustics.

Bernard Mahoney, an assistant director, ran to the stairs shouting, "fire, get out."

THOUGHT IT HOAX

The girls evidently thinking he was trying to hurry them onto the set delayed. When they realized their peril all exits but the main one were cut off. They ran in panic down the front stairs and were caught in a jam. It was near the entrance that firemen found the bodies. Miss Burford was still alive when carried out. She died in a hospital.

The studio, once the training quarters of Jack Johnson, former heavyweight boxing champion, was converted from a dance hall and skating rink into a motion picture studio 15 years ago.

3 POWERS RUSH SHIPS TO CHINA

SHANGHAI, Dec. 11.—With the rebel drive against Nanking, the seat of President Chiang Kai Shek's government becoming more vigorous hourly, warships of three great powers, Great Britain, Japan and the United States, steamed at top speed to the protection of their nationals in the Yangtse Valley.

The American flotilla of destroyers, headed by the cruiser Pittsburgh, was steaming toward this port from Manila. It is expected the American craft will arrive tomorrow.

Heavy fighting between rebels and loyal nationalist troops was reported in progress at Chuchow, about 40 miles Northwest of Nanking.

CANTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The rebels' initial attempt to capture Canton appeared today to have been temporarily checked by Nationalist government troops after a heavy engagement since Monday night, with many thousands of casualties on each side.

The hospitals are full of wounded men and others are arriving. For a time the issue seemed doubtful. The "Ironsides Division" rebels, under Gen. Chang Fak-Wei, broke through the Nationalist lines north of Canton and at the height of the battle were within two hours' march of the city. Artillery fire was plainly heard in Canton.

The Nationalists rallied, however, and thrust the rebels back to the starting point of their drive. The retreating rebels fell into a Nationalist trap, and 5,000 were captured.

'BOSSY' VICTOR IN RECOUNT

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Andrew J. (Bossy) Gillis, "Bad Boy" mayor of this city, was assured a victory over his arch-rival, former mayor Michael Cashman, at the end of a recount of the ballots cast in the recent municipal election. Mayor Gillis, who one time served a jail sentence for engaging in fisticuffs with Cashman, has a margin of 40 votes over his rival.

The "Bad Boy" mayor, whose controversies with this city's socially conservative elements, have attracted country-wide attention, and have caused him alternate periods of triumph and grief, lost six votes during the recount, having had a lead of 46 at the end of the first count. Cashman said, however, that he would not further contest the count.

Says City 'Stuff' Best, Pays $2 For Ride

Because John Cunningham, 48, of Verona, does not patronize neighborhood "moonie" dealers, Magistrate W. J. Soost fined him $2 in East End Police Court today when he was arraigned for drunkenness.

"Where do you get your likker?" Soost asked him.

"Right here in the city," Cunningham answered.

"What's the matter with Verona?"

"Nothing, but I like city stuff better."

"Humm" (the magistrate was thinking). "What was your ride to the station in the patrol wagon worth?"

"I don't know," was Cunningham's reply.

"Well," said the judge, "it'll cost you $2. In the future patronize your own bootleggers."

HELEN KELLER FAITH SAME

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Declaring her faith in the doctrines of Emanuel Swedenborg, Helen Keller, in a letter to the Rev. Sperry, president of the general convention of the New Jerusalem today had denied a report that she had been converted to the Persian religious cult of Bahia-U-Llah.

"It is most important to me that I should not be misinterpreted in my religion," Miss Keller wrote. "As you know, I have been a strong believer in the doctrines of Emanuel Swedenborg since I was 16 years old. Why should I change my faith since it makes my dark, silent world sweet and livable?

Miss Keller attributed the incorrect report of her conversion to the misconstruction of a speech she delivered before a group of followers of Bahia.

YULETIDE CASH FLOW BEGINS

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Cash was moving rapidly out of Treasury vaults today—into the public's pockets, where it will pause just long enough to finance the annual Christmas spending jamboree and to be transmuted into holiday cheer. Because the main thing that makes Christmas cheer is cash.

Experts said the increase in the volume of actual cash in use between the end of September and the night before Christmas was expected to be about $300,000,000 this year.

That would mean at the maximum circulation period of the year approximately $5,200,000,000 in "hard goods" would be in the hands of the public, or outside the Treasury and the Federal Reserve banks. Circulation at the end of November was $4,929,500,000, or $40.95 per capita.

In connection with the annual Christmas present season the Treasury will issue to the Federal Reserve Banks for general distribution about $3,250,000 in "quarter-eagles" within a few days. The $2.50 gold pieces are widely used as Christmas presents, although they soon find their way back to the Treasury ready for re-issue again next year.

Officials estimated about $400,000,000 over the normal circulation will be required this year to finance the Christmas season.

Children Blamed For Trolley Wreck

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The prank of a group of children was believed today to have caused the wreck of a two-car interurban train two miles west of here last night in which 20 persons were injured, four seriously.

The opinion was expressed by inspectors for the interurban company that children had piled gravel on the roadbed, forcing wheels of the front car off the tracks.

Northern Pacific Earnings Lower

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Charles Donnelly, president of Northern Pacific, says that both gross and net earnings for November will show a large decrease compared with last year but not as large as in October of this year compared with a year ago.

Both gross and net earnings for this year as a whole will be less than for 1928 but he see indications of a picking up in various lines of traffic during present month.

HAITI LAWYERS FLAY MARINES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Many attorneys of Port au Prince, Haiti, have signed a statement charging that the deployment of armed American forces has thrown the city into a condition of agitation and asserting that they will refrain from pleading in the island courts until "a new order" has been instituted.

This was reported to the State Department last night by Brig. Gen. John H. Russell, the American high commissioner, who simultaneously made a vigorous denial of the charges of the lawyers. He said that quiet prevailed, with indications of an improved condition throughout the island and quoted prominent residents of Cape Haitien as saying they would "welcome a firm, orderly government" whether administered by Americans or by their own people.

In denying these assertions, Gen. Russell pointed out that "one of the signers was Minister of the Interior under Guillaume Sam when 167 political prisoners were murdered in the prison."

Naval officers here are of the opinion that if quiet continues to prevail in Haiti, the 500 Marines ordered there and more recently directed to await developments at Guantanamo, Cuba, will be returned to the United States within a fortnight. Orders went forward yesterday to the U. S. S. Wright, which is transporting the force, to put in at Guantanamo and await orders.

Doheny Oil Lease Suit Nearing End

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—With the announcement of defense attorneys that the presentation of their testimony probably would be completed today or tomorrow, indications are that the government's suit against Edward L. Doheny and the Pan-American Petroleum Company for the cancellation of valuable Elk Hills (Cal.) naval reserve oil leases will close by the end of this week.

Federal Judge Frank Norcross, of Nevada, who is hearing the case without a jury, has announced plans to return to his home bench by Monday.

Passenger Liners Delayed by Storm

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—The stormy weather raging over the Atlantic today continued to delay the big passenger ships bound for New York. The North German Lloyd liner Bremen, the French liner France and the Cunarder Berengaria will all arrive on Friday, according to radio reports received here.

Welfare Santa Sends Checks To Needy

The "makings" for Merry Christmas in a lot of humble homes passed the desk of Treasurer Richard K. Mellon this morning when he signed December vouchers for the member agencies of the Welfare Fund.

"A little heavy this month," he reflected, as his busy pen worked down through the stack. "Yes, quite a bit heavier. First month of winter, you see—a lot of little feet to keep dry, and backs to keep warm, and coal to buy—and then there's Christmas in the offing. Wouldn't do to entirely forget the stockings," he talked as he wrote—"not quite entirely."

At last the bottom was reached. "You know," he said as he performed the last flourish that was to empower so much comfort and happiness to so many people who have so little—"you know I LIKE to sign these checks. Yes, I do! Especially the December checks!"

Electric 'Ear,' Newest Burglar Alarm, Shown

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Sixteen hundred business men in the Hotel Astor ballroom listened to the newest thing in burglar alarms, a little electric "ear" that protects great bank vaults.

Seated at a luncheon of the Merchants' Association of New York they watched Sergius P. Grace, assistant vice president of the Bell Telephone laboratories, fish out of his pocket a small, bright object resembling a round tobacco can.

He picked up a chunky metal box, inside of which another "ear" was installed in connection with a loud speaker. Over the box he poised a penny, barely three inches from the surface. He dropped it, and the tiny vibrations made by the striking of the coin passed through the rigid metal to the "ear" which rumbled like distant thunder.

The ear picks up any kind of blow on the vault walls, or a boring instrument, or even a blow torch.

But a subway train six feet away leaves the alarm unaffected unless the subway structure is connected so that its vibrations pass into the vault walls, for the apparatus picks up only tremors in the structure it guards.

Feminine Influence Shown In Lindy's New Plane

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. — (AP.) — A noticeable "feminine influence" upon the appointments of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's sturdy blue and orange plane has been detected by aviators at Bolling Field.

Looking the ship over, when the famous flier landed here yesterday, they observed that since his last visit more upholstery had been added to what were cockpits of the plain military type and better protection afforded against the windstream. Also the exhaust pipes have been led into a "stack," carrying the fumes from the engine well behind the passenger. And another step has been added to the rear cockpit.

Col. Lindbergh came here for conferences with officials of the Carnegie Institution and last night attended a scientific lecture by Harold D. Babcock, sponsored by the institution.

Coyne Takes Beating In Trade Board Vote

State Senator James J. Coyne took a political beating in his own bailiwick.

It was the election of officers and directors of the Oakland Board of Trade last night. Coyne put a complete ticket in the field against the incumbents. Only four of his 14 candidates won and one of them was the senator himself. He was elected a director. His leader in the battle for control of the Oakland trade body was John A. Freyvogel, who was elected second vice-president. His two other candidates elected were John H. Harrison and James E. Keenan. John Howard Neely, one of Coyne's chief lieutenants, who is also chairman of the Fourth ward, was defeated for third vice-president.

Relatively unimportant as elections go, the Fourth ward battle is looked upon by close associates of County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong as a spurt of flame from the battle that is said to be brewing between Coyne and the county administration, headed by the commissioner, who is ill.

A call was received at the sheriff's office before the meeting last night, inquiring if deputies had been asked to protect the Board of Trade meeting. Chief Deputy B. V. Coffey informed the person who called that none had been asked and that a court order would be necessary to have deputies on the job.

Those elected at the meeting were: W. George Negley, re-elected president E. C. Brainerd, vice president, who was unopposed; John Freyvogel, second vice president; R. P. Alexander, third vice president; John O. C. Young, treasurer John A. Witt, solicitor, and the following directors: Senator Coyne, John H. Harrison, James E. Keenan; the other six directors were re-elected.

REPORTERS END JAIL TERMS

WASHINGTON Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Three reporters of the Washington Times, sentenced to 45 days in jail for refusing to testify before a grand jury investigation of liquor conditions here, completed their sentences and were released at midnight last night.

They were Jack Nevin, Jr., Linton Burkett and German Hendricks.

A sizeable crowd was waiting at the jail exit to greet the youths upon their emergence and news cameramen made flashlight photographs. Nevin's father, also a Washington newspaperman, and his mother were among the welcoming group.

The youths were sentenced by Justice Peyton Gordon for refusing to give the grand jury information which, they said in articles written for the Times, they had accumulated regarding liquor law violations in this city.

For good behavior, five days of their 45 days' sentence were remitted. Under the law, they can be reincarcerated if called again before the grand jury they still decline to testify. Officials, however, are said to have no intention of following that course.

DR. DORAN LISTS DRY KILLINGS

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union today made public a communication from Dr. James M. Doran, United States Commissioner of Prohibition, in which he said that since the prohibition law went into effect 147 persons have been killed by agents of his department "while acting in the discharge of the official duties." He said 57 agents had also been killed.

"I have no present intention of making a general reply to the recent charges of excessive force in enforcement," Dr. Doran wrote the W. C. T. U.

"The agents of our service will continue to use weapons for self-defense, as they are not going to be shot at by violators and be without adequate means of protection."

Weather Conditions.

The cloudy and foggy weather continues over the greater portion of the country, and it is raining at scattered places in the Ohio Valley states, and in the central and southern plains, and snowing in the upper Mississippi valley. The pressure distribution is quite similar to yesterday morning. The Canadian high moved eastward and now occupies the country north of the Great Lakes, with a ridge extending southward over the Coast states. The Pacific coast low changed little in form and is still centered over Washington, but with diminished intensity. The temperature changes were slight, except north of the lakes, where it is much colder.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 4.9 feet. Lock No. 7, 12.6; Pittsburgh, 14.0; Dam No. 2, 11.5; Dam No. 6, 11.9; Dam No. 9, 12.8, and Dam No. 12, 10.0. The dams are down. There has been no change in the ice gorge condition in the Sixth pool at Kittanning.

Constructive co-operation with City Council and a practical demonstration of how the expenses of city government may be reduced are the best methods of preventing an increase in city taxes for next year, according to J. FIRM CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Seven officials of the F. H. Smith Company, real estate bonding company that financed the building of several structures in Pittsburgh, today stood under indictment of using the mails to defraud. Several months ago Senator Brookhart asked for a senatorial investigation of the activities of the Smith concern and the indictments returned in Washington by the District of Columbia grand jury is a result of his demand for investigations.

WOMAN ALLEGED VICTIM

Among those whom the company is alleged to have attempted to defraud, according to the indictment, is Mrs. Emily R. Sexton, of Bellevue.

Mrs. Sexton today said she had bought stock in the Law and Finance Building and in "some" corporation of their own," the entire purchase totaling $2,500.

She said she has received dividends regularly and got her last one on December 1.

Daniel R. Crissinger, comptroller of the currency under President Warren G. Harding, and Congressman Frederick N. Zihlman, of Maryland, were indicted along with five other offcials of the company. The concern has offices in Pittsburgh.

Zihlman and Crissinger were members of the board of directors of the F. H. Smith Company.

In Pennsylvania the company met opposition in May of 1927 when its license to sell securities in Pennsylvania was revoked on the ground that its business methods were not just and equitable.

For several years after the war the comp.... did a brisk business here. It has financed the Law and Finance Building, the Insurance Exchange Building, the Cathedral Mansions, the Fairfax Hotel and the Darlington, an apartment house at Aiken and Center avenues.

MAILS ARE USED

The company financed the building operations here by selling first mortgage bonds to the public. Although more than two years ago the local branch was barred from selling securities here, it managed to interest local people through mails. I. L. Gillespie, of the Department of Public Safety here has been watching operations of the F. H. Smith company for several years and it was partly on his report that the permit to sell securities was revoked by the state.

Recently the F. H. Smith Company moved its headquarters from Washington to New York, and it was at the New York office yesterday that Crissinger was notified of his indictment. Other officers indicted are: G. Bryan Pitts, chairman of the board; Samuel J. Henry, president; C. Elbert Anadale, secretary; John H. Edwards, Jr., vice president, and Henry C. Madux of the Hamilton Hotel Company.

According to the indictment returned by the grand jury, the defendants had placed letters, circulars and advertising matter in the mails and published in them, false presentments concerning the value of the Hamilton Hotel and values of the capital stock of the Properties Investment Corporation and other bonds of like nature as secure investments to persons to be defrauded.

Night Life Gets You if You Don't Watch Out!

War Vet almost takes count, but pals help.

This kind of man wins no matter where you put him

HOW would you like it if every two weeks you had to give up your good night's sleep, and work all night instead? This is what happened to W. H. Huggins of 90 Savannah Street, Rochester, New York. When he came back from the War, he took a night "shift" job.

"It certainly shot me all to pieces," said Mr. Huggins. "I was licked before I started. My pals noticed that the night shift got me, so during a 'lunch' period in the middle of one night one of them said to me, 'Hug, I bet I know what's the matter with you. This irregular life gets us all unless we watch out. Why don't you try Nujol? Most of the boys are onto this little health trick. Try it!'

"Well, that very night on the way home I got a bottle and within a week I felt like a different person. I wouldn't know myself. You can lick any job, even a night one, if you get the poisons out of your system regularly. Nujol sure did it for me!"

That's the great thing about Nujol. It absorbs the poisons in your system (we all have them) and cleans them out regularly. It cannot hurt you no matter how long you take it, and it forms no habit.

Nujol contains no medicines or drugs. It is simply the world's most famous method of bodily lubrication.

You can get a bottle at any good drug store, in a sealed package, for less than the cost of a couple of good cigars. Begin today to prove to yourself how Nujol can help you to lick the toughest job and feel bully!

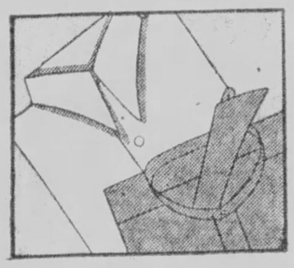
Gifts for Men

Furnishings from the Men's Store That Reflect the Giver's Good Taste in the Selection of Things for a Man

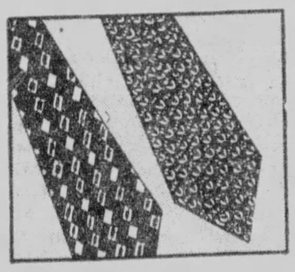
Shirts . . .



Among the newer ideas in men's wear are shirts of Burton's Irish poplin, in plain white and solid pastel shades of tan, green and blue. In collar-attached style with barrel cuffs or with soft collar to match and French cuffs. $2.95.

The gift ideal for a man is one or several silk shirts. A pleasing assortment at the Men's Store, in white, blue, tan or green, is $6.95. Collar attached or soft collar to match.

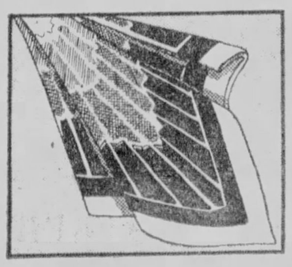
Cravats . . .



Distinctly new are the "seven-fold" cravats —hand-made in a manner that several thicknesses of the material obviate the necessity of a lining—giving the "body" that allows tying time after time without the semblance of a wrinkle. Conventional figured patterns. $2.00.

Especially smart are the cravats from Hawes & Curtis, of London—in patterns obviously British, and therefore smart. $6.00.

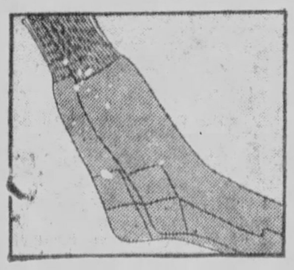
Mufflers . . .



Any man who receives an all-silk crepe scarf such as these cannot but be pleased. Some are quite conservative, while others are assuredly for men who have joined in the spirit of the "movement moderne." At the same price, $3.50, are rayon-and-cotton scarfs in warp-print plaids.

Nothing nicer than the assortment of silk foulard scarfs from England. In typical foulard patterns, and every imaginable color. $5.

Hose . . .



Silk hose is always a well-chosen gift—especially if it be hose as well-made and as service-giving and as good-looking as these. They are in solid colors and are full fashioned, with lisle soles and tops for long wear. Black and colors. $1 a pair.

Devotees of French lisle hose (and there are many) will receive these with open arms. They are vertically striped, mostly in light tones. $3 a pair.

PUPILS QUIZZED IN SLAYING

ROCKFORD, Ill., Dec. 11 (INS).—Completely baffled by an absence of clues which might lead to solution of the murder of Cordelia Gummersheimer, high school language teacher, authorities today prepared to question her students in the hope that a classroom grudge might have prompted the slaying.

Working now on the clue that the brutal slaying may have been the work of a youth who failed in one of her language courses, police prepared to examine her class records and question a number of possibilities.

The district attorney's office has appealed to the American consul at Havana to trace Nicolai Diaz, said to have been an ardent admirer of the girl when she taught school in Porto Rico. Police found a number of letters from Diaz in the girl's apartment where her body was found in bed Sunday evening, the skull crushed in by blows of a heavy piece of gas pipe.

Dr. Floyd Leach, the lone suspect arrested in the case, was released under threat of habeas corpus proceedings.

THIEVES STEAL YULE CHECKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Christmas saving fund checks, mailed to subscribers by various banks in the Capital, have become the object of a band of mailbox looters. Many complaints have been received at police headquarters, principally from the apartment house sections.

Christmas check counterfeiters are active also, and the police asserted that one band is "plastering the town" with the illicit checks of a prominent bank.

The trail of complaints indicated that the stolen, counterfeited and forged checks are generally taken to downtown department stores.

ELEVATOR FALL HURTS MAYOR

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Mayor William F. Broening and nine other persons, some of them city officials, were slightly injured when an elevator in the City Hall fell three stories late yesterday as the city employes were leaving their offices.

The mayor was the most seriously injured of the persons in the elevator, which was stuck in the shaft at the first floor. When the doors finally were forced open, the mayor was carried to his office, after others in the car had supported him. He was understood to have suffered injuries to his head, ankles and stomach. Physicians were called to his office to render assistance.

Others in the elevator were suffering mostly from shock, caused by the sudden stop of the car when it had almost reached the first floor after dropping from the third, where all of the persons had boarded it after a hearing on a city ordinance.

POWER TRUST'S PADDED COSTS REVEALED

Nine Million Stock Boost, Allegedly 'Water,' Goes Into Dam Developments

The Sun-Telegraph today publishes the last of a series of three articles by M. L. Ramsay, a Washington correspondent of Universal Service, revealing extensive lobby activities of the Power Trust hitherto undisclosed, along with revelations of apparent effort to "water" the stock involved in construction of hydro-electric plants by the Alabama Power Company adding millions to its "cost."

By M. L. RAMSAY.
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—An attempt of the Alabama Power Company to write $9,876,500 of stock, allegedly "water," into the "cost" of Alabama hydro-electric plants, was revealed today.

Behind the company's claim is a hundred-fold increase of share capital, swelling capitalization overnight by 9,900 per cent effected in a merger 16 years ago.

The financing of the company's Mitchell Dam project, of which this stock deal became a part, admittedly was to become a precedent for the financing of other projects throughout the country.

These facts are shown in Alabama Public Service Commission records of a cost and valuation study made in co-operation with the Federal Power Commission. The records have been examined by Universal Service at the Alabama commission's offices.

If the company's attempt succeeds, the $9,876,500 will become part of the price the Federal government or the state must pay if either takes over the company's plants in future under the right of recapture contained in the Federal Water Power Act.

AFFECTS RATES

The sum will also be an important element in determining rates consumers must pay for current from the plants as they are privately owned.

The water power that creates this current was given to the company free under long-term leases, by the Federal and state governments. Ten years of Washington lobbying devoted to enacting the Federal legislation effecting this gift, and assuring its "reasonable" administration after enactment, was paid for in part by the Alabama Power Company.

The cost of the lobbying is being charged up to taxpayers and ratepayers, like the stock, as part of the claimed cost of the power plants.

In the 1913 merger five embryonic power companies, owning half a dozen prospective power sites and rights for their development, were bundled together to form a single company.

All five of the old companies together were capitalized at only $99,500. The merger company—described by President Hugh White, of the Alabama commission as "the same corporate entity" as the Alabama Power Company, one of the five merged—at once issued $9,975,000 of stock.

STOCK BOOSTED

The merger agreement gave the impression that the new stock was issued to shareholders of the merged companies in payment for their properties. The portion to be received by shareholders of the pre-merger Alabama Power Company was set down as $7,000,000. In its case this meant an exchange of stock in the ratio of 1,400 shares for one.

Other records indicate that four of the old companies were bought cheaply before the merger, and that all of the new stock went to a newly formed holding company, sponsored by the merger promoters. One such record is a memorandum by Lamar Aldridge, Alabama Power Company treasurer.

His memorandum and the merger agreement were tersely contrasted in an expression of opinion given at the Alabama commission's invitation by William V. King, chief accountant of the Federal Power Commission. King wrote:

"The inference to be drawn from the agreement is that the stocks of the new corporation was issued to the holders of stocks of the old corporation, but we read that 'the stock issued through this consolidation found its way to Alabama Traction Light and Power Company, Ltd., a holding company.'

"At another place it is said that 'substantial considerations were paid to the promoters, bankers and others for their services during the years 1912 and 1913, for their part in the development of the properties.'

SUM NOT PAID

"Nowhere in the memorandum is it stated or alleged that the properties cost $9,975,000, or that any individual or corporation paid out that amount or anything approaching that amount, or that any services were performed having any such value.

"In my opinion the Federal Water Power Act was intended to prevent just such 'valuations' and inflations as apparently resulted from the consolidation in 1913, and so far as I am individually concerned I do not expect to approve the item of $3,500,000 or any part of it until the company in good faith turns over to representatives of the commissions for inspection all of the books, papers and records of the old companies.

The $3,500,000 referred to is that portion of the $9,975,000 stock issue which was charged to Mitchell Dam, and hence is specifically at issue now.

When the commissions sought the records of the companies figuring in the merger, the power company reported that those of the holding concern were "in

POWER TRUST'S PADDED COSTS REVEALED

Montreal." President White served notice that his commission wanted them "whether they are in the United States, or in England, or Australia, or elsewhere." He is now awaiting results.

In defense of the $9,975,000 cost claim the company submitted general statements that money had been spent for development that was not recorded on the books of the old companies, and that the merged properties together were worth more than the same properties separately.

RELY ON CLAUSE

Its main reliance, however, was a clause in the merger agreement stating that the parties agreed that the shares and assets of the old companies had the same value as the new stock to be issued. The commissions, it was asserted, can not go behind this.

President Thomas W. Martin, of the Alabama Company, declared that in the agreement the parties "expressed to the world" that "the reasonable value of the property that came in was $9,975,000."

"Now that is their declaration," he said. "They violated no law, no morals, no nothing. They had a right to make the trade."

Even assuming that the hundred-fold increase of capitalization over-valued the porperties, said Perry W. Turner, Alabama company counsel, the parties affirmed the disputed value in good faith and it must be accepted as the cost.

"There is no one who can question it," he added, "unless there was actual fraud in connection with it."

Turner admitted that all those who affirmed the value were interested parties.

USERS MUST PAY

"You're not taking the position here that the rate payers in Alabama are to be controlled by the value set on this stock when it comes to paying rates?" White demanded.

Turner replied:

"Absolutely and unqualifiedly, that is my position, Mr. President, because that is a matter that has to be determined by the directors and stockholders."

The Power Commission's accounting division has nevertheless elminiated the stock as part of the cost of Mitchell Dam. The commission itself thus far has taken no action at all.

The Alabama Commission has deferred decision, with White indicating that the stock will be eliminated unless far more conclusive evidence is submitted that it represented a real money value.

The claimed cost of Mitchell Dam was $10,989,233. Of this the Federal Commission accountants have allowed about $5,800,000. Action of about $1,600,000 has been deferred, pending possible proof that it represents real and legitimate cost.

Dear Santa Claus:

I always hang my stockings up on Christmas Eve but somebody gets up ahead of me and puts them on, leaving me with a pair with a hole in the top and bottom and anyt'ing you may have left me falls right through to the floor and is devoured by the chimney sweeps or whoever hangs around the mantelpiece on Christmas Eve. This time please send me a ball-bearing velocipede so that I can get from the studio to the front office with greater speed.

Yout firm believer,
JIM HUGHES.

MAKE IT HAY. Bill Hay is the WMAQ announcer for Amos and Andy and not Bill Hague. Hague is a Chicago announcer but has never been heard on the Amos and Andy program which is being announced temporarily by Sen Kaney during Bill Hay's illness.

Eighty-two letters received by the NBC following the appearance of a great soprano incognito did not guess her identity. Ten thought she was Galli-Curci; four were sure she was Geraldine Farrar; three named her as Mme. Frances Alda and three others guessed she was Maria Jeritza.

Our own guess was that of Mme Frances Alda, but the woman turned out to be Mme. Luella Melius, coloratura soprano. Who'd you guess?

Thanks to E. G. for "The World That Was" by John G. Bowman. A very fine book, delightful reading.

TODAY'S TID BIT:

When it is not convenient to have a ticker in the studio because of the noise, the announcer giving stock market reports and football scores always has an assistant outside who signals him by an ingenious finger code.

"Senator's Daughter."

"The Senator's Daughter" has to do with the comical and tragic situations arising from a Senator's family in Washington, D. C., some years ago. The presentation is plentifully sprinkled with excitement, romance and pathos. There is a duel between two of the principals while hoffers one of the many high spots in the drama.

RIFFLES SUED OVER ATTACK

David T. Riffle, contractor, of Cora Forbes street, and his son, Harold D. Riffle, were alleged to have beaten Joseph E. McCausland of East Liberty, in a suit by McCausland in Common Pleas Court asking $10,000 damages for injuries. McCausland alleged that while driving along Gibbon street May 31 last, a blockade occurred when the Riffle automobile, driven by the father, approached from the opposite direction, with other cars parked on both sides of the narrow street.

McCausland averred that when he motioned to Riffle to pass to an open space on the left, an argument arose and the elder Riffle left his car and attacked him.

McCausland alleged that when he got out of his car, the son joined in the attack and both knocked him to the street. McCausland said he suffered a broken nose and other serious injuries and was unable to work for a long time.

65 PIANOS LOANED FREE

Sixty-five Pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments) will be placed in homes of Pittsburgh and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. We have discontinued eight of our large branch stores, and are placing these instruments in our "Frederick's Annex," located at 915 Liberty Avenue. Instead of storing and holding these pianos for the regular price, we are going to slaughter the prices and take our loss now. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. We do not wish to place our instruments in storage and all Pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Positively No Charge For Anything

No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

Saved Money is More Valuable

Harry Dangerfield

Secretary and Treasurer Reymer & Brothers, Inc

IT is important in any walk of life to be financially ready for opportunity and to adequately provide for exigencies and misfortunes that may arise. Saved money is more valuable than the money we spend from day to day without a definite purpose. The approach of Christmas provides a good example. Those people who have been regularly laying aside certain sums in a Christmas Savings Club will receive a welcome Check, representing Saved Money, with which to do Christmas shopping. Every young man and young woman should have a Savings Account and plan to establish financial security.

Mr. Harry Dangerfield, Secretary and Treasurer of Reymer & Brothers, Inc., has had experience in many fields and is well able to speak about the value of Saving. After finishing school and serving an enlistment in the Naval Reserves, Mr. Dangerfield started to work for Reymer & Brothers, Inc. His business interests have been closely connected with the development of that Company and with its growth in recent years to include modern Tea Room service, as well as Fountain service and Candy, in many of its prominent stores. Mr. Dangerfield went to France with the Y.M.C.A., during the World War. He is a Director of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

As Mr. Dangerfield says, "Saved money is more important than the money we spend from day to day without a definite purpose." And that is exactly what the Union Savings Bank is endeavoring to show in presenting these editorials by Pittsburgh's leading business and professional men.

The Club Department of the Union Savings Bank is especially valuable at this time of the year. The 1930 Christmas Club, now open, will help you get ready for next Christmas. It has many different classes with payments as low as 25c per week. Ask about it.

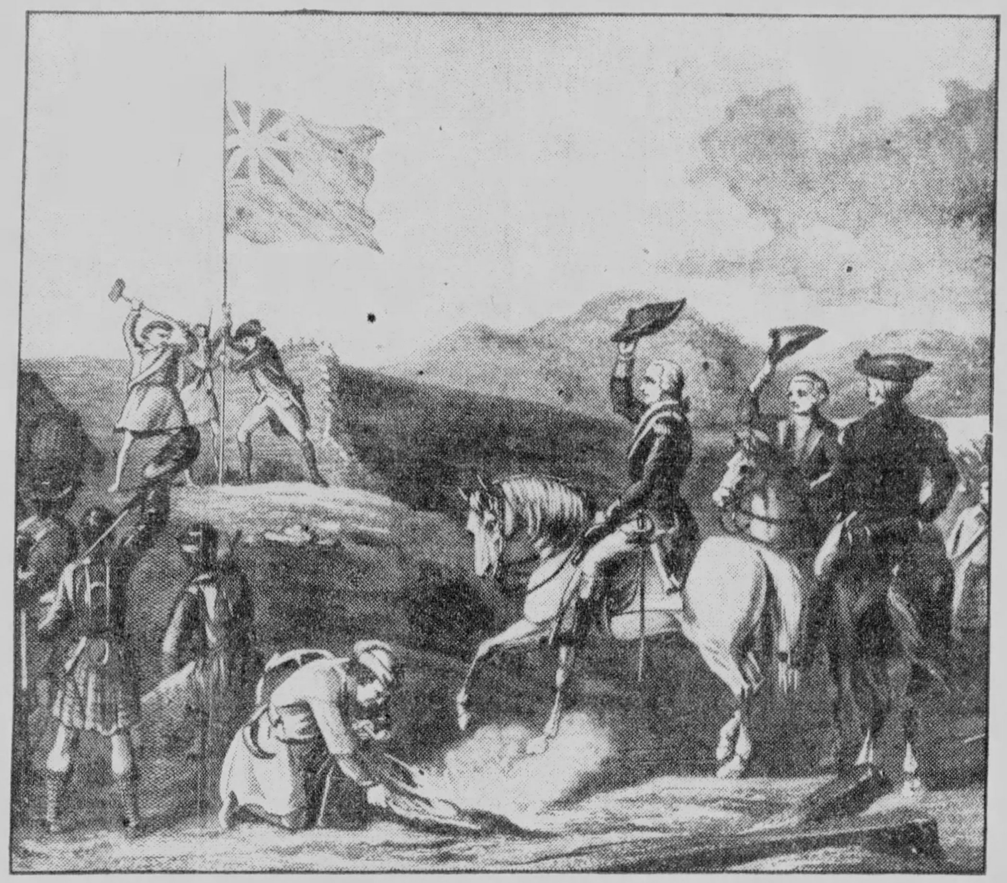
Pennsylvania inaugurates THE DUQUESNE



Washington raising the British flag over Fort Duquesne, 1758. Fort Duquesne figured in the severest fighting of the French and Indian War. About this strategic site the City of Pittsburgh grew. In dedicating its new flyer to this historic fort, the Pennsylvania Railroad is expressing once more its admiration for the towering metropolis of today.

New Afternoon Flyer to PHILADELPHIA

LV. PITTSBURGH 2.15 P.M. · AR. PHILADELPHIA 10.15 P.M.

"PITTSBURGH PROMOTES PROGRESS"... The Pennsylvania is proud of the part it has been privileged to play in the development of Pittsburgh. In naming its new fast train after the historic Fort Duquesne, the Pennsylvania intends a tribute to that staunch pioneering spirit which laid the foundations for the metropolis of today.

The Duquesne will be inaugurated December 15th. It will accomplish its daily trip in each direction between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia in just 8 hours. This means that you can leave either terminal after luncheon at 2.15 and arrive that evening at 10.15.

The Duquesne carries parlor cars—diner—coaches. It seems destined—by the speed and convenience of its service—to become one of the most popular of the endless chain of Pennsylvania flyers connecting Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Now . . . over 2 hours faster to St. Louis . . . Effective December 15th, the Pennsylvania will make other improvements in its service. Leaving Pittsburgh at 7.25 P. M., you will arrive in St. Louis at 8.35 the next morning . . . over two hours faster; also to Louisville via Indianapolis — arriving Louisville 7.20 A. M.

30 minutes faster to Boston and New York . . . The New Englander will leave at 3.40 in the afternoon, running on a schedule half an hour faster.

WRITER'S DEATH LAID TO RUM

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—An autopsy performed by Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, established alcoholism as the cause of the death on Sunday of James Farrell, 27-year-old novelist, and son of John D. Farrell, president of the Union Pacific Railroad.

An artist friend, Leslie Thomas, who took Farrell to Flower Hospital two hours before the young man died, said Farrell had been suffering from heart trouble and was overworking. He said the two of them had been working on a serial.

R. C. A. TO NAME ITS OWN PRICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Owen D. Young, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, has refused to give the government a voice in fixing the price at which the Corporation's communications business shall go into the projected monopoly of All-American cable, radio and telegraph systems.

"I would not permit the government to say how much the International Telephone and Telephone Corporation was to pay the Radio Corporation for its properties," Young told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. "Obviously I could not permit anyone to do that."

He was willing, he said, to have the government fix the rate base afterward.

Thanks to Jury Too Profuse, Says Judge

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 11.—When George H. Marshall, driver for a Pittsburgh transfer company, was acquitted of the charge of running away from an accident, he thanked the jury so profusely he was admonished by Judge James M. Galbreath to be less demonstrative.

The charge against Marshall was made by J. H. Simpson, of Greenville, who testified that Marshall forced him to leave the highway. Marshall told the jury that he did not know anything about an accident until he was overtaken by Simpson.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dog-tired, but the minute you hit the pillow all sleepiness vanishes. If you do sleep at all, it's only in snatches and you wake out of these "stupors" with a strange, startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you a rag, gaunt and hollow-eyed and barely able to crawl out of bed.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid upsets digestion and causes acid-indigestion with gas and heartburn. It causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal which frequently results in ragged nerves, sleeplessness, loggy days and general loss of strength and vitality.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany. As an acid corrective it begins where milk of magnesia and bicarbonate of soda leave off. This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but which may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen! Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-day Acid Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day test. Get a bottle of Magnesia Oxoids from Dow Drug Co., or any other druggist, on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Mark the change in your physical condition—note how much sound and restful your sleep and how much cheerful and active your days. If you don't sleep better and have more "pep" and power, return the balance of the Magnesia Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund your money.

NUMBER 7 OF A SERIES

Parents:

Do you want to teach your children THRIFT?

Do you want them to get ahead in the world? To become prosperous and independent citizens?

One of our sixteen "Prosperity Handbooks" is entitled "How to teach the Child Thrift." It is written to help parents guide their children in the sensible handling of money. Good money habits, formed in youth, are the foundation of success in life.

In this fast moving age children get little instruction in thrift. The trend is too much toward extravagance. Parents often wonder how to checkmate the tendencies which threaten the future well-being of their children.

While we desire to supply our own parent-depositors first with this helpful "How to" Handbook, any parent in Pittsburgh may apply for a copy at Window Number 7 in the Bank lobby. This is one of sixteen "How to" Handbooks available to our depositors and friends. Apply at same Window for a descriptive list.

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"My despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? . . . happily the day came and I found the right road to Health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments.

Did you know that every cubic millimeter of the normal, healthy person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles? They are the tiny red particles which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to the cells of the body. Rich, red blood wards off disease. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

S.S.S. is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs, gathered at the proper season of the year. It gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yourself again. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

MUSIC

Boston Women's Orchestra
AND Ethel Leginska

SYRIA MOSQUE

PROGRAM.
Overture to "The Meistersingers of Nuremberg" ..... Wagner
Symphony No. 8, B Minor (Unfinished) ..... Schubert
Hungarian Fantasy ..... Liszt
Played and Conducted by Ethel Leginska.
Nursery Rhyme for Orchestra....Leginska
Old King Cole.
Symphonic Poem, "Les Preludes". Liszt

Ethel Leginska and her Boston Women's Symphony Orchestra provided much entertainment for a grand assembly at Syria Mosque last night. We were all curious about many things; would Leginska actually appear, could she compose for orchestra, could she lead so large a group of women? Our minds are now at rest.

Fred Lissfelt

Her program was sure hit. And yet she drew unexpected tone and some beautiful effects from her orchestra of about 50. With this number of players in mind, the Schubert symphony was a fine choice, and here Leginska's efforts were duly rewarded. There is no gainsaying the fact that she is an excellent musician. But she is a better showman. Not since Creatore and Eva Tanguay have we been distracted by such pantomime. Leginska's interpretations are not often in the playing, but always in her gesture. As a consequence when a work is finished, one remembers having watched a very graceful woman, and, on second thought, having heard a bit of music, too.

We may pass by her jingling "Old King Cole" to her piano playing. As a pianist her dynamic personality has always shown to best advantage, and her musicianship come to the fore. To sit a while at the instrument playing dazzling passages, and then suddenly to rise to conduct and toss the arms as if throwing a baseball over the fence and out is not art, and we were not the least intrigued, only annoyed that she should not consider her music better and give it a dignified reading. Had her company not played so well, the whole concert would have savored of the circus.

Great praise is due the brass section and the woodwinds for accuracy that fails many another more prominent band. There were encores, a graceful reading of Weber's "Invitation to Dance," Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Flight of the Bee," and by the time "Peer Gynt" began we were wishing Leginska had sat down to her piano and played us a Beethoven Sonata as beautifully as she did some twenty years ago.

J. FRED LISSFELT.

Studios and Local Theaters Yield Breezy Notes About Screen and Stage

REPORT RUSSIAN PRINCE, NOW FILM PLAYER, MAY MARRY CATHERINE DALE OWEN

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyrighted, 1929, by Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11.

ON OR about in January or February, Hollywood will broadcast another flick wedding. At least it will if present plans don't go haywire in the interim.

The principals of this particular wedding are to be Catherine Dale Owen and Prince Vicca Troubetsky. Miss Owen is the blond beaut who heroined for Jack Gilbert in "His Glorious Night" and is now emoting in "Such Men Are Dangerous," the Elinor Glyn yarn, featuring Warner Baxter.

Pola Negri

When Pola Negri first came to Flickburg, Troubetsky appeared opposite her in several pictures. There were even active rumblings of an engagement. Then he faded from the film horizon. Of late, however, he has been playing bit parts here and there.

Unbeknownst to this bureau, Troubetsky met an extra on one such set. Love at second sight. Marriage. All very quiet. The Troubetskys are now getting a divorce. Also quietly. He will be free around the first of the year, at which time Miss Owen will become Princess Troubetsky. And she a Louisville, Ky., girl.

Either before or after the wedding, Troubetsky intends going to Russia to visit his family. It has been years since he has seen them. Mayhap the trip will be a honeymoon.

Con Conrad, the song writer, had a chance to go stakey. But he prefers the bars and Hollywood to the grease paint and Chicago. Sam Harris, stage producer, wired and offered him the leading role of the song writer in the musical comedy hit, "June Moon." Conrad reckoned as No-No.

Had he accepted the engagement, he would have opened in Chicago a few days after Christmas (or is it before?). Also opening at the same time in "Let Us Be Gay" is Francine Larrimore, his former wife. What a chance for ex-opposition! Another good yarn shoved into the discard.

Swimming Pool Makes You Actor

Speaking of song writers, ye scribe chanced to overhear without intention a coupla real estate men discussing a Beverly Hills home. Seems a song writer purchased said home for approximately $90,000. He has fallen on bad times and needs must clear out with at least a few cents. It's a great day for realtors when a guy is willing to sock five-figured cash into a house and lot.

John Gilbert

Appros of realtors, when a prospect enters such an office, the salesman inquires what business he is in. If he replies motion pictures, the salesman promptly lopes off every house on his available list that has a swimming pool. You gotta prove you're in the movies by having a swimming pool. According to local realtors.

'Resurrection' As Music Film

Howard Emmett Rogers is a writer. And how. Having dialogued Dolores Rel Rio's outloud, "The Bad One," he has been given a two-year contract that calls for him to make eight pictures for United Artists. His first will be "Sea Dogs," featuring Louis Wolheim. And the lucky fellow gets to go East for the holidays!

A table of actors and writers at the Brown Derby, headed by Frank Fay, was discussing Shakespeare. Frank came right out and said: "Douglas Fairbanks is doing more to keep the name of Shakspeare alive than anybody else." And he mentioned in "Taming of the Shrew!" subsequently, the Derby directors, proceeding along an indigo plot line of at-

Douglas Fairbanks

Douglas Fairban tack, wrote Frank a letter, the like of which one would print at his or her asterisk peril, requesting him never to show again at that restaurant. Fun?

"Resurrection." The Tolstoi drama, is to reach the screen as a musical offering. A reputed comedian asked the producer—so the story goes—who would play the love interest. "You," beamed the producer. And when the ambulance arrived, it was almost too late.

Eddie Quillan's dad is Scotch. He has known Sir Harry Lauder for many years. When the Quillan family was making personal appearances in town with Eddie's picture, "The Sophmore," Sir Harry was also here. Eddie rushed back stage to tell his dad Sir Harry was sitting in a box over at the Orpheum theater.

"Get away with that stuff," scoffed Dad Quillan. "This is Sunday. The Orpheum stopped giving passes on Sunday long ago!"

And—That's all.

Treasurer

George Jankura, whose face has long been familiar to those who do business at the box-offices of downtown theaters, recently assumed the position of treasurer of the Enright. He formerly was in the Nixon and Davis.

Church to Hold Monthly Meeting

The monthly church night gathering of the Emsworth Presbyterian Church will be held tomorrow night under auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. A pageant, "The Spirit of Christmas," will be presented.

$1,000 VOTED FOR YULE TREE

A resolution transferring $1,000 to the Mayor's contingent fund to pay the cost of building a Christmas tree in the loggia of the City-County Building has been affirmed by Council.

Charles Anderson remarked that he was not opposed to the idea but believed the cost of the decorations should be kept within the appropriation.

"If he needs $1,000 or $5,000 and Council gives it to him, the city should not be asked later to give more because the costs ran higher than was expected," Anderson said.

On motion of W. Y. English, an amendment was added to the resolution that stated the tree should be erected at a "cost not to exceed $1,000."

BARRYMORE, 'VANITIES' COMING

Ethel Barrymore will be seen in the Shubert Alvin in repertoire for two weeks beginning on Monday, December 23, following her Chicago engagement. G. Martinez Sierra's, "The Kingdom of God," will be acted Christmas week, and Lili Hatvany's "The Love Duel," will be given the following week, opening December 30. The public seat sale opens next Monday in the Alvin box office.

Monday, December 16, the seat sale opens at the box office of the Nixon for "Earl Carroll Vanities," the attraction Christmas week, beginning Monday evening, December 23, with matinees Wednesday (Christmas Day) and Saturday. W. C. Fields will be starred and Dorothy Britton, "Miss Universe," will play an important part.

Stage history records few plays having the endurance qualities of "Sis Hopkins," which the George Sharp Players are preparing for presentation in the Pitt next week. Twenty-five years ago Rose Melville played it for five consecutive seasons, and it has been revived at frequent intervals.

daughter of Mrs. Arthur G. Rotch, of Boston.

NO CLUES LEFT

When their bodies were found last night in the Hotel des Artistes apartment of a friend, Stanley Mortimer, Jr., no clues were found to indicate why, as the police believe, Crosby shot Mrs. Bigelow and then turned his weapon upon himself.

There were no notes of explanation.

There was only the tragic picture of a pretty, young woman with a bullet hole in her left temple, her shoulders on the left arm of a man who clutched a Belgian .25 automatic pistol in his right hand and had a bullet hole in his right temple.

There was to be an autopsy today, but Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, has already described the tragedy as the result of a suicide pact and the police have concurred in this belief.

IN FRIENDS ROOMS

Crosby, with his wife, the former Mrs. Mary Jacob Peabody, daughter of Mrs. William H. Jacob, of Watertown, Conn., registered at the Savoy Plaza Hotel on November 28. Mrs. Bigelow, came here Monday, stopping at the Park avenue home of Miss Margaret Burgess, a school chum.

Crosby asked Mortimer for the use of his apartment yesterday afternoon. When the latter, who had known Crosby for five years both here and in Paris where the dead man maintained his residence, returned late last night he found the door locked. The superintendent of the hotel broke in the door with an ax and the bodies were found.

Mrs. Bigelow had left the Burgess home yesterday in the best of spirits, according to Ward M. Burgess, father of the dead woman's chum.

Her marriage to Bigelow at Old Lyme, Conn., on June 21, last, was an important social event. Bigelow played hockey on Harvard's 1928 varsity team and the youthful couple were thought to be ideally happy. She made her debut two years ago. When she left Boston she planned to stop over here a few days before going to Ardmore, Pa., to visit friends.

Crosby was a veteran of the World War, and was a member of Harvard's track team while a student there.

FORMER BANKER

His mother is the former Henrietta M. Grew, a sister of the late Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan. At the time of his marriage, Crosby was engaged in the banking business. Shortly afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Crosby went to Paris, where they subsequently made their home. They were the proprietors of the Black Sun Press on Rue Cardinale, Paris, which published works by Joyce and Eugene Jolas, an associate of Crosby on the staff of "transition," described as "an international quarterly for cretive experiment."

Crosby, who had an independent income, at one time explained he made his home in Paris because "in America the stars are all suffocated inside" and because he preferred "Perihelion to Aphelion."

PREFERRED PARIS TO U. S.

Among other reasons he gave were that "by living outside of America, New York can still remain for me the city of a thousand and one nights," and that "rivers of suicide are more inviting than the prairies of prosperity."

Mortimer, in whose apartment the shooting took place, is a portrait painter, a Princeton graduate and a member of the exclusive clubs in New York.

Quarrel Over Dog Ends Marital Bliss

Married for 26 years, it took a dog to dispell the connubial bliss that has marked their union, Mr. and Mrs. John Downing, 55, of Hemlock street, told Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Morals Court today.

"I told my wife I'd take the dog for an airing," the husband testified. "My wife said 'no!' I said 'yes!' and my wife called the police."

They were discharged. They're going to keep the dog.

THOUGHT CASE WAS HOPELESS; KONJOLA WINS

Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism Speedily Ended —Six Bottles Bring Glorious Relief

Daily there pour in to the Konjola Men in Pittsburgh countless amazing indorsements of Konjola from men and women who had abandoned hope of ever being well again and who found glorious health through this super-remedy.

MR. EPHRAIM MORROW

You can get all the facts about Konjola from the Konjola Men. One is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, and the other is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Diamond and Smithfield Streets, Pittsburgh, where daily they are besieged by local people who call to find out what Konjola means to them in their search for health. Konjola was not designed to bring mere temporary relief, but to restore new, glorious and lasting health, just as it did in the case of Mr. Ephraim Morrow, Gibsonia, Pa., near Pittsburgh, who called on the Konjola Man a few days ago and made this astounding statement:

"I believed that my case was hopeless but Konjola restored me to glorious health and I am only too glad to indorse it to all who suffer as I did. For years I was afflicted with stomach and kidney troubles and rheumatism. In fact, I was a total wreck. I had abandoned hope. The aches and pains throughout my body were almost unbearable. Meals ceased to be a pleasure and I found it impossible to sleep soundly at night. Daily I grew worse and when everything I tried failed to benefit me I became discouraged and disgusted.

"I was inclined to scoff at the idea of Konjola benefiting me. But my friends insisted that I give it a trial, stating that they knew it was what I needed. Finally I consented to try it. I secured six bottles and by the time I finished them I realized that this was the medicine I should have had in the first place. Konjola had done all that was claimed for it. I took four more bottles and at the end of that time I felt twenty years younger. My ailments are gone. I can hardly realize that I ever suffered from rheumatism or stomach and kidney trouble. To have health again is a wonderful thing and I owe all of mine to Konjola."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such hazardous ingredients—its ... is to work.

U. S. PRISONERS OVERCROWD JAIL HERE

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

THE story probably wouldn't mean much if it weren't true. But it is.

A prominent Pittsburgh woman of philanthropic nature was attending the services of a Negro congregation in which she was interested. A Negro passed a hat for the collection. The woman gave $5. Polite, the Negro whispered, "How much change do you want, Madam?"

Frank Jacobs was in bad humor. Here was the opening of the deer season and he couldn't hunt. His job at the emergency airport at Kennerdell, near Clarion, kept him at the post every minute, especially with fliers searching for the lost mail pilot.

Ever since he was tall enough to hold a shotgun Frank has hunted. He would rather hunt than, if we must be original, eat.

He was ruminating on his tough luck when, in the brush alongside the field, a slowly-moving object appeared. Frank saw antlers. He grabbed his shotgun, and fired. The antlers fell. Frank had a deer.

This story should at least console those persons who complain of having to work 24 hours a day.

IN strictest confidence we have a report from a young man who reveals that he always hops nimbly over the fifth and seventh steps of the stairway in his home. He does this because the fifth and seventh steps squeak under pressure, and he has no desire to arouse, as the saying goes, the rest of the house.

What we would like to see is a complete report of the squeaking steps in Pittsburgh. Which steps in what houses squeak? What happens after a step squeaks? What did the Society for the Prevention of Squeaking Steps do to remedy this condition in 1929?

These questions deserve answers. If Mayor Kline wants to do something big in his second term he will appoint a commission to answer them. If one commission isn't enough, then, Mister Mayor, why not two commissions?

Tom, the steeplejack, has been arrested 76 times by actual count for drunkenness. More often than not he is discharged because he plays upon the good nature of the magistrate. Yesterday, in Central Police Court, he was feeling chipper.

"How old are you?" Magistrate Thomas D. Jones cross-examined.

"Well, Your Honor," Tom confessed, "I've had the seven-year itch four times and I was 18 when it started. "Figure it out yourself."

Tom was discharged.

Michael and Frances Snyder, of the South Side, and their son, Anthony, were awarded $5,000 damages in a verdict in Common Pleas Court in their suit against the Penn Liberty Refining Company. They asked damages for injuries to the boy, suffered May 10, 1928, when he was struck by a truck of defendant corporation at Carson and South Twenty-sixth streets.

YOUTH TELLS OF COUNTY HOLDUPS

Police Say They Now Have Four of Six Boy Bandits Raiding Stores, Gas Stations

Martin Delach, 19, of Beadling, arrested by city detectives here for the state police, told Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Morals Court today that he is one of the three youths responsible for numerous robberies and stickups throughout Allegheny and Washington counties.

He implicated Raymond Bridge, 19, of Mt. Washington, and a youth he knows as "Smitty." Delach has also described the hold-up of the Canonsburg garage when he and his companions kidnaped a constable and two guards.

Three of Delach's companions, arrested after a wild chase by a state policeman and a Washington constable early Monday, were reported to have confessed and implicated Delach.

Those under arrest in Washington gave their names as Vincent Novak, 22, of Canonsburg, and Emmitt O'Hara, 21. They were held without bail in Washington last night on five charges of robbery.

RAIDED STORES

Police say the four are members of a gang of six who have terrorized chain stores and gasoline stations in the two counties during the last two months.

Novak, O'Hara and Bridge were arrested by Corp. H. C. Johnson, of the state police, and Constable W. H. Hamilton, after a chase of several miles, when their automobile ran off the road and down a 20-foot embankment into Chartiers Creek at Heidelberg at 2:30 a. m. Monday. The race was marked by an exchange of shots. Delach, alleged driver, escaped.

GET CONFESSIONS

State police last night said that the men under arrest in Washington confessed to a series of robberies, some in the Pittsburgh district. One was in a grocery store in West View, when they lined up seven persons, stole $50 from the cash register and escaped in a stolen automobile. Another was the Payton filling station in Castle Shannon, held up on the night of November 23, where $30 was obtained, and the manager at the station was kidnapped and carried several miles into the country.

Delach, state police said, last summer escaped from the Canonsburg jail. Later he was captured and sent to Morganza, and escaped twice from that institution. Bridge, they say, is the only one of the four who has not served time in Morganza.

Headquarters of the gang, police said they told them, was maintained at the home of a sister of one of the men on Mt. Washington.

The judges will be Dr. W. H. Edwids, Dr. S. O. Cherry and Attorney Theron B. Hamilton. Howard Coleman will be chairman of the evening and Miss Essie Gilmore will introduce the speakers. Mrs. E. J. Tyler is president of the union.

Aid Will Hold Christmas Dinner

A Christmas dinner and bazar will be held tomorrow night by the Ladies' Aid Society of the North End Methodist Episcopal Church, Bon Vue street, in the church social rooms. Dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m.

Soost Re-employs Workhouse Painter

"What do you do for a living?" Magistrate W. J. Soost asked Lee Snyder, of North Lang avenue, in East End Police Court today when he was arraigned on a charge of drunkenness after having been discharged from the Workhouse on the completion of a 30-day sentence on a similiar charge.

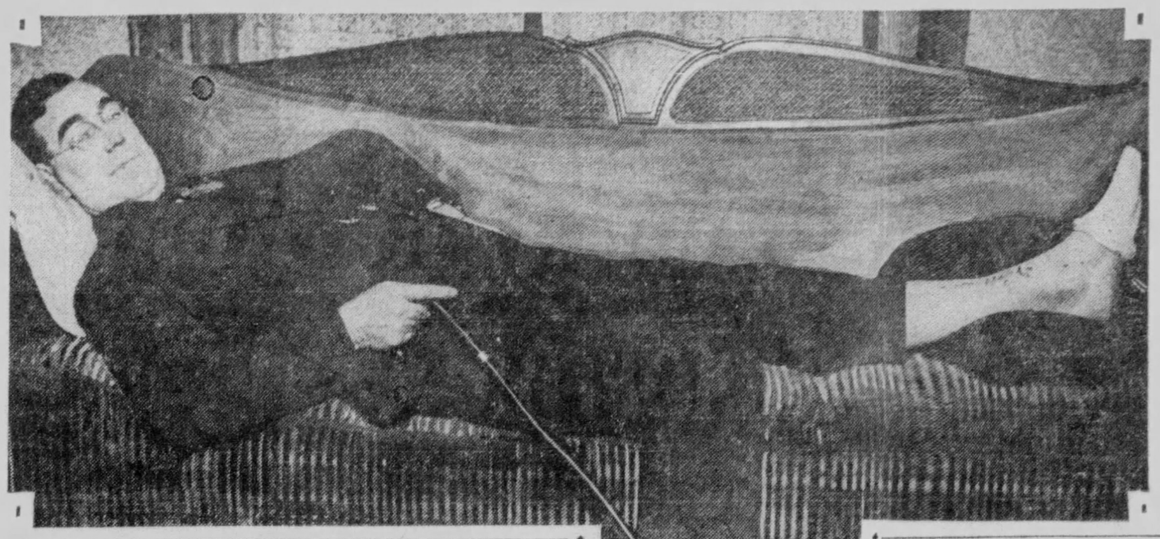
"I'm a painter," Snyder replied.

"Well, where do you work?"

"Why, I've been working at the Workhouse."

"Oh, all right," quoth the judge, "we'll employ you for 30 days more."

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY AND HIS SPRAINED ANKLE



WILL DISBURSES $325,000

The will of Mrs. Mary G. McClintock, widow, who died in Williamstown, Mass., November 23, filed for probate today, disposes of an estate valued at $325,000 in personal property and a one-sixth interest, unestimated in value, in various downtown properties.

The bulk of the estate is divided into two equal parts, one of which goes to her son, Abraham G. McClintock. The other part is shared equally by three children of a deceased son, Walter L., Mary G. and Marjorie. Their mother, Mrs. Mary F. McClintock, is to receive the interest until the children are 25, when they are given the principal. The testator's jewelry goes to two daughters-in-law and three granddaughters.

The Peoples Pittsburgh Trust Company and Abraham G. McClintock are named co-executors.

'CURE' FAILURE, ASKS $50,000

Garnet Parsons, of Punxsutawney, filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Allen B. Ross, of Beaver Falls, asking $50,000 damages for permanent injuries alleged caused by his naturopathic treatment and operation upon her. Plaintiff averred she was suffering from sciatic neuritis and called upon Ross for treatment.

Without an X-ray and by merely feeling down her back, he diagnosed her trouble, recommended an operation and promised to cure her trouble in four or five days, she alleged. After the operation in October, 1928, she grew worse, and as a result of his twisting her left leg, it is shorter than the other, while she is permanently confined to her home and must use crutches, the suit alleged.

POLICE SEEKING FIREBUGS

Three alleged incendiary garage fires in the vicinity of Brookline boulevard and Castlegate avenue, started a police investigation today.

Saturday night firemen extinguished a blaze in the garage and storehouse of S. H. Holden, a roofer, in an alley in the rear of No. 57 Engine Company, police said. A few minutes later a fire was discovered in the garage of J. G. Dooley, several hundred feet from the scene of the first blaze.

Gasoline had been sprinkled about the outside woodwork of the Dooley garage, according to firemen.

Last night a woman reported that she had seen a man pile rubbish about the door of another garage owned by Dooley, police and firemen said. He set fire to it and fled. A few minutes later the outer woodwork of the garage was ablaze.

Boy, 6, Fatally Hurt By Truck

Ronald Allen, 6, of 1608 Sarah street, was killed late yesterday when he was struck by a truck driven by Charles B. Cox, who resides near Mercer, police reported.

The boy, a pupil in the first grade of St. John's Catholic School, at South Fourteenth and Sarah street, was on his way home from the school. The accident occurred near his home. Cox was arrested.

695 JAMMED IN CELLS FOR 640

Warden McNeil Makes Appeal For Help; Judges Prepare To Act to Relieve Chaos

Allegheny County's jail is overcrowded, Warden John B. McNeil announced today.

Influx of federal prisoners the last few weeks at the rate of 15 to 20 a day, to serve terms of 30 days to six months, is responsible, the warden declared.

Warden McNeil has petitioned James E. Routley, assistant clerk of the county commissioners' office, for an emergency appropriation of 400 extra blankets to care for the prisoners.

JUDGES TO CONFER

Meanwhile a conference is scheduled, it is said, between county and federal jurists, in an effort to bring order out of chaos.

Accommodations at the jail provide for 640 male prisoners. At present there are 695 there, in addition to 46 women.

The only solution, according to the warden, is for the county to refuse to accept any more federal prisoners. Cells are so small that "doubling-up" the prisoners would be a hardship on jail officials and prisoners as well, it is declared.

FOOD ALSO PROBLEM

Another problem of feeding the men and women also is presented, and extra kitchen equipment has been installed.

The jail has been filled to capacity the last several months, mostly with prisoners sentenced through the county Criminal Courts, and the federal prisoners have aggravated the situation.

JAPANESE SEES PLANTS HERE

Pittsburgh has been a lodestone for Baron Yasushi Togo, member of the Japanese House of Peers, and international wireless expert. Although he has been in the United States twice before, Togo has never been able to reach Pittsburgh during his journeys.

The baron has just accomplished his desire to see the "great industrial city of America," as he calls it. Here on a vacation, he stopped over in Pittsburgh for the first time.

"I am not surprised. I visioned it almost as it is," he says. "It is so misty—I did not see much. But I have seen Westinghouse, and the great American Bridge Works at Ambridge. They are huge, immense. I would have liked to know Carnegie and the other steel kings.

"The enterprises are quite familiar to a Japanese. We have them, not so large, maybe, but still more modern equipment. But everyone should visit them here, first, perhaps, after New York."

Baron Togo is not doing business on this trip to the United States. He explained, however, that he is carefully observing American methods of wireless communication. As director of the International Wireless Company of Japan, he says he has inspected wireless methods in all of the large countries of the world. The United States, he claims, has by far the most elaborate, advanced and practical system of communication in the world.

Baron Togo stopped at the Schenley Hotel.

"I have only observed your University from the doorstep, but I think it must be a wonderful institution," he said. "It is the mixture of huge industrial projects with great educational aspirations that makes Pittsburgh what it is today."

Ham, Shoes, Cash Loot Taken By Thugs

One hold-up man today is sporting a new pair of shoes. He and two others who held up Arthur Webster, 2329 Wylie avenue, are also one ham and $43 to the good since the transaction.

Webster was stopped on his way home from work. Three Negroes barred his way at the corner of Wylie avenue and Chauncey street. Three revolvers glistened in the dusk.

He did not argue. One of his molesters, he says, is 6 feet tall and weighs at least 200 pounds. The shoes were too small for the largest of the three, Webster thinks, but the ham was "no slouch."

BOMBS WRECK TWO TROLLEYS

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—After a months intermission of such violence, two street cars were dynamited late last night. Two Negroes were injured in the blast, believed to have been set off by street car strike sympathizers.

The explosions occurred only a few minutes apart, and were caused by the cars rolling over improvised bombs laid between the rails on two lines not far apart in the upper residential section of the city. The flooring of the first car blasted was ripped up, the drive wheel and front truck broken and windows shattered. No one was injured.

There were 20 passengers on the second car. Two passengers, both Negroes, received minor injuries.

Superintendent of Police Theodore A. Ray ordered that suspects arrested in connection with last night's explosions be charged not only with violation of the federal injunction protecting the trolley company's property, but also with violation of a state act that provides the death penalty for such violence.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's Question: Do you think we will ever have International Peace?

Lillian Taylor

MISS LILLIAN TAYLOR, Homewood, bookkeeper: "I doubt it. I think we will always have some wars. Man isn't made to be peaceful. Jealously between nations causes war and that will always be in our midst."

Isabel Burnett

ISABEL BURNETT, Crafton Heights, multigraph operator: "I don't think we ever will have permanent international peace. There's a certain class of selfish people who will insist on and encourage war whenever they feel it will do them good."

MISS MARIE AYMER, North Side, cashier: "No. Big money won't let us have international peace. The big interests will always fight to preserve their properties or to make money. The steel companies showed that when they hired Shearer to break up the Geneva conference. Munition trusts, manufacturing firms, and bankers won't let us have peace until we take the profit out of war, and they won't let us take the profit out of war."

Marie Aymer

I. J. FITZGERALD, Hazelwood, "Santa Claus:" "I don't think so. We've had agitation for it for years, and the agitation gets louder all the time. So we must be farther from it than before. The old bayonet and rifle used to rule the world. Now we have poison gasses and explosives that will wipe out a whole city in half an hour. A small nation, with modern methods of making war, can rule big nations now. The nations stand one against the other, now. The white race is getting weak, the yellow race powerful, and we'll have war between them before very long, I guess. No, I don't think we'll ever have international peace, my friend."

I. J. Fitzgerald

J. W. BENNINGTON, North Side, leather worker: "It's hard to tell. We've been fighting for such a long time. I'd like to see it. It would be a good thing. Capital often causes war. American capital invested in England caused our recent war with Germany. Capital invested in Haitian companies is at the root of our trouble there now. I bitterly oppose our men going abroad to be killed off by thousands, too."

J. W. Bennington

MISS DOLORES FRIEDMAN, Squirrel Hill, secretary: "No, I don't think international peace is possible. Some of the countries are too ignorant to realize that war means self-destruction. Killing another person doesn't solve a question. Questions are solved in the mind, not by armed conflict."

Dolores Friedman

Deserted Wife Sues Kin Of Mate for $25,000

Alleging her brother-in-law alienated the affections of her husband and induced him to abandon her, Mrs. Anna B. West, of 2646 Veteran street, North Side, asked $25,000 damages of Col. C. O. West, of Lost Creek, W. Va., the brother-in-law, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court.

She averred she married C. W. West April 6, 1921, and that he deserted her without justification and without support on February 1, 1929, going to Oklahoma, as the result of Col. West's persuasion. Mrs. West alleged that Col. West induced her husband to transfer title to his properties to him to deprive her of her rights.

On a visit to them in August, 1926, Col. West informed her husband that he should not have married a woman of her age, but should have married some one older, Mrs. West alleged. She said that Col. West declared it was her intention to get her husband's money and spend it with others.

Gil Robb Wilson

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 11.—

When Mr. Morrow went to Mexico just two years ago, every paper doubted his future, and was even fearful for his life. Now he is going to the Senate and nobody offers one word of warning.

The worst that can happen in Mexico is you can be shot, and the exact day of your passing from public life is known to all, but in the Senate (if you are not lucky), you are continually passing to the cemetery with not even your own family knowing the exact date of your demise.

Of course, I can understand his alibi will be, "it was either return to Wall street or the Senate, and I picked the lesser of the two evils."

One of his sad constituents,
Yours, WILL.

BUSINESS MEN ASKED TO HELP AVERT TAX INCREASE

GARLAND CALLS CONFERENCE ON BUDGET

Department Requests Mean 2 Mill Boost Unless Pared: Cut in Expenses Necessary

Council will grant a hearing at 10 a. m. tomorrow for a public discussion of methods for operating the city without increasing taxes next year.

Robert Garland, chairman of Council's budget committee has invited to the hearing members of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board and the Building Owners and Managers Association, who asked to be heard, and also members of other commercial and civic groups.

Mayor Kline and his department heads also were invited.

WATER PLANT PURCHASE

On motion of W. Y. English, Council today called on City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt for an opinion as to the advisability of appraising the plant of the South Pittsburgh Water Company with a view to purchase.

English asserted that the city with an estimated revenue of $1,600,000 from water service next year would have to pay the South Pittsburgh company $500,000. Every year hence the city's bill from the company increased. He predicted that in the interest of economy the city would take the company's property over within five years.

Council tentatively approved numerous requests from department heads.

FUNDS APPROVED

Major items were: Safety department, $6,683,629, including $3,202,222 for the police bureau and $2,760,000 for the fire bureau; public works, $6,989,952; public welfare, $1,056,311; public health, $2,702,324, including $1,750,000 for garbage and rubbish disposal and $125,000 deficit in this year's account for that activity.

An item in the health department's request of $24,000 for the distribution of free milk prompted Garland to ask, "I wonder if milk is given to families that can well afford to pay for it?"

English said, "I guess there is a little skullduggery."

COAL MINING COST

Charles Anderson remarked that an estimated expense of $44,657 for mining coal on the property of the Mayview Home and Hospital for the use of the institution represented a higher cost than was paid for coal bought for the water pumping stations throughout the city.

Garland, presiding at the first budget session yesterday, remarked that taxes for next year would have to be raised more than 2 mills to pay expenses as represented by department requests of $27,533,350.

Chief Thomas C. McMahon, of the board of assessors, reported that valuations for next year would total $575,702,320 on land and $584,700,610 on buildings.

W. Y. English discussed abolishing the municipal garage and saving most of an estimated expense of $171,000. He called attention to an item of $47,000 for gasoline and declared fuel for police and fire bureau motor equipment did not cost so much.

8 MONTHS OLD, "PICKS" DAD'S POCKET

City detectives investigating a complaint that former U. S. District Attorney Van Kirk, Perrysville avenue, had had his pocket picked of a watch and chain valued at $560, found that the "loot" was back of the crib of Warren, Jr., aged eight months. Little Warren "snitched" the watch, it seems, from the vest pocket of his father as his father amused him.

MILLION SLASH OR TAX RAISE IN COUNTY

One Mill Increase Certain Unless Commissioners Cut Budget; Blame Bond Debt

Unless the County Commissioners succeed in paring $1,000,000 from the 1930 budget, a mill increase in county taxation is a certainty, as shown by the budget. This increase will be necessary to cover the increase in the bonded indebtedness occasioned by the carrying charges for the $43,000,000 bond issue of 1928.

The probable increase in county taxes was predicted when the bond issue was offered to the people two years ago. At that time part of the improvement program campaign was the statement that its passage meant approximately one mill additional taxation.

AWAIT ARMSTRONG

The budget has been printed and delivered to Controller Robert G. Whiteside. He said yesterday that everything is ready to start hearings, as soon as Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong is able to be back on the job. Armstrong has been ill for more than a week and is said to be recovering slowly.

Allegheny County's valuation is $137,412,153 higher than it was last year, the budget shows. Estimated requirements for 1930 are $20,527,950.43 against $19,628,738.51 for 1929. The increase is the bonded indebtedness carrying charge. It represents approximately one mill in taxation.

In the new budget the Juvenile Court and the Juvenile Court Detention Home are set up individually. Heretofore these two accounts have been carried in one budget set-up.

TAX SUMS LISTED

Provision is made for both paper balloting and voting machines in the conduct of elections code.

The general county tax, as shown in the budget, totals: $8,835,365; the park tax, $747,169.50; road tax, $2,919,144.88, and the bond interest tax, $7,830,878.33.

The county valuation shown in the budget are $1,889,848,310.00 for real estate and occupation valuation, and $700,650,500.00 for personal property.

Theater Party Arranged In Teachers' Quest

A second big theater party has been announced for East Liberty children. The party will be free to boys and girls taking part in East Liberty's search for the city's most popular teachers.

Pupils of Pittsburgh parochial, private and public schools will be entertained at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Sheridan Square Theater. "Rio Rita," the film version of Ziegfeld's musical comedy success, has been held over for the party.

J. O. Hooley, manager of the theater, said that the earnestness of the search has impressed him. "I feel that those who are trying to find East Liberty's most popular teacher should be helped in every way. I only trust that my share in this undertaking will be helpful."

The campaign is being followed out by authorized East Liberty merchants. They are asking every school in the city to vote for the teacher he likes best.

Any teacher who has one vote cast for him or her is automatically nominated. Votes may be obtained from any authorized East Liberty merchant with each 10-cent purchase made at their stores.

The 15 teachers with the most votes in their respective grades will be awarded valuable Philco radio sets as Christmas gifts.

The campaign has not long to run now, closing Christmas Eve. The votes will be counted and radios awarded the day after Christmas in some large East Liberty theater.

Charles Burke, 30, no home, who decided to "end it all" yesterday by leaping from the Seventh Street Bridge, told Magistrate T. D. Jones in Central Police Court, he didn't remember anything of his attempted leap, and went to the workhouse for five days in lieu of a $5 fine.

WOMAN JAILED AS PICKPOCKET

Pittsburgh's mystery woman, arrested in a downtown store Monday, was remanded to jail for five days so she may have time to determine her correct name and address.

Detective Inspector Frank R. Boyd and Detectives Edward Harkins and William Sullivan told Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Morals Court she has given them numerous names and addresses and that they want to find out just who she is. Boyd said she answers the description of the woman pickpocket responsible for the theft of cash and pocketbooks in downtown stores Monday.

Questioned by Rothenberg, the woman said she is Agnes Baker, 27, of Perry street, Punxsutawney. She said she had been working for a sister in Newton Falls, O.

Detectives said they found $32 in her vanity case and search in the matron's department revealed $103 in her stockings, it was said. She told Rothenberg she earned the money working for her sister at $4 a week.

PIANO SCHOOL ENLISTS 100

With nearly 100 pupils already enrolled, the Wurlitzer Foundation Piano School is rapidly getting under way. The school is functioning in Pittsburgh under the auspices of the Sun-Telegraph.

Teaching in this school is entirely by modern methods. Instead of learning to play the piano by learning the individual keys first, the keys are learned by playing simple melodies. The slow, mechanical lessons have been done away with.

The course lasts three months. During this time, there is nothing for the student to pay, after he has paid for his music and keyboard, which cost $2.50. The keyboard is used instead of a piano, to prevent early confusion from the chords.

The Sun-Telegraph has made it possible for any Pittsburgher to take this course. By obtaining three new 26-week subscriptions to the Sun-Telegraph from your neighbors, you can be enrolled for the entire course.

BRERETON AVE. FIRE ROUTS 11

Eleven persons were driven to the street when fire was discovered in the grocery of Alex Huminski, on the first floor of a three-story building at 3041 Brereton avenue, at 5:30 a. m. today.

Huminski and his eight motherless children reside on the second floor. He was awakened by Teddy, 9, who called to him that the house was burning. The father, with his daughter, Anna, 21, and sons Joseph, 19, and Frank, 17, carried Teddy and Alex, Jr., 5; Adelaide, 4, and Zigmund, 2, to the street. They then awakened Mr. and Mrs. Frank Przebieraski, living on the third floor, who made their escape through smoke-filled hallways.

Firemen found the store a mass of flames. More than two hours were required to extinguish the blaze. Battalion Chief John Callahan estimated loss to the building and store at $3,500.

The fire was discovered by J. Pawlak, manager of a store across the street, who sounded an alarm.

When Mrs. Agnes Hayden of 335 Taylor street, Bloomfield, who told detectives she had been attacked and robbed, returns home, she is going to get an old-fashioned whipping," even if she is 19 and married," her mother, Mrs. Blanche Reckhouse told Inspector Frank Boyd today.

The girl, being held in St. Francis hospital for observation, yesterday told detectives she had gone for a ride with a boy friend and that three bandits had held them up and attacked her.

Today she told Detectives Frank Morgan and Frank Conley that there was just one bandit. And detectives said they have learned that the attack and robbery never occurred.

CHILD CUSTODY ASKED BY PAIR

Oliver J. Cooper and Jennie E. Cooper, his wife, of 329 Marshall avenue, North Side, procured a writ of habeas corpus in Common Pleas Court, seeking to regain custody of Jean Stanger, 7, now in the possession of her father, William B. Stanger. The child was in their care from November 1, 1926, the Coopers averred, having been placed with them by her parents.

The child's mother, Mrs. Inez Stanger, died in March, 1927, and the Coopers agreed with Stanger to care for Jean they alleged.

On December 7, 1927, Stanger forcibly took possession of Jean while she was attending school, in violation of the agreement, the bill alleged. The Coopers averred they are able and willing to properly care for the child, that they are very much attached to her and that it will be for her best interest that she be given them.

The jury returned the verdict in Criminal Court before Visiting Judge William T. Darr, of Jefferson County, two hours after Druitt had testified that Grace Luke had lunged at him with what he thought was an ice pick, crying that she would kill him. He said he shot her in self-defense. That was on September 22. She died September 24.

27,000 SIGN PETITION FOR CLOSING OF HAYS STREET

SCHOOL BOARD FILES ANSWER TO PROTESTS

Davidson, Aaron Assert Residents Favor Athletic Field for Peabody High

Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of the Board of Public Education, has presented to Council a petition with 27,000 signers, urging the closing of Hays street from Beatty street to Highland avenue, to provide additional area for an athletic field for Peabody High School.

The signers were residents of the neighborhood, business and professional men with offices in the immediate vicinity of the school, members of the faculty and students of Peabody High School, according to Dr. Davidson.

Many of the signatures were obtained by students who circulated petitions.

A letter from Dr. Davidson to President of Council James F. Malone, stated in part:

"I am sure you will agree that these figures speak for themselves and reveal in overwhelming numbers the insistent demand by people of the Peabody High School district for the construction of this particular athletic field which can be made possible only through the favorable action of yourself and City Council for the vacation of Hays street."

HEARING HELD

Council held a public hearing last week on the proposed closing of Hays street and listened to objections from numerous property owners in the school neighborhood.

No action has been taken by Council and it is probable that legislation for the proposed closing will be kept on the table at last until a new Council is organized on January 6.

The recent hearing was reviewed in a letter forwarded to Council yesterday by Marcus Aaron, president of the Board of Public Education, who urged the street closing. It stated in part:

"I seem to have offended the manager of the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce by my remarks at the hearing before Council last Wednesday. He protested that his organization appeared not in the interest of a group of property owners, but to protect the rights of the traveling public of this nation, including presumably, residents of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico."

"BATTLES FOR MASSES"

Aaron referred evidently to Pat J. Flood and declared that the latter had intimated that the school board was tyrannical and arrogant and interested only in the classes while his organization was "battling righteously on behalf of the masses."

Aaron traced the history of the relinquishing of the Wainwright property in favor of the Lockhart property with the mutual consent of committees from Council and the school board.

"If there is any doubt in Council's mind concerning the state of public opinion on this question, we will be glad to secure a meeting in such numbers as to require Forbes Field or the Stadium to properly receive the crowd," Aaron declared.

COURT REJECTS DRY EVIDENCE

The "adoption" of a liquor case by government prohibition agents after the alleged contraband was seized in a home by, and is in the custody of state officers, was outlawed in an opinion handed down by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker.

The court held that the alleged contraband, some wine and a wine vat, could not be held as evidence against Fortunato Facciani, Croyle Township, Cambria County, and ordered it suppressed. On July 13 a constable and state police under the authority of a state warrant entered the home.

Prohibition agents who were operating in the vicinity were called into the home and the wine and vat turned over to them. Facciani petitioned the court for the suppression.

Judge Schoonmaker, in his opinion, held that the prohibition agents were without legal authority to enter the home and assume charge of the seized goods without a federal search warrant.

SCHILPP'S HOME ROBBED

Burglars entered the home of Deputy City Controller John Schilpp, Jr., 1215 Pemberton street, last night, while the family was at a party, and escaped with a diamond bar pin valued at $275 and $6 cash, police reported today.

When Schilpp, his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. S. Schwartz, returned home from the South Hills, early today, Mrs. Schilpp heard a door bang as her husband was putting his automobile in the garage, she said. She believes it was caused by the burglars leaving by the front door.

Mrs. Schilpp and her mother found the upstairs ransacked. They ran downstairs, summoned police and refused to permit Schilpp to investigate.

Officers found that dresser drawers in Mrs. Schilpp's room and her mother's had been strewn on the floor. A box of old-fashioned jewelry, belonging to Mrs. Schwartz, had been discarded.

The bar pin and purse containing the money were taken from the top of a dresser in Mrs. Schilpp's room. Entrance was gained from the roof of the front porch by jimmying a window, police found.

TOOHEY SCORES TROOP CALL

Characterizing the action of Gov. Louis Emmerson in sending troops into the Illinois strike zone as "open strike-breaking," Pat H. Toohey, secretary-treasurer of the National Miners Union, which is conducting the strike, sent a telegram voicing his protest. The telegram follows:

"The National Miners Union, now leading the fight of the Illinois coal miners for the six-hour day, higher wages and the smashing of the corrupt Lewis and Fishwich machines, unequivocally condemns your action in dispatching infantry, cavalry and machine gun units to the Illinois strike zone. This can only be characterized as an act of open strike-breaking against the Illinois miners in their bitter struggle against the employers. It is clear that your action serves only the purpose of giving direct assistance to the coal operators and is an attempt to prevent the spread of the strike now sweeping throughout the state.

"We are not surprised at your action. We do, however, take this opportunity to point out to the workers of Illinois that you have once more revealed your true function as guardian of the interests of the employers. Despite your act, the heroic struggle of the Illinois miners under the leadership of the militant National Miners Union, will spread throughout the entire state. We are confident that the unity of the rank and file miners led by the NMU will guide the exploited and betrayed coal miners to victory."

TILE MAKERS MEET HERE

Standardization of classifications in floor and wall tiles was one of the chief topics before the annual meeting today of the Tile Manufacturers' Association in session at the William Penn Hotel.

19TH WARD VOTE BOX MISSING

A search was on today for the ballot box of the Seventeenth district of the Nineteenth Ward, containing the ballots cast for city and county offices in the primary election. The box was ordered before the special recount board yesterday and persons who were sent to bring it in were unable to find it.

Paul R. McKeever, of the recount board, opened a box believed to be that of the district yesterday and found that it contained nothing but the police and firemen referendum ballots. The sheriff's office was then asked about the box and attaches at the sheriff's office said they never had the box.

Deputy Sheriff Anthony Tola, who had charge of more than 400 boxes impounded by the sheriff, was called and he said he had never been given custody of the box. Tola immediately communicated with Alderman Patrick Cawley, of the Nineteenth Ward, and Cawley informed him, Tola said, that both the box containing the referendum ballots and the other ballots cast at the primaries, had been turned over to James E. Routley, chief clerk in the county commissioners' office. Cawley, also stated, Tola said, that he had receipts for both boxes.

Routley, when asked about the boxes, stated he had given them both to Tola. After all parties concerned had been questioned and the box was still missing, Sheriff Robert H. Braun declared that he would conduct a thorough investigation today. Routley believes the box is somewhere in the sheriff's office and can be found with more searching.

"Tiddliewinks is now basketball for me," said the charming 16-year-old Gladys Santimyer, who looked as radiant as if she were a pajama-clad figure at Palm Beach, instead of a patient at the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh.

While chatting with Gladys, one almost wrote Gladness, it seemed incredible that she had been exiled for 13 months from all the joyous activities of her youthful inheritance. Her smile became suddenly poignant, "Gee, how I missed the bowling, swimming, dancing, and most of all the basketball—when life stopped.

Penelope Redd.

"My father and mother were so sad when the doctor told them I had tuberculosis that I pretended I was not afraid. Gee, when my sister left me at the Tuberculosis League, my heart went with her.

YIELDS TO DESPAIR

"Then my fear was a little forgotten in my curiosity to understand all the machines in the laboratories needed to help us.

"Next homesickness came. In the dark winter's end. I thought I could never get used to the rigid rules which I knew were necessary for recovery.

"Night after night I would lie with the distant city's sounds borne up to me on the cold air. I could not sleep for thinking of the slowness of time's passing while my old crowd's active life went on jazzing. I could not dance, I could not even sing—I could only laugh.

"Gradually, I learned to participate in life through reading. I had never really read before in all my busy life. So it happened, that I found a way to live where I choose in the company of the world's great adventurers within the quiet covers of their books."

Asked as to her future plans, Gladys said: "Well, when I get back to school, I'll at least, be the manager of the basket ball team. I shall have to plan some work less strenuous than my old-time ambition to be a physical training teacher. Here at the Tuberculosis League, I have learned many things that will help protect my future health," she concluded.

ONE OF THOUSANDS

Gladys is only one of thousands of young women and men between the ages of 15 and 25 years old whose health the National Tuberculosis Association is trying to salvage. The tuberculosis rate has been lowered in all other age groups while it has increased in that of the generation now maturing.

The Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh depends upon the Christmas seals and their purchase by the citizens of Allegheny County to carry out its program of the prevention and cure of tuberculosis in this district.

MARKET DIPS UNDER SELLING PRESSURE

Shares Flounder as Trade Turns Irregular; General Business Tone Favorable

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.) — The stock market floundered about in a rather erratic manner again today. Prices headed upward in the early trading under the leadership of the public utilities and the oils, but turned irregular later when selling pressure was renewed against U. S. Steel common. General Electric and some of the other recent leaders. Trading, while somewhat larger in volume than yesterday, continued to be of a highly professional character.

Business news was more favorable in tone. The Iron Age Review stated that while December will be a poor month both in shipments and production, sentiment in the iron and steel industry has improved and nowhere are there signs of a general paralysis in trade such as developed after other stock market panics. Foreign sales of copper yesterday were reported to be the largest in three months. Some disappointment was shown in the sharp falling off in freight car loadings during Thanksgiving week, but this was attributed in part to the holiday.

DIVIDENDS FAVORABLE

Dividend developments were largely favorable. The annual payments on the common and preferred stocks of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company were increased from $4 to $5, but the common sold off sharply on the announcement, presumably because many traders had expected a stock splitup. Otis Elevator scored an extreme gain of 13 points on the announcement of a 4 for 1 stock splitup.

U. S. Steel common, after touching 182¾ during the morning, sold off to 178¼ in the early afternoon. General Electric dipped 5 points below last night's close and Westinghouse Electric 2¾. International Harvester, Johns Manville and Radio also turned soft in the early afternoon trading.

PHILA. CO. SOARS

Philadelphia Company was the spectacular feature in the public utility group, soaring 34 points to 224, jumping several points between sales. Standard Gas and Electric was marked up 9¼. American Water Works 8¼. Electric Power and Light 6. Detroit Edison 5, Federal Light and Traction 4½ and Peoples Gas 4¼, but many of these gains were cut down in the afternoon selling. Buying of the utilities was based on reports of steadily expanding electrical output and the belief that the increased dividend rate on Public Service of New Jersey was the forerunner of other special distributions.

Oils enjoyed a temporary period of strength under the leadership of Houston. Mexican Seaboard and Simms Petroleum, which advanced 2 to 5 points. The demand for these issues was stimulated by the drop in crude oil production last week, and the prospects of further trade development.

RAILS MAKE GAIN

Gains of 10 to 13¼ points took place in several ordinarily inactive rails, including Wheelig and Lake Erie common and preferred, New York and Harlem and Pittsburgh and West Virginia. Wabash led the active group with a gain of 5¼ points. Wall Street heard today that reports of early dividend inauguration. St. Paul preferred was inactive, as it was stated in banking and railroad circles that no payment is likely for at least six months.

Texas Corporation Brings in Gusher

The Texas Corporation has completed its Fee No. 3 well in Fort Bend County, Texas, which flowed at the rate of 12,000 barrels of 29 gravity oil daily. The new producer is the farthest one east on the Big Creek Salt Dome, and is about 60 miles southwest of Houston.

Freight Loadings Lower for Week

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. — Loading of revenue freight for the week ended November 30 totaled 837,107 cars, the American Railway Association announced. Owing to the observance of Thanksgiving Day, this was a reduction of 113,173 cars under the preceding week and 63,449 cars under the corresponding week in 1928.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP.) Bar silver 22⅝d per ounce. Money, 4½ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 4 13-16@4⅝ per cent; three months, 4 13-16 per cent.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The Curb Market was again dull and aimless today. Several leading issues were well supported, but failed to make sustained headway, and sagging tendencies were common throughout the list. Operations appeared to represent primarily a cautious feeling among professional traders.

Electric Bond and Share and American and Foreign Power warrants were fairly firm, selling up a couple of points, and Hydro Electric securities and American Gas and Electric were again inclined to move higher. Standard Power and Light shot up more than 8 points, while Commonwealth Edison lost nearly as much. Duke Power dropped about 8 points, then rebounded.

Oils failed to respond to the satisfactory crude production figures for last week, and interest centered on initial transactions in the new Standard Oil export preferred stock, which has been offered in exchange for the Anglo-American shares. The stock sold initially at 97½, then sagged to 97. Anglo-American voting shares were in good demand around 17. Other oils, including Cities Service, generally moved in narrow ranges. Humble dropped nearly 2 points, then rallied.

Investment Trusts were largely steady. Goldman Sachs sagged a point during the morning, while Shenandoah preferred sold up about a point. Lehman Corporation was firm.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

Corporation Era Displaces Capitalist Era

By B. C. FORBES

THE era of the [illegible] giving [illegible] the corporation.

Money [illegible] becoming [illegible] ment.

There is [illegible] the fact that the [illegible] and the public [illegible] attention to the [illegible] of an Owen D. Young, a Henry Ford, an A. P. Sloan, a Charles M. Schwab, a Sa[illegible] than to those [illegible] or bankers.

Will the [illegible] and business [illegible] coming into [illegible] prove fit to solve the problems their colossal corporations are creating?

THE creation of a new billion-dollar enterprise creates new problems of correspondingly magnitude. These problems are social rather than financial. Money has become so plentiful in this rich young nation that it is easy for men of established reputation for ability to raise all the capital necessary for even the most ambitious projects. In the last five years upwards of $40,000,000,000 per securities of one kind or another, and for one purpose or another, have been successfully floated in the United States, a total never even remotely approached by any other nation in times of peace.

It might almost be said that the problems of running billion-dollar enterprises at a profit has also been mastered by the managerial geniuses who have come to the front in recent times.

BUT it cannot be said that these same geniuses have yet demonstrated their ability to solve successfully the human, the employment, the social prolems their huge-scale activities have begotten.

IT IS not sufficient to satisfy stockholders.

Workers must be satisfied.
Consumers must be satisfied.
The public must be satisfied.

And since there are more workers, more consumers and more members of the general public than there are stockholders, the will of these larger groups will finally prevail.

HIGH-SALARIED executives who are too engrossed in their duties to find time to rub shoulders with rank-and-file workers are living in a fool's paradise if they imagine that there is little or no dissatisfaction among workers concerning the existing industrial—corporation—order. The problem calling most urgently for attention is that relating to employment—and unemployment, especially the latter.

VISIT almost any industrial center. Talk freely with wage earners, and you hear very bitter complaints concerning the practices of corporations in the matter of dropping workers without warning and in large numbers whenever the notion enters the head of the higher-ups to do so. No longer since than last week I found that kind of talk extremely prevalent in Detroit. This, that and the next automobile company was freely damned for having laid off workers by the thousand.

WHEN industry and business were conducted on a small scale the owner usually felt a sense of personal responsibility for the well-being of his workfolks. It was usual rather than unusual for the head of a business to do everything within his power to tide over his workers when the lean times came.

Workers now discharged by corporations too often have the feeling that the bosses are concerned only about making money and making a fine showing for themselves, and that they do not give a rap about what becomes of the discharged workers and their families, whether they can find other employment or whether they and their families starve.

Can you and I blame many workmen for feeling as they do?

THE most momentous economic problem confronting this commonwealth is that of steady employment.

BY THEIR billion-dollar consolidations and by their other large-scale ambitions and operations, modern industrialists have destroyed the old-time intimate relations between employer and employed. They have created an entirely new social as well as economic order, an order which has failed to function to the satisfaction of the many men and women who have fared poorly under its operation.

Having evolved this new problem, will those responsible for it prove capable of solving it?

SURELY it is industry's responsibility to look after its own. Britain plans to pay out in "doles" to unemployed more than $600,000,000 during the coming year. We have at this moment probably as many unemployed as there are in Britain. Shall the problem of dealing with unemployed be accepted by American industry, or shall the task be relegated, by default, to our politicians and a system of governmental "doles" be instituted throughout this country?

THIS is the supreme test facing American management now in the saddle.

SABATH VIEWS ON TRADING UNSOUND

Illinois Congressman's Plan To Curb 'Bears' Not Successful in Germany

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.

Doubtless intending to meet the popular demand to stop bull markets, Representative Sabath (Dem.), of Illinois, has introduced a bill in Congress to penalize wicked bears.

Under [illegible] Government [illegible] through taxation would [illegible] the [illegible] of whether the speculator [illegible] to be bullish or bearish, the [illegible] would [illegible] short [illegible] the world [illegible] a speculator [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] modern [illegible] and [illegible] stocks [illegible] and [illegible] trade. The purpose of the [illegible] would be to [illegible] factors for the action of the market. The real object would be to intervene in the speculative affairs in behalf of the Democratic party.

The [illegible] members of the [illegible] Chief Justice Marshall that the power of tax is the power to destroy.

BLAMES PROFESSIONALS

By implication, the [illegible] gives official sanction to the irresponsible notion that the late October-early November debacle in Wall Street represented nothing more than a conspiracy on the part of professional bears. Such wild-spread searching for specific causes of the crash overlook the obvious explanation that the seeds for the collapse were inevitably sowed in the earlier extravagant and in many instances unwarranted bidding up of security prices.

For purposes of the proposed law, short sales are defined as those made by a seller who has neither ownership or possessory actual or constructive, at the time of such sale.

As a matter of fact, numerous close students of the stock market are of the opinion that the violence of the crash was intensified by the fact that short selling was subnormal in volume during the earlier months of closing episodes in the prolonged bull market. To serve as an economic stabilizer short selling should be timed to come when the public has gone to excess on the buying side. This year, the bears to an exceptional extent, remembering past losses, seemed unduly reluctant to put out lines of stock until the crash. They then helped along the decline, adding perhaps to the sale velocity at a time when the public had already gone to excesses on the selling side.

The impetus for the rally in recent weeks came to a large extent from short covering.

TEMPERANCE NEEDED

The real need is not to abolish short selling, but to make the bears, as well as the bulls, shrewder and more temperate. It is doubtful whether this reform can be achieved by legislative fiat. In seeking to abolish short selling, the representative from Illinois makes the age-long mistake of confusing symptoms with cause.

Representative Sabath gives voice to the widespread popular superstition that the bear is an enemy of society. Pity the poor bear! He may win a great fortune. That is problematical, but it is certain that he will arouse popular wrath.

The bear speculator, or short seller, thrives on mass superstitions and mistakes. He disbelieves that the trees of prosperity can grow without interruption up to the skies. He takes the position that even good stocks sometimes sell above their intrinsic values. He hopes to profit by deflating unreasonable public hopes.

The German Exchange act of 1896, anticipating Representative Sabath, abolished short selling, and also marginal trading. The reform brought new abuses, and was repealed.

GERMANY FAILED

The late Henry Crosby Emery, Yale economist, who was the leading American authority on the German legislative experiment, concluded:

"The prohibiting of short selling took away the factor of balance and allowed the bull influences to go on unchecked till the inevitable crash came. The effect on prices was greatly to increase the size of price fluctuations."

The present market situation is another reminder that it is safer to buy good stock during times of urgent public selling than on rallies.

The passing of William Peter Hamilton, editor of the Wall Street Journal, removes one of the street's most colorful figures. He retained the personal helloeasy which was common to an earlier generation of journalists. He loathed ambiguity, and was always for a proposition or against it. He never rested on the fence. He treated those who differed from him with literary violence. But those who knew him best regarded him as a gentleman and a scholar. Of Scotch extraction, he got his early newspaper training with the English press, diversifying his experience as a traveling foreign correspondent. He had been on the Wall Street Journal for 30 years. He realized his ambition to become editorial writer as a result of his persistent and telling editorial articles. Before a single one was accepted for publication 200 were rejected.

Speculators Disappointed With Westinghouse Dividend Boost

THE [illegible] West[illegible] Electric [illegible] the [illegible] announcement of the [illegible] annual [illegible] of [illegible] dividends [illegible] disappointed [illegible] speculative [illegible] with [illegible] the outcome of the [illegible] year and the stock [illegible] offline as [illegible] high [illegible] for [illegible] showed a sharp [illegible] on the news of the [illegible] of the rate to $4 a share from the $4 [illegible] payable in effect. Expectations [illegible] extra [illegible] for late [illegible] plump of the stock might be expected, and perhaps [illegible] the absence of any indication of a move in that direction which was the reason for disappointment. Earnings for the year [illegible] estimated will run around $10 a share as compared with $7.05 a share last year after allowance for priority and participation of the preferred stock.

Railway shares were not visibly affected by the move of the so-called "farm bloc" in the Senate to legislate against the method set up in the Supreme Court's decision in the O'Fallon case last spring for the establishment of railroad valuations. The resolution introduced today in the Senate would make the method used by the Interstate Commerce Commission in fixing the O'Fallon's valuation for rate making and recapture purposes, later upset by the court's ruling, the permanent basis for valuations in all such matters. Wall Street, evidently, was not seriously disturbed by the move regarding it more or less as political in the main.

SINCE many of the leading corporations of the country have recently declared extra cash dividends or increased the rate of annual payments to stockholders, there are those in the financial district who feel that directors of American Smelting and Refining would be justified in taking similar action. It is pointed out that only about 40 per cent of estimated earnings for this year are now being paid in dividends. Within a short time directors are scheduled to meet for action on dividend payable February 1, and in well informed quarters the belief prevails that an increase is in the making.

Record earnings of $15 a share on the common stock of New Haven for the current year, together with the zeal of important interests displayed in taking such offerings as are made, have resulted in the junior issue moving consistently upward since the recent break in the stock market. In addition there is the report that the road will refund that portion of its bonded indebtedness falling due next year by means of a common stock issue. This, of course, indicates that valuable rights might accrue to stockholders.

INCLUDING undivided subsidiary earnings, it is estimated that American Brake Shoe will earn better than $5.50 a share this year. The company has had a steady record of earnings in both good years and bad. While it is known that the equipment companies will profit from the new business to come from the railroads, it is pointed out that American Brake Shoe like the others manufactures important parts used in rolling stock which naturally wear out and their replacement business is no small item.

Practically all of the largest banking houses in New York City were bidders for the $65,000,000 corporate stock and bonds of the city of New York at Wednesday's sale. Total amount of the bids received was $265,553,500. From this the deduction was drawn that there is plenty of money seeking employment in the high grade investment issues. Of course, it is obvious that the appetite of all the houses cannot be satisfied, since there will only be $65,000,000 to go around. Therefore, the surplus funds will have to go elsewhere.

Westinghouse Raises Annual Dividends

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company today increased the annual dividends on the common and preferred stocks from $4 to $5 by declaring quarterly payments of $1.25 on each issue.

This action was taken, it was explained, on the strength of the chairman's report that earnings for the current year would approximate about $10 a share.

The preferred dividend is payable January 15 and the common dividend January 31, both to stockholders of record December 31.

Byers Reports Record Quarterly Earnings

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE A. M. Byers Company reported the greatest earnings in its history in the quarter ended September 30. Net profit was $615,649 or $1.90 a share on the common stock after deducting preferred dividends for the period.

This compared with net profit of $530,199 or $1.59 a share in the previous quarter and with $498,859 in the corresponding quarter of a year ago.

The earnings for the quarter brought the net profit for the fiscal year ended September 30 up to a high record of $1,977,197. After deducting preferred dividends of $429,130 this was equivalent to $5.80 a share on the 266,635 shares of common stock. This compared with $1,577,513 or $5.76 a share on 199,340 shares in the preceding year.

Costs Reduced

THE gains of the year just ended are attributable both to an increased volume of business and to lower costs achieved by the use of a new process for making wrought iron. The company's finished product is wrought iron pipe which sells for a higher price than steel pipe due to its superior resistence to corrosion. Until recently all of the wrought iron used was made by the old high cost method of hand puddling.

Another factor in increased earnings was interest on funds being held in reserve for the organization's $11,000,000 improvement program. This work is nearing completion so that interest received during the present year will not be such an important factor. On the other hand, the latter part of the year will be helped by revenue from the actual operation of the more efficient equipment.

Ambridge Plant

WORK is progressing satisfactorily on the new plant near Ambridge. It is expected that this will be in operation by April 1. Foundations have been laid for most of the machinery and some of the equipment has been installed. The Ambridge plant will make it possible for the company to make all of its own requirements of wrought iron by the new process on a low cost, large scale basis and will also place it in a position to sell wrought iron billets to other organizations.

A new pipe furnace at the South Side works is also being installed. When this work is completed the entire arrangement of the older equipment at this plant will be changed to make possible more efficient operating methods.

Warren Operations

AT THE end of this month the lease on the Warren, O., plant will expire. This plant has been used to produce wrought iron by the new process. An inventory of billets has been accumulated to tide the company over the period between the discontinuance of production at Warren and the completion of the Ambridge plant.

The manufacture of wrought iron at Warren by the new process will be continued by the American Puddled Iron Company which owns the plant. This organization will operate under a license agreement which will further add to Byers' revenue.

No Funded Debt

THE company has been able to finance its expansion program entirely from earnings and the sale of additional common stock. The organization has no funded debt. Annual dividend requirements on the 7 per cent preferred stock are usually more than covered by the earnings of a single quarter. The preferred stock is entitled to share equally with the common stock after each class has received $7 a share in any one year. It also shares equally with the common in any offerings of rights but is callable at $110 a share.

Ford Co. Unaware Of Junkers Suit

DETROIT, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—The Ford Motor Company has disclaimed any knowledge of suits reported pending by the Junkers Airplane Company of Germany, charging patent infringements in the construction of the Ford all-metal planes.

"It's the first we'd heard of it," a Ford official said here. "Presumably any defense which we will be called upon to make will be set up through our Barcelona branch."

SHEET AND TUBE TO MODERNIZE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 11.—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company has taken out a general license for use of the continuous rolling mill patents of the American Rolling Mills Company, marking another step by the company in plans to completely modernize its Youngstown and Chicago district properties. James A. Campbell, president, signed the licensing agreement this week. This is the seventh such agreement made by American Rolling Mills with larger steel companies.

November payroll of $7,375,895 is a reduction of $175,436 from the October distribution, reflecting let-down in steel company activities.

For the first 11 months this year steel companies in the Youngstown district distributed $82,784,544 in wages, against a payroll of $75,532,000 for the same period last year.

STEEL TRADE CONFIDENT

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. The Iron Age market summary says that sentiment in the iron and steel industry has improved and that, although December will be a poor month in shipments and production, no concern is "felt since most consumers are reducing stocks to a minimum preparatory to inventory, and the price situation "holds no incentive for forward buying."

"What has impressed the trade," continues the survey, "is the reassuring manner in which business has reacted to the stock market crash. Apprehension regarding possibilities has given way to manifest satisfaction with what has actually occurred in recent weeks. Railroad orders, shipbuilding contracts, steel fabricating work and specifications from farm equipment makers have been in consistently good volume, apparently unaffected by Wall Street deflation. Nowhere are there signs of a general paralysis of trade such as developed after other stock market panics.

"Steel ingot production has undergone little change since a week ago. The output of Steel Corporation and Bethlehem plants remains at 68 per cent of capacity. At Buffalo and Youngstown production is irregular, probably not averaging much more than 40 per cent.

"The Chicago and Pittsburgh district rates are unchanged at 65 per cent. With the approach of Christmas, output is expected to contract further, since year-end mill suspensions are likely to be longer than usual.

"Not the least among encouraging factors is a betterment in demand for automobile steel. Two of the larger manufacturers have put out inquiries for their first quarter requirements in steel bars."

Daily Average Oil Production Down

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (AP.)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 7,650 barrels for the week ended December 7, totaling 2,630,550 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,931,850 barrels, a decrease of 1,350 barrels.

Detectives Discover That Dog Carried Ransom Money Away

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Mary Patricia Dawn, young and beautiful, is in love with Guy Elliott, handsome aviator. Guy is perfecting a plane which old William Bryce is to manufacture. Pat meets Bryce's widowed daughter-in-law and wonders if Guy is intrigued by Barbara's beauty. Bryce sends Tom Burns, a workman, to jail for attempted robbery. Pat has gay times with Lee Templeton, young college student. Pat's father is stricken with pneumonia and dies. The family considers giving up the big house because of the heavy expenses. Guy, hoping to help the Dawns, tries to urge Bryce to manufacture his plane. He learns the old man has lost a fortune. Mrs. Dawn gives her life savings to Bryce to invest. Guy, fearing Bryce may use the money to cover his own losses, tries to recover it. Bryce reluctantly surrenders the bonds, swearing vengeance on Guy. He discontinues financing the airplane factory, but holds Guy to his contract which prevents another concern from selling Guy's plane. Billie Bryce is kidnaped. The same day a stranger makes off with Guy's plane with Pat in it. Guy disappears, the third person to vanish. Detectives find a few of Billie's hairs in Guy's abandoned automobile. Bryce receives a ransom note saying Billie will die unless $20,000 is paid. Bryce follows instructions given in the note and places the money at a designated spot. The money vanishes is spite of the fact that detectives have been watching the place. The kidnaper, however, fails to return Billie.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXX.

THE man in the brush lay quiet and stared into these glowing eyes. He was so startled he couldn't say what manner of animal looked upon him. He saw only the eyes glowing in the deep shadows a foot or two within the flume's mouth.

The animal pushed noiselessly a step nearer. With a quiver that ran hotly down his nerves the detective made out the brown pointed nose and long, soft ears of a Gordon setter.

He waited. The dog also waited. It stood there motionless, making no more breath than a statue.

But the man's heart thumped excitedly. How did the dog arrive in the flume? Not from this outlet! This outlet had been guarded every moment since 11 o'clock Friday night; since one hour before the ransom had been placed.

Then how did he get in? Was there some other outlet and the dog had entered in pursuit, perhaps, of a cat or a rabbit?

But they had followed the flume five miles along the hillside to the cliff where it began. They found no opening along this five miles.

Yet here the dog stood at the mouth of the flume. Had he run the five miles from its entrance? Why was he here?

Big Tim Chase was almost stifled with the sudden intensity of his emotions. He felt the creator's fervor, the delicious tightening and charge that comes when an answer long sought begins to stir within the thought.

Was he stumbling upon the solution of the mystery? Was the dog the phantom who had stolen the ransom box? What had he done with it? Was it yet within the flume?

Cautiously, he moved nearer, very softly he whistled. Like a flash the animal was gone. Backed and disappearing in the long narrow tunnel.

Tim Chase burned. His blood swept up in a flame. He went to the mouth of the flume and whistled. He had a dog of his own and tried every soft cajolement to lure the unknown animal back. The brown setter didn't respond.

An hour later a dozen men were examining every board along that flume. They guarded the entrance as well as the outlet. The dog would return. The dog might hold the answer.

And at 4 o'clock that Sunday came the kidnaper's promised message.

"You didn't obey orders. You were told not to notify the police. But police guarded that flume. They surrounded it in a tight cordon. It availed nothing. The ransom was taken. But you shall not see your grandson again. He died at 11 o'clock this morning.

"You are his murderer. You love your money better than the child's life. You placed the money there but meant to trap me and get it back. You couldn't bear the thought of losing $20,000. Now bear the thought that you have lost the child!

"He died without pain and without knowing it. I didn't want to hurt him. Such a nice little chap. We got to be good friends. I told him stories at night. I thought for a long while of keeping him. It was too difficult. When he slept this morning I went in and chloroformed him.

"In two weeks from today—mark this well and remember it—you will receive a message as to where he is buried. You can hold his dead body in your arms. If that will comfort you."

The message, as were all the others, was sent to William Bryce. He tried to keep it from the mother. But she followed him about like a shadow. She feared the ringing of the bell, and at his shoulder read the first lines before he crumpled the message.

"Another crank note—don't listen!"

But she had reached out in a white madness and grabbed the sheet, and read it and pitched, without a word, without one outcry, into her father's arms. She lay staring at him, her eyes wild and black in the dead, blanched gray of her face.

"Barbara, it's not from the kidnaper."

"It rings true!"

"No! See the other three were all sent by messenger . . . by Western Union. This is a special delivery letter and sent from Berkeley."

She sprang from him and hurled herself blindly against the wall. She pounded it and called on God.

The three ransom notes were all delivered in the same manner. A rigid check-up finally revealed this:

The first note was brought by a small boy to a telegraph office in Haight street. The boy handed a sealed envelope to the operator. This envelope, addressed to the "Western Union," contained a two-dollar bill, a second sealed envelope and orders to deliver the enclosed message at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon into the hands of William Bryce.

The boy who brought the message was traced. He was a child who lived in the neighborhood. He said that a man had gotten out of an automobile, given him a dollar and told him to run quickly to the telegraph office and deliver the message. Someone was dying. This was all the child could report. He could furnish no description of the man other than that he was tall and thin—"kind of hungry looking."

The second and third ransom notes were delivered at the same time with orders that they be brought to the home of William Bryce at 10 o'clock Friday night and at 12:30 Friday night. The operator in the Mission street telegraph office stated that a man "who looked like a hophead" had tossed the envelope and hurried away before she had a chance to go from her desk to the counter.

The death note, on the other hand, had been mailed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and from a Berkeley post office.

Bryce tried to reassure his daughter-in-law but his own heart turned cold with that message. It did ring true.

He turned it over to the detectives. And he spoke a fear that all along had lain coiled, terribly menacing, in his thought:

"You're sure about Burns, are you?"

"His automobile drove into his garage Friday night at 10:15. He and his wife had been visiting friends. They went into the house. The machine was not removed from that garage until Saturday morning when Burns went to his work. He was there all morning. He didn't get the ransom.

"And today he drove down to Woodside. He's down there picnicking with his wife and another couple. Two hours ago they were sitting at the Spring Valley lakes.

"Lay off, Burns. He's not done this."

The detectives at the flume worked with frenzied zeal. They'd been mocked, made to appear like boobies in all the newspapers. They'd show their stuff.

At 4:30 they had a box as nearly like the ransom box as they could make it, at the mouth of the flume. Close to this was a large quantity of meat.

Tim Chase could have shouted when presently, stealthily there emerged from the shadows the brown setter's head. He made a dive for the bone—saw the box and seized it in his mouth.

Before he had more than sniffed the meat, he was backed down the flume.

Three-quarters of a mile down and within ten yards of a waiting guard, the dog emerged. He went hurtling down the cliff. He had the box in his mouth.

Before anyone could reach him, he had disappeared in the brush.

That night they went to William Bryce.

"Did Elliott have a dog? A brown setter?"

"Yes."

"Well—a brown setter carried the ransom through the flume . . . ."

Better a Few Friends Than a Lot of Playmates, Is Fay's View

By FAY KING

EVERY girl has a right to hope for happiness in life. But there must be some system in seeking the good things of life, inasmuch as there is system in business or running one's home.

A girl must cultivate a sense of values.

The girl who accepts everything and cares only for crowds and a good time rarely ends up with happiness.

The girl who is too selective and expects too much perfection also misses out.

The girl who stands the best chance of finding happiness is one who learns to appreciate worthwhile people and things.

Better to have a few real friends who inspire us than a lot of playmates who really mean little to us.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Arrival of Member of Kenellos Complicates Harry's Job

IT WAS several hours before Harry Underwood came back to the apartment after his theatrical exit, and though Lillian, I knew, was extremely anxious about him, she kept a strictly poker face as she helped me with my preparations for the announcement dinner the next day, and I think no one else of our strangely assorted group save Dicky realized her suspense. But when at last her husband appeared, there was that in her eyes as she looked at him which made me turn my own away quickly, for her loving, loyal soul was mirrored in them, and I felt that the picture was for her husband's eyes alone.

He gave her one swift, flashing glance, his own eyes alight, then nodded, and turned to Dicky who was in our apartment with Lillian and me, while the "romantic international quartet" still clung to the bridge table in the Underwood apartment.

"I told you I'd overlooked a bet," he said, but with a jubilance in his voice which told me that it was no longer hidden from him. "It's a good-looking one, too, in the room on the other side of the hall, but directly opposite the 'tiger trap.'"

"A woman member of the gang?" Dicky said incredulously.

"The same, and a most plausible dame, too," Harry returned. "She completely fooled the hotel people, asking for a room high up at the rear of the house where it would be quiet, because she was a writer, doing a story about New York for a magazine. She had a folding typewriter, n' everything, blew in a few minutes after the man we've been watching came in. We've checked up and found that he telephoned from the pay booth in the drug store immediately after checking in. No doubt he told her the number of his room, and she lost no time in getting here. She was pretty foxy, asked to look at several of the rooms, and picked one on another floor at first. Then she found some fault with it and asked to be changed, finally selecting the one she has now. She's in a mighty strategic position, from the standpoint of the plotters, she's where she can see the door of the 'tiger trap' by leaving her own slightly ajar—and it's been ajar most of the day, and the room's on the fire-escape, so that it can be the emergency exit I prophesied our advance agent of the plotters was preparing."

"Of course we know you've cinched the fact that the lady is a member of the gang," Dicky said, "but for the love of Mike unstrap the brief case and give us a line on how you did it."

"It was very simple," his friend answered. "It took patience. Remember, they're under no suspicion that they're being watched, so they're only taking ordinary precautions. And the house detective and I, from different vantage points watched the supposed writer's door partly ajar until the door of the room next the 'tiger trap' softly opened and the man put his head out making sure that the hall was empty. As far as he could see, there was no one to observe him and he gave a little cough and then came out of his room with some letters in his hands stamped for mailing. She did the same thing and they walked toward the elevator, apparently oblivious of each other. But I saw her give a quick glance around, and then thrust a paper into his pocket as she stood near him in front of the elevator. Then they gave their letters to the elevator boy with not a glance toward each other, and went back to their respective rooms, to all appearances strangers, the woman having a rather supercillious attitude."

"Then you have two to deal with," Lillian said, anxiously.

"No, only the woman to watch," her husband told her. The man rented the room for a month, but left this afternoon, turning in his key and saying he would be gone a week. Of course, the woman has the duplicate key and she's planted to keep watch and find out when is the best time for them to strike. We'll take no chances, but I think we can collect our nerves a bit. The hour the real goods ap'ear, the fellows they've selected to do the heavy stuff then will be time enough for us to gird on our trusty side arms. Until then let's forget all melodrama. Tell me what's my part in this pink tea tomorrow night."

I think the others shared the feeling I had of suddenly being relieved of a heavy burden. I waved my hand toward Lillian.

"There's the mistress of ceremonies." I told her husband. You'll take your orders from her. But I can tell you that you have a most important role."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Thursday, December 12

A VERY active and interesting day, is the forecast based on the lively lunar transits. There should be renewed contracts and agreements to follow close upon long contested conditions breaking up to give way to splendid new opportunities. Personal matters may give concern, and there may be irritable situations to be amiably composed.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very eventful year to follow upon the removal of long-standing obstacles. Control and caution should be exercised in all personal relations.

A child born on this day may be industrious and clever and should succeed; but self-control is joined in personal affairs.

Use Coffee Grounds

Left-over coffee grounds, slightly moistened, make a fine dust-down for sweeping floors. They are clean and will not stain.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Golf-Widowlogues

HELEN ROWLAND

"DON'T you just love a Christmas wedding!" exclaimed Mrs. Green, flinging down her packages, and gratefully accepting the tea and cinnamon toast, which her host proffered her. "There's something about the combination of wedding bells and Christmas bells that tingles right through me and buttons up the back!"

* * *

"You sweet old-fashioned thing!" laughed Mrs. Divot. "No. I don't like a 'SHOW wedding' at any time of the year. Bill and I just 'stepped off' in the modern fashion to avoid all the stage effects."

"Then you missed one of the very vital and definite joys of an otherwise dull and uncertain existence," retorted Mrs. Green. "No matter how her marriage turns out, the memory of her wedding is always a sacred and beautiful thing to a woman. It is her one chance to be the STAR and the whole show."

* * *

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Divot. "I've noticed that. Even after she has divorced her husband she'll still sentimentalize over her wedding gown and brag about her wedding. I suppose that's because the bridegroom, like the roses and the smilax, is only a part of the background and she sort of forgets he was there."

* * *

"Exactly," acquiesced Mrs. Green cheerfully. "No man understands WHY a woman can't take her wedding casually and quietly. But a woman knows. SHE knows! And she wants a big audience and plenty of witnesses in her hour of triumph. It's her one Big Moment!

"A man's idea is to soft-pedal the publicity until he finds out whether or not he is going to like matrimony, and whether or not the marriage is going to TAKE. But a woman's intuition tells her to sound the trumpet and blow while she may.

"The modern girl misses a lot when she denies herself the thrill of walking down a bebibboned aisle with a new wedding ring and a brand new husband, in triumphal return, before the populace."

"She certainly does!" rejoined Mrs. Divot mockingly. "She misses the harrowing experience of waiting with her heart in her throat, not knowing whether the bridegroom will show up on time or half an hour late with six or seven 'bracers' aboard. She misses a lot of ghastly-looking vases and floor lamps that don't match each other or her furniture, and a lot of horrible knick-knacks that she will have to live with for years.

"She misses the awful snapshots in the newspapers and the certainty of starting on her honeymoon, all frazzled out, and of scrapping on the way to the station, because they are both nervous wrecks.

* * *

"No, dear heart, the show-wedding is often the first step toward the divorce court. It's sheer cruelty to put any HE-man through it. And I, for one, am heart and soul with the efficient modern business girl, who just steps out quietly, between rush hours at the office, and has the knot tied. It's better to start life together in a sane and normal state of mind, than with a lot of wedding presents, just to throw at each other's heads!"

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Avoid Slenderizing Diet in Cold Months

CITY dwellers miss much of the charm of neighborliness that prevails in rural sections. Not so much now, I fear, but in olden days no family was quite content to enjoy a "big meal, unless a "taste" of it could be had by the closest neighbors. As a boy, my heart was made glad on many occasions by the bit of ice cream, piece of pie, or helping of plum pudding, that some proud cook in a near-by home desired to have sampled by her friends.

DR. COPELAND

There was a time-honored custom in Pennsylvania, the making of what was called "metzelsoup." I assume this word was a corruption of "Metzelsuppe," derived from "metzlen" which means to kill and cut into pieces, applied particularly to sausage meat.

When the farmer butchered his hogs and the sausage was made, the housewife sent a plate containing several pounds of the delicious product to each of her intimate friends. This was called metzel-soup and it was a gift which followed by a return of the neighborly kindness when butchering day arrived at the home of the recipient.

Not to return the gift was a serious breach of hospitality. Indeed, the minister was told of the oversight and proceeded at once to reconcile the estranged friends. That was one of his duties and I dare say he approached the metzel-soup season with considerable apprehension.

There is a certain prejudice in some quarters against the pork products. But for those who eat pork, the sausage has great popularity.

As the season for buckwheat cakes and sausage approaches it is well to warn against their abuse and at the same time to commend their virtues when consumed in reasonable quantities. These splendid foods are like all other foods—taken in moderation and in proper combination they are most desirable.

When you are to eat cakes and sausages, limit your consumption of other carbohydrates and fats. The starch of the flour, the fat of the meat and the sugar of the syrup supply all the heat and energy you need. Fruit, raw or cooked, is about all you require to balance the breakfast.

In cold weather the heating foods are essential to comfort. The person seeking the slenderized form by excessive reduction in starches and other foods having similar effect will be cold and shivery, lacking in energy. This sort of dieting is a mistake.

Answers to Health Queries

R. H. O. Q—What can be done for dry catarrh?

2. What do you advise for cracking of the jawbone?

3. What should a boy of 16 5 feet 4 inches tall weigh?

A. For full particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2. Massaging with warm cod liver oil upon going to bed will usually relieve this trouble; it may be due to a lack of synovial fluid around the joint, or the trouble may be due to cold or strain.

3. He should weigh about 125 pounds.

MRS. F. N. Q. My daughter of 13 has been greatly troubled with hives ever since she was two years of age—would it be best to consult a general medical man or a skin specialist?

A.—A general practitioner would be suitable—try to locate the source of the trouble first of all—constipation and food poisoning producing an irritation, nervousness or a possible kidney trouble, may be at the root. Examination will determine the necessary treatment.

E. F. Q.—I am a woman of 62 and have been on a diet for the last eight months for albumin—lately I have noticed a soreness in the heel, a feeling like pins and needles. What treatment would you suggest and what is the cause of the symptoms?

A.—Your trouble is probably due to a circulatory disturbance. Improve your health and the circulation will improve. Massage may give increased comfort meanwhile.

MISS H. L. S. Q.—Is there any exercise that will reduce the shoulder? My body is small but my shoulders are quite large.

A.—If the shoulders are large due to bony or muscular development, there is little or no chance of reducing their size—if, however, the trouble is due to surplus fat, exercise and massage should be helpful. Join a gymnasium under these circumstances; Club swinging, dumbbells, wand exercises, etc., should all be of benefit in this case.

A Reader. Q.—I am 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weigh only 114 pounds, but despite this fact, I have swelling of the ankles with marked puffiness. I have no kidney trouble and my blood pressure is low rather than high. What would you advise?

A.—The trouble may be due to a possible heart disturbance, to varicose veins, you may be wearing tight circular garters which interfere with circulation. Examination should locate the cause and suggest the necessary treatment.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Musical Program

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am to have a short program in church when I am married. Is it correct to have it before or after the wedding march?

2. I am to have a maid of honor, two bridesmaids, a best man and two ushers, one flower girl and ring-bearer. In what order should we come into the church? MARIE.

SUCH a musical program is played before the wedding march, when the guests are assembling and are waiting for the bride to arrive.

2. First, the two ushers, walking together. Then the two bridesmaids, walking together. Then the ring-bearer, walking alone. Next, the flower girl, walking alone. Then you and your father or whoever is to present you in marriage.

Initial Correspondence

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I have a boy friend coming to see me for the first time. His parents and mine are very old acquaintances and dear friends. Would it be proper when he is leaving for me to ask him to write, as he lives outside of the city, or should I leave that to him? DOUBTFUL.

LEAVE that privilege to him, dear girl, for that is the male's privilege! He should ask you for your permission to write to you, and then he writes first.

Formal Dress

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

You have been of so much help to me before, I wonder if I might call on you once more for advice. What is the correct attire for a gentleman to wear at the wedding of a friend to be held at 7 p. m. in his home. JOHN M.

EVENING clothes. And do come again to my column. You are always welcome, sir.

BRITISH FLOODS FOLLOW GALE

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Flood waters were mounting in England today as fresh gales swept across the British Isles, adding to the possibility of further havoc by the terrific storm which already has taken 184 lives along the British and continental coasts.

There were heavy floods in Portugal, swollen rivers in France and flood conditions in many parts of England, particularly along the Thames River, which last year overflowed its banks with great damage.

Several historic points near London were being threatened today. The Tate Art Gallery, with its rich collection, was being guarded carefully as the Thames mounted. The lower grounds of Windsor Castle were under water, while the grounds of historic Eton College, across the river, also were flooded. The famous meadow in Runnymede near Egham, where the Magna Charta was signed, is now a big inland lake, while boats were navigating the main streets of various riverside towns.

In general the storm of the past week had abated except for sporadic outbursts. Worse weather, nevertheless, was still feared.

Princeton to Pay Tribute to Wilson

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Princeton University will pay an important tribute to the memory of Woodrow Wilson tonight at ceremonies celebrating the 160th anniversary of the founding of the American Whig Society, of which Wilson was a speaker while an undergraduate. The event also will celebrate the 50th anniversary of Wilson's graduation from Princeton.

Pauline Frederick Ptomaine Victim

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Pauline Frederick, stage and motion picture actress, was suffering today from ptomaine poisoning which caused her to become violently ill last night just before she was to appear in a Los Angeles theater. Her physician, called when she collapsed a minute before the curtain was to rise, said he thought her condition not dangerous.

Cleveland Selected For Balloon Race

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Cleveland has been tentatively selected as the site for the start of the 1930 Gordon Bennett international balloon race. Officials of the National Aeronautical Association said today that final award would be made after Cleveland had proved it had proper facilities for the race, but that this was expected as a matter of course.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The lightest social market in weeks found prices moving listlessly today. In contrast to the buoyancy that accompanied the easing of money rates since the deflation in stocks, the market has been irregularly lower in recent sessions on the appearance of the highest charges for time loans which normally appear at this season. The rise in money has so far amounted to only ½ of 1 per cent, but that has been sufficient to keep bond buying down.

The list was steadier in today's early trading, although changes were small. United States Governments met with a somewhat better market and the treasuries made an upward turn.

Outstanding in the news was the sale of a $65,000,000 issue of New York City 4½ per cent corporate stock to a banking syndicate headed by the National City Company on a bid of 102.3487. This representing a premium of $1,526,655 on the securities which were dividded into three groups, $27,000,000 in 50-year stock, $30,000,000 in serial bonds due 1 to 40 years, and $8,000,000 in one to 50 year bonds.

Rails displayed firmness with tiny gains and losses evenly distributed. Investment bonds in the utility and industrial groups were likewise steady and no changes of consequence developed.

New issues publicly sold today included a $3,000,000 loan in Peoples Light & Power one-year 5½ percent gold notes at 99.30 and an additional $3,000,000 offering of Central Maine Power first 5s, due 1955, at 98.50.

GRIMES TRADE UNLIKELY

SPORT COMMENT
by JAMES J. LONG

Clubs Angle for Vance. Drawn by Salary Cut. Trojans Getting Ready.

Saunders Big Threat. Fans Hope for Shanks. McGirr's Novel Show.

DODGERS' DEMANDS MAY BLOCK DEAL

EVEN though only a few player deals may be put through while the big league powers are assembled in New York, there is certain to be plenty of trade talk again today and tomorrow involving various pastimers, whether or not the discussions lead to anything. If there is one star who may be expected to figure more prominently than others in these discussions, that topliner is Dazzy Vance, veteran Brooklyn pitcher and strikeout artist.

Dazzy Vance

In the past, other clubs have manifested no uncontrollable desire to add Vance to their forces, firstly because it was realized the Dodger management would not consider a deal for him while he was at his best, and secondly, because there was no eagerness to assume his huge salary.

But conditions have changed. Vance won only 14 games against 13 defeats last season, and neither Brooklyn nor any other club is in a mood to pay a $25,000 stipend to a pitcher who has failed to do much more than break even.

THE general opinion is that whether he stays with Brooklyn or is shipped to some other team, Dazzy's pay will be sliced to the extent of something like $10,000. The pitcher himself is said to realize that he will have to take a cut, and in the knowledge that they will not be required to pay him the large sum he received for 1929 the heads of other clubs are willing to discuss a deal for him.

However, that is no assurance that anything will come of it. While admitting they would like to have Vance, the various managers say it will all depend upon what Brooklyn demands for him. That's where the hitch will come in. The Dodger bosses may put the price so high in playing material that all negotiations will be quickly called off. The same obstacle looms up in the path of other proposed trades. Wanting a certain player and getting him are different propositions in baseball.

WORD from Los Angeles is to the effect that the Southern California football team has buckled down to practice for the game with Carnegie Tech there next Saturday afternoon and the Tournament of Roses classic with Pitt on New Year's Day.

Coach Howard Jones has ordered his field general, Russell Saunders, and the players to forget all about the Pitt game until after the battle with Carnegie. The reserves, with Aubrey Devine and Morley Drury lending a hand, are spending each afternoon running through Carnegie formations, first against the varsity and later for the benefit of the second string.

Russell Saunders

JONES evidently is taking every precaution to save the New Year's Day game from losing any of its edge through a defeat for Southern California at the hands of the Skibos next Saturday. One player whom he is grooming especially for both contests is Quarterback Saunders. The latter has been touted for all-America honors this year, and is said to be one of the most brilliant performers on the coast. He started the 1929 season by making the remarkable total of 231 yards against California in the opening conference game.

THOUGH playing less than half of the contest, Saunders scored three touchdowns and made two and a half times as many yards as the entire opposing team. He average 16½ yards per play in 13 trips with the ball.

Saunders is said to have the background for a great player, as well as the necessary physique and brains. He was captain, quarterback and all-state star on the San Diego High School team in 1925. He played freshman football at Southern California in 1926, made the varsity at left halfback in 1927, and starred at fullback in 1928.

BECAUSE of Saunders' triple-threat abilities, his tremendous speed and power, experience, gridiron smartness and excellent defensive work, Coach Jones this year shifted him to quarterback, where he became an immediate success.

Saunders' remarkable drive assures a gain almost every time he starts with the ball, and the tip comes that the Skibos and the Panthers will have to find a way to stop him before they hope to beat the Trojans.

Howard Shanks

BASEBALL followers throughout this district are hoping for the recovery of Howard Shanks, the popular veteran of the diamond, who is seriously ill at his home in Monaca as the result of an attack of pneumonia. Shanks, who was 49 years old on July 21 last, was one of the products of this region to make good in the major leagues and he has always been a credit to the game. He began his professional career with the East Liverpool (O.) club in the old Ohio and Pennsylvania League. In 1912 he played for Youngstown, O., in the same circuit, and the following year broke into the majors with Washington, remaining with the Senators until the end of the 1922 season. Later he was connected with the Red Sox, Yankees and Louisville, and this year was coach of the Cleveland Indians.

JIM M'GIRR'S regular weekly Thursday night boxing shows at the Palisades rink in McKeesport never fail to attract their share of attention in boxing circles throughout the Pittsburgh district, as the Tube City promoter has long held the reputation of being a capable and painstaking matchmaker whose bouts are always productive of the kind of action that is most popular with the fans.

The big special card that he will put on tomorrow night has aroused even greater interest than usual, for this week the sixteenth anniversary of the Palisades is being observed, and the hustling promoter has aimed to make his boxing show, featuring a week of dancing, roller skating and other attractions, one of particularly strong appeal.

THE unusual bill of three ten-round bouts and one six-round contest, a card rarely known in a city of McKeesport's size, will be offered. In the main ten-rounder Chuck Taggert, Butler heavy-

Jimmy Reed Loses To Eddie Anderson

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Eddie Anderson, of Cody, Wyo., shaded Jimmy Reed, of Erie, Pa., in a 10-round contest here last night. Reed's superior boxing could not overcome Anderson's stiff punching. Anderson knocked Reed down for the count of five and for the count of seven in the same round.

Mickey O'Hara, Cincinnati lightweight, defeated Otto Atterson, Terre Haute, in the six-round semi-windup.

Von Porat May Be Handed Suspension

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Decision as to whether Otto Von Porat will be forced to undergo a 30-day suspension from boxing in this state as the result of his fouling of Phil Scott, British heavyweight, probably will be reached by the New York State Athletic Commission at its Friday meeting. The matter, however, may be put over until the following Tuesday.

DUKES' MENTOR PROFFERED LITTLE'S JOB

Duquesne University may lose Elmer Layden as head football coach. The former star fullback of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, who developed a team for the Dukes this year that went through an undefeated campaign for the first time in the history of the university, this morning verified a report from Washington, D. C., that he had been tendered an offer to become athletic director and head coach at Georgetown University, also a Catholic institution.

Elmer Layden

Layden admitted receiving an invitation to succeed Lou Little, who resigned the Georgetown position to take up the coaching job at Columbia University for the next three years. Layden, who last year signed to coach at Duquesne University for three more years, announced that he has not given the Washington authorities any definite answer.

MAY OBTAIN RELEASE

The Georgetown proposition is one of the best in the Eastern collegiate ranks and it would not be surprising if Layden, provided he can obtain his release from Duquesne, should accept the lucrative offer.

Layden's work since coming to Duquesne has attracted widespread attention and the former Notre Dame star now is rated with the best coaches in the East. Last year, the team lost only one game, to Geneva, and this year the only failure to win was a 7-7 tie with West Virginia. Catholic University and the Haskell Indians were among their victims.

ALEX TRADED TO PHILS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE
Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, baseball's greatest pitcher, today went back to his first love—the Phillies—through the medium of a trade between the Cardinals and Phillies.

Officials of the Philadelphia club announced a trade of Pitcher Bob McGraw and Outfielder Homer Peel for Alexander and Catcher Harry McCurdy, of the Cards. McCurdy recently was released by the Redbirds from Toledo.

The St. Louis management last season sent Alexander home for breaking training rules, but his salary was paid. The Quakers will give him a big welcome.

Manager Shotton is in need of a catcher to take the place of Walter Lerian, who was killed a few weeks ago.

Outfielder Peel is a promising youngster from the Texas League. Pitcher McGraw was one of Shotton's best relief hurlers.

STEFFEN IS CHAIRMAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Judge Walter Steffen, of Chicago, Carnegie Tech's committee football coach, has been named chairman of the board of governors in charge of the 10-year Thanksgiving Day football program at Soldier Field. The first game of the program, proceeds of which go to charity, will be between West Virginia and the Oregon Aggies in 1930.

Publicity Killing Football, Bill Roper Says

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—"If football is going to be killed, it is going to be killed by publicity," Bill Roper, Princeton football coach, said last night at the annual banquet in honor of the Princeton football team.

"Football is not going to continue because 75,000 people clamor for seats on the 50-yard line or because newspapers give column after column of space to it, setting up mere boys as idols and then knocking them down for a single misplay. Football has reached its present heights because it has brought out the sterling qualities in men. If it is going to continue, it will continue because it will maintain those qualities which have made it great.

REDS WANT STAR FOR CRITZ

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Hughey Critz will not go to the Pirates, the Giants or any other rival team unless the Reds are given plenty in return, according to today's developments in the Cincinnati camp.

The report that Dan Howley, new pilot of the Reds, was anxious to peddle the stout second baseman appears to have been somewhat exaggerated. Howley and his associates, it is said, are so eager to make the Reds a first division factor that they would swap Critz, provided the turnover forms the nucleus of a new Redland club, or words to that effect.

M'GRAW LIKES CRITZ

John McGraw, the reports have it, nibbled for Critz and was politely told that the Reds would have to get either Travis Jackson or Freddie Lindstrom in the event of a trade between the two clubs. McGraw would defeat his own purpose if he were to let Travis or Freddie get away. The former is generally looked upon as the best shortstop in the game, while Lindstrom is second to Pie Traynor among the third sackers.

Howley, therefore, would demand Burleigh Grimes or Pie Traynor if he were to talk business with the Pirates and, of course, the Pittsburgh officials would not listen to this sort of thing.

The chances for any trade involving Grimes seems to be diminishing. A few weeks ago, the Pittsburgh officials did appear to entertain the subject, but of late they have not leaned that way.

GRIMES AFTER RAISE

Grimes, on the other hand, is willing to move along in case the Pittsburgh officials feel that way about it. Burleigh has not signed a contract for next season, and when he sits in on a conference he is almost certain to ask for a raise in salary, despite statements placing him as the highest-salaried member of the club.

The report spread here yesterday putting Grimes in the running as a probable successor to Wilbert Robinson in Brooklyn was not given any credence in Pittsburgh circles. In fact, the directors of the Pittsburgh club were inclined to treat the matter very lightly.

Grimes' first presence at a winter meeting set the news hunters agog. A flock of Brooklyn writers fell upon Burleigh with the idea of getting a story, but as late as today your Uncle Robbie still was holding the whip hand.

ROBINS IN MUDDLE

The Brooklyn muddle is a terrible thing. The controversial status of the club across the bridge is taking up much of the time of the annual confab of the National League, which is continued today.

President Heydler made an effort to get the warring factions together in the interest of the whole league, but Honest John admitted that his endeavors were not received in any gracious manner. The Ebbets-McKeever factions evidently are as far apart as ever, with Uncle Robbie still in the driver's seat.

JOINT CONFAB TOMORROW

Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, may set off some fireworks tomorrow when the National and American leagues meet in joint session with the commissioner in the chair.

The "chain-store" development in baseball is one of the things that has angered the judge, who sent a little paper dealing with the question to the separate meetings of the majors yesterday.

The minor leagues, moreover, are in a bad way financially and the judge, being a friend of these

PANKA ANXIOUS TO BATTLE ART SHIRES

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

George Panka, the young heavyweight of Homestead, is agitated. He has been reading in the papers about all of the fuss that is being made over the fistic debut of the Great Art Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman, who drew $13,000 at the gate for his first appearance in the ring in Chicago last Monday night. When Panka digested the details yesterday he got in touch with his manager, Bunny Buntach, and demanded that he be matched forthwith with the Great One.

George Panka

Shires was to be here next Monday night to referee some of the bouts on the Christmas Fund card at Motor Square Garden, but has canceled these arrangements to box George Trafton, 222-pound center of the Chicago Bears, in another bout at the White City arena in Chicago the same night. When Panka heard that Shires was scheduled to appear here he was all for climbing into the ring and challenging him, but his manager persuaded the boxer to let him handle any arrangements and has communicated Panka's desire to box Shires to Matchmaker Jules Beck, of the Garden, who will attempt to make the match.

VICTOR IN DEBUT

Shires' first bout resulted in a knockout in 21 seconds against another novice, Dan Daly, of Cleveland, who obviously was hand-picked for him to assure victory for Art. It was the first appearance of both in any ring with gloves on their fists. Nevertheless, the widespread publicity that Shires has been receiving since he first began practicing up

Mrs. Scott Marvels At Phil's Many 'Foul' Wins

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Mrs. Phillip Scott, wife of the British heavyweight who defeated Otto Von Porat on a foul in New York Monday night, thinks Phil "can beat them all without low punches," but likewise marvels at the number of fights her husband has won that way.

"I know Phil would win and he can beat the best of them," Mrs. Scott was quoted as saying, in the London Press. "It doesn't matter what Phil does, he has been winning all his fights, but yet he never seems to please everybody. I'm sorry a foul gave him the decision over Von Porat. It is remarkable how many fouls have won Phil his fights. He can beat all of them without low punches."

WADE KILLEFER PRAISES SUHR AS SLUGGER

By Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Pacific Coast League men in attendance at the major league meetings here are emphatic in their statements that the Pirate officials strengthened the punch of the Pittsburgh Club in the purchase of First Baseman Gus Suhr, of the San Francisco Seals.

One of the best boosts for the Buccos' new gateway tender comes from Wade Killefer, president and manager of the rival Mission team of San Francisco. Killefer lost out in his attempt to sell Second Baseman Mickey Finn to the Pirates when the Suhr deal went through, but he is sportsman enough to declare that the Pirates have landed a star.

REAL HITTER

"Gus is the sort of a hitter who can sock the ball to any field," said Killefer today. "Suhr is pretty fast and he is a smart baserunner. He is one of those fellows who always gets that

SIGNAL DRILL KEEPS PITT STARS PRIMED

The Pitt Panthers are taking no chances with their perfect record for the season as they await the time to leave for California to play Southern California in the Tournament of Roses game, New Year's Day. Above the varsity is pictured running through signals at the Stadium yesterday. A real scrimmage is planned for this afternoon.

TARTAN GRIDDERS NEAR WINSLOW, ARIZONA

TECH TO HOLD FINAL DRILL EN ROUTE

By JESS CARVER
Staff Correspondent

EN ROUTE WITH CARNEGIE TECH FOOTBALL TEAM TO LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—Under skies blue as a mammy singer's tunes, the Varsity football squad and touring party of Carnegie Tech rolled across New Mexico today, headed for Winslow, Ariz., the fourth stop of the cross-country jaunt when the final practice of the trip before the arrival at Pasadena Friday will be staged late this afternoon.

The Tartans left Albuquerque early this morning, 3 a.m., to be exact, after having spent a very enjoyable day in the New Mexico metropolis. A light pigskin workout was skated in the afternoon, a visit paid to the Pueblo Indian reservation in the morning and three of Mr. Fred Harvey's good meals partaken of between times.

HIGHBERGER HURT

For a time yesterday it was feared that the Tartans were going to be without the services of Tank Highberger, giant tackle, for the game with U. S. C. Saturday. Tank either turned or twisted his ankle in the practice in Dodge City, Monday, and by the time he had tumbled back into the pullmans the injured member was so sore and so swollen that Dr. W. I. Marks, team physician, was afraid he had broken his ankle. The limb, joint if you prefer, was packed in ice, something like a quart ale bottle, overnight, and by yesterday afternoon the swelling had been reduced. Dr. Marks stated last night, prior to leaving Albuquerque, that he thought Highberger would be in condition to start against the Trojans.

Today's drill, being the final one of the trip will be the longest. The party is due to arrive in Winslow early in the afternoon, and the boys will be hustled out to the practice field an hour or so after luncheon.

GRIDDERS TENSE

A decided tenseness is evident about the Skibo squad as the date of the important tussle draws near. Day by day the players are beginning to realize that this isn't entirely a pleasure tour, and that the real objective of the trip is a victory over the powerful California warriors. Tech isn't fearing U. S. C., but by the same token, it is not under-estimating the undoubted power of the Trojan machine.

Tomorrow will bring the party to the Grand Canyon, where a morning of sight-seeing has been arranged. Early in the afternoon, or rather exactly at noon, the Tech special cars will be hooked onto a Santa Fe flyer and hauled into California, arriving in Pasadena at 6:45 a. m.

Milestones

The members of the Skibo entourage, especially the girls, all in a dither of thrill while visiting the Indian reservation yesterday. Being very small people, all of 'em, they did not favor the Indian blankets, jewelry, trays, baskets, Navajos, other trifles and it was quite offering at ridiculous prices.

Albuquerque boasts the tallest building in the State of New Mexico. It is eight stories in height.

Dutch Kneeler, the well-known team-builder, former Lehigh Varsity and Carnegie Tech football star, is one of the livest of the pep squad. Dutch keeps every-one in a good humor, including Mr. Oscar Carlson, the bailiwick pessimist.

From Dodge City, to Winslow, the Carnegie special was the fastest 68 a. m. train it was ever hitched to, it took the five Skibo cars out the fast mail in Dodge City, but when that train rumbled into town, it was a local carrying 16 cars, the Santa Fe Railroad, at the request of Mr. A. J. Becker, broke out a special engine and hauled the specials on the very tail of the mail train.

It was good news to Graduate Manager Overend and the Tech faculty when a wire was received from Knute Rockne definitely scheduling Tech for a game next year. The contest will be played in South Bend, Ind., on October 28.

AMATEUR BOUTS END IN KAYOS

A pair of technical knockouts marked the amateur boxing show staged last night by the Emerald A. C. in the Twenty-eighth Signal Corps Armory, East Liberty.

Johnny Warner, of Clairton A. C., 118-pound titlist, won from Al Kosel, of Braddock Library, in the second round when the referee stopped the melee. Howard Turner, of Superior, also won by a technical kayo, defeating Mike Bazzone, of Duke O'Hara, in two rounds. The summary:

112-pound class—Clark Cassio, Braddock Library, A. C., won from Frank Durso, Pittsburgh Lyceum, three rounds, decision. A. Angi, Duke O'Hara Club, won from Tiger Williams, Superior A. C., three rounds, decision.

118-pound class—Johnny Warner, Clairton A. C., won from Al Kosel, Braddock Library A. C., technical knockout, second round. Time 2:49.

126-pound class—Al Van Gura, Braddock Library A. C., won from George Julius, Willow Club, three rounds, decision.

135-pound class—Louis Fazio, Superior A. C., won from Robert Barnes, Emerald A. C., three rounds, decision.

Panthers to Visit Studios on Coast

J. I. Schnitzer, former Pittsburger now president of Radio Keith Orpheum Productions, Inc., has invited members of the Pitt football team and party to visit the R. K. O. studios and attend a special performance at the R. K. O. Theater while in Los Angeles.

Pitt is to oppose the University of Southern California eleven in the annual Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, New Year's Day.

GRIDDERS DINE

The Schenley H. Y. Club will be host to the championship Schenley High football team at a banquet in the Downtown Y. M. C. A. tonight at 6:30. Speakers will include Coach Jock Sutherland and members of his Pitt team, and William H. Boyce, Jr., president of the Hi-Y Club.

extra base on a drive, and he will be able to play first base satisfactorily. He is a powerful young fellow."

Chillysauce

Instead of paying $20,000 along with Earl Sheely for the services of Suhr, it develops that the Pittsburgh Club put out more than $30,000 in cash for the recruit.

The present major league sessions have brought out a banner crowd. Prominent baseball men in the Commodore lobbies are as thick as all-America football selections.

"Did you ever see so many managers looking for catchers" asked Jewel Ens after listening in on the big racket for several hours. Practically every pilot in each league is after a good receiver. And many minor league fellows are in the same fix.

CATCHERS SCARCE

The Giants, Braves, Cubs, White Sox, Tigers and other clubs are working on the catching problem. Donie Bush's first-string receiver, Moe Berg, was a shortstop, so you can see that Bush would like to grab himself a fellow who can do backstopping duty.

Bush probably would give a small fortune for a certain young fellow named Rolly Hemsley, for it was none other than Donie who developed the Ohio coal miner to such a point where he is the envy of all National League leaders.

Burleigh Grimes showed up with a set of scenery that made him stand out in such bold relief that Jimmy Walker, had he seen Burleigh, would have been jealous. Grimes wore conventional black suit and black hat, but he helped to top off the duds with a pair of spats.

The pitcher has taken off some weight in the Wisconsin woods. His hunting trip had the effect of bringing him to a perfect peak of condition. Grimes looked like a boxing champ in shape for duty and wearing Sunday-Go-To-Meeting clothes.

Little Promises Columbia Success

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Lou Little, recently appointed coach of Columbia football teams, made his first appearance before Columbia men at the dinner of the Varsity C Club last night and was vociferously received.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Flying Cloud, 12-year-old thoroughbred stallion retired to the farm of E. Gay Drake two years ago, has been destroyed because of an incurable disease. IOWA CHARGES DENIED

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Denials by Maj. J. L. Griffith, commissioner of the Western Conference, today stood against the first of Iowa's reprisals which came in the form of two affidavits charging that Elmer Marek, Ohio State football star, and Frank Baker, of Northwestern, were subsidized for their athletic services.

The affidavits were published yesterday in the Cedar Rapids Gazette-Republican. One signed by James Blake charged that Marek, a former Cedar Rapids grid star, was attracted to Ohio State by an offer of $200 a month. Another by Charles Hadlock, of Chicago, stated that Baker is being given his meals in return for athletic services.

Griffith's statement pointed out that the charges had been preferred several months ago, had been duly investigated and the faculty committee of the Big Ten ruled that the players and their respective institutions were not guilty.

Blake's affidavit reported an alleged conversation with Marek's father in which the parent is supposed to have admitted the $200 salary. Marek, when informed of the affidavit yesterday, declared that he had not discussed athletes' salaries with Blake. The elder Marek offered to produce receipts to show that he had paid for the better part of his son's education himself.

Chicago Stadium Head Resigns

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Another change in the management of the Chicago Stadium is to take place soon as the result of Sidney Strotz's resignation. Strotz became general manager of the sports arena several weeks ago when Patrick (Paddy) Harmon's resignation was requested by stadium corporation directors.

Both Strotz and James Norris, wealthy broker and stadium stockholder, have been appointed special policemen with the right to carry firearms as a result of the attempt to bomb Norris' home Sunday. Norris and Strotz, in seeking permission to carry pistols, said they believed their stadium connections were in some way responsible for the bomb attempt.

Promoter Urges Wiener's Removal

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—Rudolph Fried, president of the Arena A. C., today hit back hard at Chairman Frank Wiener, of the State Athletic Commission who yesterday told members of a business club that boxing in Philadelphia is a "racket" and that unless the situation clears soon he will go before the Legislature and ask that the state law be repealed.

"The boxing game in Philadelphia does need regulating as the chairman of the commission said," retorted Fried, "but the best way to regulate it to the satisfaction of all the boxing promoters in Philadelphia would be the immediate removal of the chairman from office and the appointment of a man in his place who will deal fairly and squarely with all promoters, managers and boxers alike."

Frank Demoise Is Waynesburg's Most Valuable

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 11.—Frank Demoise, star sophomore fullback and quarterback on the Waynesburg College football team during the season just closed, has been voted the most valuable member of the Yellow Jacket squad during the season. A valuable wristwatch donated by B. W. Kennedy, former Waynesburg athlete, has been awarded Demoise in recognition of his ability. The choice of the most valuable Waynesburg player was made by sports writers covering the games in which Waynesburg participated this year. Demoise, whose home is in Greensburg, Pa., is a brother of the famous former Pitt end of the same name. Capt. Sam Smith, tackle, of Pittsburgh, was named the second outstanding Waynesburg player during the 1929 season.

On the other hand, there are certain magnates who are still peeved over the recent action of J. Landis in making free agents out of a flock of good players who, he said, were victims of "cover-up" methods cases.

LEHENY WITH TORONTO

Manager Steve O'Neill, of the Toronto Club, of the International League, is expecting much of Pitcher Regis Leheny, the big lefthander from Oakland, who is all set to make the spring training trip to Florida with Toronto.

The big Pittsburgh boy, and son of Police Lieut. Peter Leheny, spent a short time with Toronto last summer. His unusual speed and exceptional curve made an instantaneous hit with O'Neill. Leheny was farmed out to Canton, but was suspended by that team after engaging in a fight with a teammate. Later he went to Scranton, he being under a Toronto option all the while.

O'Neill has Leheny all fixed up again.

"I want to get Regis into a camp where I can give him a lot of attention," said the former star of the mask and glove.

WANT SHORTER SEASON

The National League yesterday went on record as favoring a shorter season, and a pool of the rival circuit showed the Barnard magnates also ready to vote affirmatively upon a September 28 closing. Both leagues today were ready to take up the question of broadcasting regular league games but this issue, like the schedule matter, doubtless will be finally decided only at the joint session tomorrow.

The chief item before the opening session of the two leagues yesterday was that of requiring clubs purchasing franchises in smaller circuits to make a formal report of any such transaction to Commissioner Landis, to the two major leagues and to the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Commissioner Landis put this question before the magnates, pointing out that since such reports now were made of individual player purchases, such action was even more necessary when an entire team of players was acquired.

Landis' plan is not retroactive, but steps doubtless will be taken to prepare a record of interlocking ownership interests now existing, for the guidance of all base ball.

The National League adopted a memorial resolution praising the work of the late Colonel A. G. Mills, as president of the circuit in 1883 and 1884. Colonel Mills died at his summer home on Cape Cod last August. Cullen Cain was named public relations counsel of the league for the next three years.

DREYFUSS ELECTED

The National League elected a directorate composed of Barney Dreyfuss, of Pittsburgh; Charles S. Stoneham, of New York; William Veeck, of Chicago, and Emil E. Fuchs, of Boston. The shift of American League directors provided for in the constitution brought into office Jacob Ruppert, of New York, Robert Quinn, of Boston, Alva Bradley, of Cleveland, and Charles Comiskey, of Chicago.

weight, who has made the sensational record of 18 knockouts and a decision in 19 bouts, will meet Ike McFowler, of Johnstown.

Eddie Brannon, of the Hill, will oppose Georgie Safron, of Canton, O., for 10 rounds; Cuddy DeMarco will face Danny Russell, of Baltimore, over the same distance, and the six-rounder will bring together Johnny Smackey, of Canonsburg, and Tommy Heilman, of Donora.

PROMOTER M'GIRR has termed the anniversary period "Scotch Week," and the show will be put on at prices reduced to 75 cents and $1.50. Another extra feature will be a concert by Don Bartell's 11-piece orchestra from 8 o'clock to 8:30, and there will also be music between bouts, making the show one of the most novel offered hereabouts in a long time. The Majestic A. C., operating the Palisades, is the oldest boxing club in these parts, antedating even Motor Square Garden, where boxing was not started until Ray Pryel and Pinkey Mitchell hoisted the curtain in 1920. At many times McGirr was the only promoter operating in the district.

KISKI TO OPEN AT GREENSBURG

The basketball season for Kiski will open Friday night with a game against the Greensburg High School team at Greensburg. The Kiski team is in charge of D. C. Sutherland, who assisted Coach Bob Mitinger with the football team.

Kiski's team this year is much stronger than last year's. Harold Hill, who was an all-State guard last year when he played at Jersey City High, is a guard on the new Kiski team; William Renner, who played last year on the Rayon High team at Youngstown, is a forward; Alex Craig, from last year's Latrobe High team, is at center for Kiski. William Beitner, of Dover, O., a member of the all-State team chosen at the Columbus tournament last year, is on the Kiski team. Two members of last year's squad are George Barclay and Frank Bryant.

400 Williamsport Students on Strike

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Four hundred of the 1,300 students of the Williamsport Senior High School yesterday gave vent to their enthusiasm over the deadlocked championship football game played at Altoona Saturday, when they called a "strike."

Starting as a protest because no recess was declared to celebrate the completion of so successful season, the "strike" developed in a demonstration in favor of the retention of Sol Wolf, football coach, who has declined to sign a one-year contract. Coach Wolf urged them to end the demonstration and return to school at once.

The striking students spent an hilarious day parading the streets of the business district and shouting "we want Wolf." They were declared "illegally absent" from school.

Layton Increases Lead Over Cochran

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Johnny Layton, of St. Louis, and Welker Cochran, of Hollywood, broke even in the third and fourth blocks of their 600-point three-cushion billiards match here yesterday. Layton, however, increased his lead over the former 18.2 balkline champion to 24 points, the score being 200 to 176 for the first four blocks.

Layton won the afternoon block 50 to 43 in 45 innings. Layton had a high run of seven, Cochran one of eight. Last night Cochran won 51 to 50 in 49 innings. Layton's high run was seven, Cochran's five.

St. Louis Carded By Davis-Elkins

ELKINS, W. Va., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—A third intersectional foe was added to the Davis and Elkins' football schedule for 1930 with the announcement yesterday that St. Louis University will be met at St. Louis on October 11. Scheduling of games with North Dakota University and John Carroll University already have been announced by Athletic Director Jennings.

by taking sucker punches at the chin of Lena Blackburn, deposed manager of the Sox, is good for a lot of lucre at any box office, and he is certain to prove a card wherever he may go. Panka's hunch that he could make some money taking on Art is no idle one.

Between Rounds

When Farmer Joe Cooper defeated Jimmy Belmont in the Garden ring Monday night he kicked in the head plans for a match between Belmont and Tiger Joe Randall in the same ring Christmas afternoon. The club now is looking toward another bout to head the program. Jackie Rodgers, local Negro knockout star, will appear in the New Year's Day bill at the Garden.

A nine-bout program featuring local boxers will make up the card at the Keystone Athletic Club Friday night, taking the place of the canceled Pittsburgh-Cleveland bill originally arranged. It will involve three bouts in the 118-pound class and three more in the 126-pound class, with the first two in each serving as semi-finals and the winners meeting in a final later in the evening. The three other bouts will be in different weight classes.

Promoter Jim McGirr, of McKeesport, reports unusual interest in his special anniversary show tomorrow night, in which he is offering three 10-round bouts and a six-rounder, with Chuck Taggert, of Butler, and Tic McFowler, of Johnstown, topping off the bill, and an orchestra thrown in for good measure at reduced prices.

MARTIN VS. O'DOWD AGAIN

Charley Jones, formerly of McKeesport, and now of Louisville, has his featherweight, Midget Mike O'Dowd, boxing Davy Abad in the main bout of a card of six-rounders in Cleveland Thursday night of next week. He was matched for a return bout with Andy Martin, of Boston, at Columbus, New Year's afternoon. Martin won a decision over Mike at Motor Square Garden last April and Mike has been running for a return bout ever since.

Dan Billick, Duquesne bantamweight, boxes Joey Ross, of Jersey City, in a 10-round bout at Passaic, N. J., December 23.

Harry Wills, the Black Panther, tries a comeback in the New York Coliseum tonight against Andre Castanzo, to whom he lost on a foul in the first round in Mexico City some months ago. Black Bill boxes Freddie Lattanzio, and Billy Kohut engages Harry Smith in 10-round supporting bouts. Steve Smith boxes Freddie Miller at Cincinnati, Paul Jones, Jack Willis at Bradford, Pa., and Dummy Mahan meets Fred Anderson at San Francisco.

McTIERNAN OFF FOR SPA.

Buck McTiernan was delayed a day in departing on his junket of a month's Hot Springs, Ark., to regain his lost weight and strength. He left last night instead of on Monday night, as planned.

The card will be rounded out today for the Moose Temple show Friday night, in the main bout of which Tom Mahon meets Young Saylor. Joe Zink, of McKees Rocks, who defeated Eddie Polo in a great battle last Friday night, is in the semi-final with Dominick Profio.

Mickey Solmen's next start will be against Young Guido, of Sharon, at Oil City, Friday night.

Westminster Elects Boone Grid Leader

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 11.—Russell (Chappie) Boone, former Turtle Creek Union High star and center on the Westminster College football team during the past season, was re-elected captain for the 1930 season at a meeting of lettermen here today. Boone, a junior, has won three letters in football. He has been all-conference center twice and this year was designated as all-district small college pivot man.

Pittites Flying To Coast Held Up by Fog

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—W. D. Harrison, director of athletics, and Don Saunders, director of publicity of the University of Pittsburgh, had a 24-hour layover here today when they arrived to take a Transcontinental Air Transport plane for Pasadena, Cal., to arrange for the New Year's Day football game between Pitt and the University of Southern California.

On arrival here they were advised that the plane was held on the ground because of a fog blanket over the Middle West. They hope to fly westward tomorrow.

TOUGH 1930 GRID CARD FOR TECH

By Staff Correspondent.

EN ROUTE WITH CARNEGIE TECH TO LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—One of the hardest football schedules ever entertained by a Carnegie Tech eleven has been mapped out for the Tartans of 1930, according to the card announced by Clarence (Buddy) Overend, graduate manager of athletics at Tech, who completed his plans for next year while speeding westward with his team for California.

Next season's card includes battles with Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, New York University, Pitt, W. & J. and Temple. The only letdown games on the Skibo card are with the University of Buffalo Thiel and Western Reserve—nine games being listed in all.

Although he announced the schedule, Overend did not state where the games are to be played. He will name the home gridirons at a later date.

The complete 1930 schedule follows: Sept. 28, Buffalo; Oct. 4, Thiel; Oct. 11, Georgia Tech; Oct. 18, Notre Dame; Oct. 25, Western Reserve; Nov. 1, New York University; Nov. 8, Permanently open; Nov. 15, Pitt; Nov. 22, Temple; Nov. 29, W. & J.

Georgia Tech is meeting a Pittsburgh team for the first time since it ended its series with the Pitt Panthers. Washington and Jefferson is playing Tech in its final stand instead of mid-season as heretofore, and Buffalo and Temple are the only new 1930 opponents.

The only difficulty in arranging next year's battle with Notre Dame was in finding a date. Carnegie and the Irish have a six-year contract.

W. & J. HONORS SIX PANTHERS

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 11.—Athletes of eight of the nine schools met by Washington and Jefferson College football players during the season just closed were given places on the two all-opponent elevens selected by the Presidents and just made public.

Pitt, with one of the foremost teams in the country, naturally received the largest number of positions on the two teams, six in all. Donchess, Montgomery, Uansa and Parkinson were placed on the first team and McMurdo and Williams on the second eleven.

Bucknell trailed Pitt with five places on the two teams, although only one Bison was placed on the first team of the Prexies.

Four Carnegie Tech athletes were honored, three on the first team and one on the second. Dreshar, Eyth and Highberger were chosen on the first team and Armentrout on the second.

Teams chosen by the Washington and Jefferson College players follow:

CROWE BOOKS PRACTICE TILT

LATROBE, Pa., Dec. 11.—The St. Vincent's College basketball team will start off their basketball season with a practice game against the Latrobe Scholastics at the Latrobe Armory on Friday night. Crowe announced the game with the independents in order to get a line on some of his new men and find the best combination before he opens the season formally against the Indiana Teachers next week. The St. Vincent's mentor has several possible combinations that look good in practice, but they may not be so good against strong opposition.

At this time only three positions on the team seem to be cinched with the other two remaining wide open and about six men are staging a merry fight for the two open jobs. Genovese and Lengyel look like good bets for the forward positions, although Lengyel may be shifted to center if several other candidates fail to show the proper class. Crean appears to be a permanent fixture at one of the guard positions, but the other guard and the center positions are both open. Schumaker is leading the pack for the pivot job, while Westfall, Furin and Yonkovich are all three making a cut-throat race for the job of stationary guard.

LANDIS OPTIMISTIC

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP.)—K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, sees no clouds in the baseball sky. The commissioner, who will preside at the joint meeting of the major leagues tomorrow, can find no evidences of an impending storm. "We are here in an atmosphere of peace and tranquility," he said.

BOSTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins edged the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates out of a loosely played National League Hockey game here last night, 5 to 4. During the fray, Frank Frederickson, the Pirates playing-manager, injured his knee and had to be carried from the ice.

Though the champions were in command at all stages, the Pirates pressed them hard and were battling bravely to square the count at the final bell. Both teams missed many scoring chances and there was much careless play during the contest. The lineup:

YANKS TOP LEAFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The reconstruction and vastly improved New York Americans scored their second victory of the National Hockey League season last night, defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1 to 0. It was the third time this season Toronto has figured in a one-goal game, losing two of them.

Although much of the improvement in the Americans was due to the newly-added reserve strength, it was their veteran player-manager, Lionel Conacher, who scored the only goal. Before the game was five minutes old, Conny sailed down the right alley and beat Goalie Chabot with a perfect shot. Conacher also was the defensive star, with Roy Worters, American goal tender, as an able second. The lineup:

Americans.		Toronto.
Worters	G	Chabot

Boasting one of the strongest clubs ever to represent the South Side in the Allegheny County League, the Goldensons tonight open their home season by engaging the A. J. Ackermans, of Homestead, in the only league attraction on the schedule. The game is carded for the South Side Market House and is expected to draw a banner turnout, inasmuch as the Homestead quintet includes in its lineup several former Goldenson stars and South Side basketball favorites. The Goldensons will present a lineup tonight that compares favorably with the best in this year's County League race, numbering among their stellar performers Moy Rubenstein, former Geneva College star; Jock Rosenberg, one-time flash at Duquesne University; Bobby Angelo, Grove City College star, and Monkie Ketchel, Eddie Siegle and Eddie Jesko, of last year's team.

KLINZINGS ON TEAM

The Homestead Ackermans are composed of the two Klinzings, Moon and Boots, both former Goldenson stars; Art McGuirk, McGill, Dober and several other Homestead District League veterans of last season. The contest looms as one of the best early-season battle on the program and a close game is anticipated by the followers of the clubs.

Preceding the main attraction will be a contest between the Goldenson Vanities and the Boots Club, of East Liberty. The Vanities this season shape up as one of the best girl sextets in this section of the state, having added several prominent performers to the roster. The main game will get under way about 9:30, with the preliminary attraction starting at 8:15.

The Lafayettes, playing on their home court, led, 14 to 12, at the half.

CITY OFFERED FRANCHISE

Pittsburgh can have a franchise in the American Professional Basketball League for the asking, according to word just received by J. J. Freund, Jr., local impresario of the sport and booking agent for league teams in this district, from President O'Brien of the league.

Of course, there are strings to the offers. One is that a capable team must be put together and the other that a suitable hall must be obtained. The dropping of the New York Celtics has left a vacancy in the circuit. Local basketball sponsors might get together to take over the orphan franchise if they think the town will "go" for the big league variety of the sport.

'RICH ESTATES' NON-EXISTENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—A warning against attempts to avoid attachment of persons in the United States and abroad in interest in so-called "rich estates" or fortunes of persons who died in the U. S. was issued today by the State Department.

Albert H. Snow, American consul general at London, has called to the department's attention that the alleged fortunes are frequently claimed to be held in trust in the Bank of England and that the supposition is based on non-existent facts.

On the basis of the consul's report, which said some 600 letters had been received at the American embassy and consulate-general in London within a period of 27 months, the department advised that American citizens obtain definite information before subscribing to such schemes.

CLAIMS RECORD FOR GLIDER

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—W. H. Bowlus, America's premier glider expert, today claimed a new American record for duration of flight in a motorless plane. He remained in the air above Point Loma for 2 hours 47 minutes, 1 1-5 seconds yesterday, beating his former record by more than an hour and 20 minutes.

Officials of the National Glider Association, National Aeronautical Association and the International Aeronautical Association, timed and observed the flight.

A favorable wind which kept his plane skimming above Point Loma in long, steady loops, died down at about 5:30 p. m., and as darkness already had come on, Bowlus landed.

Du Ponts Sued for Million In Alienation Case

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Suit for $1,000,000 damages against Mrs. Jessie Ball du Pont and her husband, Alfred I. du Pont, was filed in Circuit Court here by Gordon McCauley, attorney for Mrs. Mary Ball, a former sister-in-law of Mrs. du Pont.

Although the praecipe, as filed in court, does not state the grounds to be brought out in the declaration, it was recalled that in a divorce suit of Thomas Ball, Los Angeles attorney against his wife, Mrs. Mary Ball, the latter threatened to bring a $1,000,000 suit against Mr. and Mrs. du Pont for alleged alienation of the affections of Ball.

In answer to her husband's divorce suit, made in January 1928, at Los Angeles, Mrs. Ball declared there is conspiracy on the part of plaintiff's sister to take him away from defendant.

The du Ponts maintain a large home in San Jose, a suburb of South Jacksonville, but now are in Wilmington.

Wrong to Steal Even Moonshine, Youth Learns

John Parris, 13, Negro, of 1471 Whitehall street, learned that it is wrong to steal moonshine even though it no one appeared to prosecute him today in Morals Court.

He was arrested Sunday when officers saw him take a five-gallon can of moonshine from a truck near by, Lono.

"I got a drink, judge," Parris told Magistrate Leo Rothenberg, "but I heard that a can of moonshine was worth $10."

Rothenberg paroled Jim for one year.

ESTATE BATTLE HINTS ROMANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—The Examiner says today that a petition seeking a share in the $9,000,000 estate of the late W. H. Ochsner, architect and former Stanford University instructor, had been filed in Superior Court here by Mrs. Frances A. Ochsner, of LaCrosse, Wis.

Filing of the document, the paper asserted, brought to light a secret Wisconsin University romance of more than 25 years ago.

Ochsner died in April, 1925, little known and possessed of only moderate means. But he owned extensive leases in the Kettleman Hills oil field, which were developed soon afterward, making him a posthumous millionaire. Claimants to the estate have since multiplied.

Mrs. Ochsner declared herself to have been the architect's first and, therefore "only legal wife." Others in the contest for the fortune include Mrs. Hilda Carling Ochsner, of San Francisco, to whom Ochsner ostensibly was married when he died, and Mrs. Nancy Ochsner Baldy, who is pressing a civil claim on the ground that Ochsner concealed from her his vast oil holdings.

PARENTS SLAIN BY FARM BOY

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Dec. 11.—(AP.)—A 16-year-old farm boy, Herman Riley, was held here today on a charge of murdering his mother and father and attempting to kill his brother in order that he might harvest the produce of their farm and "get a start in life."

District Attorney A. D. Emerson said the boy had confessed that he shot his parents and brother in hopes of "making the crops himself."

Mr. and Mrs. Riley were shot to death Friday and their younger son, Walter, wounded at their home near here.

Herman's statements said he went home with plans for the murders well fixed in his mind. He waited a while because "my daddy still was awake." After his father slept, Herman lit a match, and shot from within a few feet. His mother, the boy's confession said, ran out of the house, but returned and was shot as she entered the room.

SENATOR ASKS RAIL RULING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(INS.)—A move to set aside the United States Supreme Court's decision in the famous O'Fallon case relative to directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to make a valuation of railroads was made in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Howell (Republican, Nebraska).

Howell sponsored a joint resolution requiring that Congress tell the commission to determine the valuation of all other railroads upon the same principles and methods employed in the O'Fallon case. If adopted, it would overrule the Supreme Court's decision.

Howell declared the highest court itself had announced no constitutional question was at issue and that it was overruling the commission because the commission had not followed the purpose and intent of Congress. Therefore, he said, Congress is free to instruct the commission as it sees fit.

BANKER LEAPS TO DEATH

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—A man identified as James E. Naughton, assistant cashier of the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company, leaped to his death from the High Level bridge here today. He plunged 110 feet downward to a pavement below.

The death leap was made within view of hundreds of motorists then crossing the bridge.

Thomas McIntyre, a friend of the cashier, witnessed Naughton's jump. McIntyre had driven his automobile to the curb to invite Naughton to ride with him.

"Just as I was about to open the door of my machine," McIntyre said, "I saw Naughton grasp the iron rail at the center of the bridge, swing himself over and drop."

McIntyre expressed the belief Naughton's suicide was the result of his grief over the death of his father, Patrick J. Naughton, who died Thanksgiving Day.

Walter Winchell
On Broadway

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.

A New Year's Inventory

O[illegible]

TEE-HEE

UNDER the title "Chiding" Lee Somers, in the Washington (D. C.) Herald, remarks: "Naturally a guy that is to say, a bird or bozo who hears as much as Walter Winchell does, must hear part of it wrong. For instance, Mr. Winchell has discovered the word 'pediculus,' and likes it. He isn't to be blamed for that. But the word, Mr. Winchell, is pedicular. Pediculus is the noun."

All we know is what we see on page 1821 of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Dictionary, you big proofreader, you! "Pedicular" is listed in this manner: "Same as pediculus." Pediculus and pediculous are variations, but mean the same. The tome offers this quotation: "The fellows of either college are better scholars and honester men . . . than your pediculous friars.—Landor" Imag. Conver. James I. and Casaubon in second series p. 28 (R. Bros., 1881).

So, there!

NIFTY

Harry Reichenbach knows a Cleveland girl who won a spelling bee, "which bars her from a movie career the rest of her life!"

IT COULD HAPPEN

FRED ALLEN, the "Little Show," clown, forwards the one about the theater party that came late to the premiere of a bad play. Presenting their tickets at the door, the ticket-tearer said: "I'm sorry but I can't let you in yet."

"Why not?" demanded the host.

"It's the middle of the first act," was the mournful answer, "and if I open that door, half the audience might rush out."

"ADAM, I'M ADAM"

From Lee L. Goldberg, of Louisville, Ky., comes this palindrome, a sentence that reads the same backward as forward: "Dad did Eve peep?—Eve did Dad."

FOR DIVERSION SEEKERS

THE unusual "Recommended to diversion seekers" paragraph, which was crowded out of yesterday's bureau, is passionately proffered herewith: "You Do Something to Me," the hit tune of "Fifty Million Frenchmen" . . . Herbert Asbury's "Carry Nation," a good book about a sex-thwarted nuisance (A. A. Knopf) . . . Leo Miller in the Xmas Billboard . . . The subtle Peter Arno drawing on page 31 in the Nieu Yaukur . . . The poke at the British adenoids in the Dec. Bookman . . . Kate Brush's "Night Club" (not new, but delightful Broadway stuff) . . . P. G. Wodehouse's "Slaves in Hollywood" in the Sepost . . . "Why" from the "Sons o' Guns" hit as Poncho's crew toys with it at the Embassy Club, and Guy Fawkes' last paragraph in his "Wayward Press" department in the current New Yorker, considering that mutual friends argue that we have been unfair with a certain contemporary.

EASY MONEY

THEODORE DREISER, on order, wrote an article about divorce for which the N. Y. World paid him $200. In it he had an "objectionable phrase" about the church and the paper asked him to delete it. Although he agreed to do the piece for $200, Dreiser replied that it would cost the World $500 with the phrase out. They paid him the two C's, but never published the article.

Benjamin DeCasseres on order wrote an article to the effect that Hoover, Ford and Edison constitute a menace to American prosperity. They paid the promised $200, but promptly returned the article to him.

NEWSPAPERMAN STUFF

It is among the tales told in Park Row. A member of a feature department went on a giggle-water spree that lasted a month. His loyal confreres pounded out his copy for him, however, every day for fear the boss would learn of his absence and dismiss him. The stew is a bachelor and all the others in the same department are married men, who have perspired for a long time, hoping their strenuous and faithful labors would be appreciated by a wage tilt.

Imagine, then, the irony of it—the boss ankled into the departmental head's office one day last week and said: "Say, that Blank guy is writing better stuff every day. Raise his salary $25."

WIN AWARDS IN GAS RESCUES

Two employes of the Equitable Gas Company, Eugene Farrall, 3907 Howley street, and William P. McKenna, 110 Walbach avenue, were awarded $50 each yesterday for saving the lives of three persons overcome with gas fumes.

The awards were made by F. F. Schauer, vice president of the company. Both men have been recommended for the McCarter medal which is given to men employed by gas companies who resuscitate anyone overcome by gas.

McKenna, a district appliance inspector, revived Adolph A. Goerlick, who was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes November 15 while cleaning a car in his garage.

Farrall, aided by his wife, saved Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kinkler, residents of the same apartment in which Farrall lives, when escaping gas in Kinkler's apartment almost suffocated he and his wife on November 21.

Negro Army Colonel Convicted of Fraud

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Col. Otis B. Duncan, said to have been one of the highest ranking Negro army officers during the World War, is to be sentenced in Federal Court January 7 for entering false claims against the government for approximately $1,700. He was found guilty in Federal Court yesterday.

The conviction carries a maximum sentence of 10 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Col. Duncan had entered a plea of no defense.

Zaimis Gets Backing for Greek President

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 11.—(AP.)—Premier Venizelos today announced he and his party would support Alexander Zaimis, former premier and now president of the senate, for the presidency, succeeding Admiral Kondouriotis, who resigned yesterday.

It was believed the premier's action insured election. M. Zaimis preceded M. Venizelos as premier and has been close to political events in Greece for the last 20 years.

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES

DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d." to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

EXTRA! AUTHOR SHOT BY BEAUTY'S BOY FRIEND!

Alonzo Resorts to Rough Tactics in "Palaces of Sin."

SYNOPSIS—Yesterday, you recall, the author declared he would not permit Alonzo A—— to take Ruth Wellmore, the innocent Michigan beauty, out in the fresh air for a ride around the block in Alonzo's carriage.

"ALONZO flew into a frenzy and fired his revolver! The ball lodged in the fleshy part of my thigh, which I carry to this day as a 'Memento' of one of Washington's grand 'Social' (?) functions.

"Ruth was driven home by the hostess in a maudlin condition. She told her uncle and aunt that the ballroom was so hot she fainted, and these poor, old, simple-minded folks believed it!

"The next morning there was a column and a half in the leading daily papers of Washington about the grand social and brilliant gathering at the home of Mrs. G—— but bear in mind not a word was said about this grand (?) social (?) function breaking up in a row and my getting shot in the leg. These same papers had a large headline stating that while 'carelessly toying with his target pistol' it had accidentally discharged, inflicting a slight flesh wound in the author thigh, 'however, the wound was only slight and he would soon be out again.'"

What happened then to Alonzo? Read tomorrow's instalment!

Hoover's Freedom of the Seas Appeal His Most Notable Utterance

When President Hoover revived, in a most appealing form, the ancient American tradition of freedom of the seas, he accomplished the best thing the Hoover administration has done to date.

The President, in his Armistice Day address, said:

"But I am going to have the temerity to put forward an idea which might break through the involved legal questions and age-old interpretations of right and wrong by a practical step, which would solve a large part of the intrinsic problem. It would act as a PREVENTIVE as well as a LIMITATION of war. I offer it only for the consideration of the world.

"For many years, born of a poignant personal experience, I have held that food ships should be made free of any interference in times of war. I would place all vessels laden solely with food supplies on the same footing as hospital ships.

"THE TIME HAS COME WHEN WE SHOULD REMOVE STARVATION OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN FROM THE WEAPONS OF WARFARE.

"The protection of food movements in time of war would constitute a most important contribution to the rights of all parties, whether neutral or belligerent, AND WOULD GREATLY TEND TOWARD LESSENING THE PRESSURE FOR NAVAL STRENGTH."

This is a clear, sincere, straightforward expression of the abiding sentiments of the overwhelming majority of the American people.

This utterance has been given emphatic endorsement throughout the household of the nation.

This declaration for freedom of the seas and against starvation of women and children as a war weapon has arrested the attention of the whole world.

It will long hold the respectful attention of the world.

This lofty statement of American ideals really deserves to rank with the BEST utterances of our BEST presidents.

Post-Gazette Correct On Grundy, Lobby Views

The following editorial was printed in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, December 9:

Reports from Harrisburg agree that Joseph R. Grundy, president of the State Manufacturers' Association, is Governor Fisher's first choice for the United States Senate vacancy created when Mr. Vare was denied his seat last Friday.

Mr. Grundy may be an able man, but he represents the most reactionary school of political thought that exists in Pennsylvania or the country today, and his appointment would be an affront to hundreds of thousands of voters.

For many years Mr. Grundy's name has been associated with opposition to almost every progressive labor or humanitarian measure that has come before the State Legislature. He has been a master lobbyist for special interests, and such an alliance is certainly not the proper recommendation for a United States Senator. A Senator must serve capital and labor alike, and should possess the confidence of both.

If a radical labor agitator were being considered for the post, there would be justified concern upon the part of Pennsylvania's great manufacturing interests. To the vast army of labor throughout the State, Mr. Grundy's record is just as objectionable.

There is no dearth of Senatorial timber in this great commonwealth. This newspaper has no particular candidate to propose, but the appointment must go to an outstanding citizen whose record indicates full sympathy with progressive tendencies in the State, rather than the direct contrary.

PAUL BLOCK, Publisher.

The Sun-Telegraph, whose opinion of Mr. Grundy has been expressed previously in these columns, agrees emphatically with the Post-Gazette that it would be a great shame for the state of Pennsylvania to be represented in the United States Senate by an exposed lobbyist.

Furniture for Christmas

A Well Furnished House Is the Foundation of Family Life

Whatever else you buy for Christmas, as you select presents for parents, brothers, sisters, intimate friends, KEEP A PIECE OF FURNITURE IN MIND, as a present, always welcome.

A beautiful chair, an artistically made table, a rug of fine quality and workmanship, a lamp to ornament and light a room.

The furnishings of a house tell what its inhabitants are, reflect their taste, indicate their place in the scale of civilization.

GIVE FURNITURE FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

The first thing a wise bird does is to get a soft, beautiful lining for the nest. On the outside it may be rough, made of twigs, clay, straw. But inside you find a lining of fine hair and often another lining of soft feathers.

The wise mother and father birds know that the right start for young birds is a nest well furnished.

As with birds, so with human beings. The American people need many things, but first they need A HOME, COMFORTABLE, BEAUTIFUL, WELL FURNISHED, reflecting the good taste and affection of the father and mother.

To such a home the children's memory returns as long as they live.

The comfortable sofa, the big arm chair, the pretty carpet, soft curtains at the windows. Those are memories that remain forever associated with the parents and the home.

Furniture excellently made, and permanently durable, is not expensive. The science of producing fine furniture in this country has been developed with an economy and efficiency not excelled even by the art of automobile production.

To give a comfortable chair or sofa, a beautiful rug, lamp, picture, is to prove that you THINK of your friend's comfort.

The friend or relative whose house you visit will deeply appreciate a Christmas card reading: "Merry Christmas, I thought this little table (or chair, or table lamp) might fit well in one of your rooms."

Under the general heading of FURNITURE are included, talking machines with a carefully chosen "library" of dance music and other records, a radio which brings the art and the intellect of the world directly into the home.

Included also are pictures, linens, artistically chosen china, porcelain and ornaments.

Make your own home BEAUTIFUL, and to give real Christmas pleasure to a friend, send some thing that will make HIS home more comfortable and more beautiful.

BUY FURNITURE FOR CHRISTMAS.

THE LITTLE PEOPLE

By Herbert Kaufman

WASHINGTON is summoning no conferences to safeguard his interests. And there are no set union scales to determine his FAIR wage.

No increases, such as Henry Ford has volunteered to inaugurate for the general stimulation of consumption, are apt to benefit Johnny. So it seems as though the case is up to YOU.

To avoid argument, let's ADMIT that competition must regulate compensation.

And we'll also concede that investment and sentimentality don't belong in the same pew. The value of labor is OBVIOUSLY set by supply, demand and output.

But Johnny's PECULIAR circumstances incline to make him a ward of GENEROSITY rather than of balance sheets and economics.

Consequently, faith in human nature prefers to conclude that you were preoccupied with VASTER affairs, when you refused his recent request for a slight raise. The matter didn't seem BIG enough to bother about.

BESIDES, the Johnny market always shows a surplus. You can fill his place a dozen times overnight for the SAME pay. Poverty isn't able to haggle, bluff and hold out for betterments.

There are no effective groups protecting the welfare of non-specializing rag-tags of industry or commerce. And it seldom occurs to you that the higher cost of living isn't a snob. It recognizes no class distinctions, but impartially visits porters, errand runners, and office drudges, as WELL as proprietors and executives.

Greenbacks don't vary a hair's breadth in SIZE, but there's another dimension to be considered: money grows or shrinks according to the POCKET in which it's carried.

For instance, a widow's dime is FAR bigger than a wastrel's. Necessity, not the mint mark, establishes the significance of currency. A splurger's hundred hasn't nearly the obligations of a laborer's TEN.

STRUGGLE and need are magnifying glasses through which prosperity is never compelled to look.

You DIDN'T study arithmetic in the school of privation and therefore fail to appreciate the importance of "chicken feed."

The PRICE current, instead of larder and wardrobe-pinch, informs you that subsistence costs tend to become dearer each season—that rental, fuel and sustenance are always crawling to new levels.

But poor folk derive their expert knowledge of such changes from more INTIMATE sources.

Only the charwoman, rubbing and scrubbing in phlegmatic despair—and the underclad, patch-shod, shivering lad on the package wagon—and the shabby, debt-haunted penpushers in the bookkeeping division—stand slight chance to make good on stands for fuller payroll justice.

THERE are millions of underdogs ready to accept Fate's scrawniest bones. But try NOT to glean your PROFITS out of their helplessness.

Winter is here and tenements are translating dimes into slices of bread and cups of coffee and niggardly shovels of coal.

And if your concern is in such BAD shape that you can't afford to delegate a FEW night-club and theater and SHOW-OFF dollars into warming, nourishing messages of happiness THIS Christmas, your situation is too far GONE to be pulled through with scrimpings at the expense of The Little People.

After this, you can't offer the excuse of thoughtlessness to the Eternal Auditor, upon whose records your FINANCIAL rating won't be reckoned.

And if you're STILL in doubt as to your social duty, let your WIFE decide whether she wouldn't choose to have a mite less LATER, that the OTHERS shall have a bit MORE of comfort TODAY.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

A Statement From Zion

WILBUR GLENN VOLIVA still insists that Commander Byrd has a narrow escape from falling off the earth.

Mr. Voliva claims that the earth is just as flat as the kitchen floor.

He is one egg that Columbus cannot stand on end.

"Bugs" Baer

When we went to school we were taught that the earth was round. We believed it because our teacher was pretty.

We thought that the cruise of the Graf Zeppelin last summer would convince Mr. Voliva of the miscalculation of his detours.

There can be no doubt that the Zepp flew around the village pump and back again. We saw the German sky liner leave New York and merge with the eastern horizon.

We were in California when it came twisting out of the Pacific zone. And either our eyes deceived us or our ear-muffs had slipped.

Mr. Voliva lives in Zion, Ill. Every day he sees the sun come up out of Lake Michigan and set in Iowa. And he still claims it is a fake.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS

In Collaboration With

Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

IN AGE, we are dealing not with an orderly decline, but with an irregular development and progressive exaggeration of what at first were minor maladjustments. The body is like a machine in which parts wear loose and little rifts widen. It was never perfectly adjusted and the defects appear in use. Each one of us ages after his nature and in his own fashion.

A time may come when men as a race will live more sanely and fully and suffer less. But it seems inconceivable that any individual human body will ever evade its final goal of death.

H. G. Wells.

Nature's way with life is to economize energy by setting a limit to recuperative processes. She prefers what is apparently the easier method of scrapping used individuals in favor of fresh ones, for whose appearance she has made the most generous and elaborate provision.

She is very much like the automobile trade which prefers to sell new cars rather than keep on patching up the old, as they wear more and more out of easy working.

BOOK I.
CHAPTER FOUR.
4. Childhood Adolescence and Maturity.

At birth the whole economy of the child is suddenly changed. It has now to breathe air and collect its own oxygen, and it has to digest its own food. The lungs and bowels begin to work. As a matter of fact, the strain on the digestive organs is not very severe, for the baby receives in its mother's milk a diet that requires hardly any chemical adjustment. Moreover, since it is no longer housed in a warm incubator, it has to regulate its own body temperature.

Nevertheless, as far as development is concerned, birth is an incidental event that hardly affects a slow, continuous process.

During the first few weeks of uterine life all the organs of the embryo are laid down in a more or less rudimentary way, and thereafter development consists in the elaboration and perfection of those rudiments.

This is a process that goes on for some twenty-five years. Birth is an event for which the organs of the mother, not the baby, are responsible, and it does not correspond to any definite developmental change in the organism of the latter.

One of the most striking changes that occurs during the first years of childhood is the mushroom-like expansion of the brain.

By the end of the second year the child's brain has attained more than half the adult size; by the end of the fourth year over eighty per cent of its final bulk is already present.

The adult cranium is a strong bony box that protects the brain but at the same time prevents any further expansion of its precious contents; the brain has therefore to attain its full size early in life while the skullbones are still only partly formed and before they are solidly joined together.

As the brain expands there is a similar growth of the legs, accompanied by changes occurring elsewhere in the body, and associated with the assumption of the upright posture.

The most important of these changes is the development of the nerve-tracts leading from the brain to the limb-muscles and enabling the latter to be accurately controlled by the former.

At the same time the legs grow longer and stronger, and the lumbar region of the vertebral column—the loins—elongates and consolidates to support the weight of the upper parts.

During the first two years or so there is another important process—the eruption or appearance of the milk teeth, the first of the two sets with which we are provided. The second set begins to replace th first at about the fifth year, and it is not complete until the wisdom teeth have erupted in about the twenty-second year.

It is not possible to name a definite prime or climax, as it were, to human life, because our different tissues perfect themselves and wear out at different rates.

The elastic and muscular coats of our arteries are at their best at about 25; this is when the professional athlete, who has to make sudden physical spurts, reaches his highest point.

The brain has a longer life; it attains its most accurate control of the muscles between 30 and 40, and as an organ of thought it is probably at its best between 40 and 50.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Russian aristocrats so long exiled in New York are no longer newspaper copy. They have become absorbed by a vast economic machinery in the business of making a living. Their former pomp is now expressed in a doorman's uniform here and there. And that is all.

For a time they rode a wave of sympathy which swept them to fashionable teas and select dinner parties. But people became glutted with repetitious tales of devastated estates, pillaged jewels and drops from high places. The Russian became overweighted with his inborn emotionalism.

When he found cold listeners, he began to plunge into whatever work he could find. And hundreds, whimpering with woe, found America the opportunity land it had been pictured. More than 100 buffeted exiles have become successfully established after working up from menial jobs.

The educated Russian is an adaptable creature. His bearing, his charm of manner and polished air of good breeding fit him for most any role. He is especially proficient in salesmanship. Two have made extraordinary records in the insurance world and a number as bond salesmen.

The Russian ladies of culture have also displayed unusual tact in making their way in the commercial world. Several of noble heritage are presiding over smart specialty salons along Park and Madison avenues. Four of the high born are housekeeping in select hotels.

While there are still gleaners scouring for crumbs from rich tables the majority have given a splendid account of themselves. The Russian cafes lodged in the dim side street cellars have shrunk from a hundred to a handful. They were once the founts of expatriated anguish.

Here the sad eyed with thoughts as grey as the waters of the Neva, collected to touch glasses and live over the happy days when Leningrad was St. Petersburg and one of the gayest capitals in all the world.

Text for Today

Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.—Isaiah, xl:30, 31.

(The text for today is suggested by the Rev. Dr. W. W. T. Duncan, pastor, Emory Methodist Episcopal Church.)
